Chinese Army Unit Reportedly Invades Bhutan

400 Troops Said To Occupy Area

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A force of nearly 400 armed Red Chinese was reported Monday night to have invaded the Himalayan state of Bhutan, a protectorate of India, and occupied several square miles of territory.

The report from usually well-informed sources in Darjeeling, in the foothills just southwest of Bhutan, said the Chinese entered from Tibet through the Ha Valley within the last two days. An earlier report said Bhutan's forces had repulsed a Red Chinese detachment.

A Red Chinese patrol was reported also to have crossed into the adjoining protectorate state of Sikkim and to have been arrested by police.

Large concentrations of heavily armed Chinese were said to be maneuvering along the Bhutan and Sikkim borders, giving rise to alarming rumors.

Nehru Rejects Use Of Force

The reports, which were not confirmed by officials here, came only a few hours after Nehru had made clear that he had no intention of going to war with Red China over some bits of jungle real estate in northern India.

Asked by angry members of Parliament what the government proposed to do about Communist incursions into two Indian border areas, Nehru told the legislators:

"Send more reminders. We hope this will be settled by discussions and conferences, and we do not propose to go to war."

This was in contrast to his statement Friday that India had "no alternative but to defend our borders" and that "any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim will be considered an aggression against India."

Bombing Suggestion Rejected

Nehru rejected a suggestion that the Indian air force bomb a road which the Communists have built across the northeast corner of Ladakh, high in the Himalayas in the north western state of Kashmir.

"A mile or two of wild and uninhabited territory does not matter very much," he said. "But it does matter if a treaty is broken or ignored."

Nehru thus drew a distinction between Ladakh and the Chinese aggression into the Northeast Frontier Agency, 1,000 miles to the southeast, where the Communists seized the border post of Longju. One Indian border guard was killed, two more are prisoners and six are still missing in a Chinese border raid on Aug. 25 near Longju.

Enoch Pratt Library Director Succumbs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arthur H. Parsons Jr., director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore for two years, died of a heart attack Sunday night while vacationing in Shapleigh, Maine.

Parsons came here in June of 1957 after seven years as director of the Omaha (Neb.) Public Library. He entered his profession in 1938 with the New York City Public Library and headed libraries in Swampscott and Brocton, Mass., before going to Omaha.

CHURCH HERMIT — This is 28-year-old Cheng Guan Lim, a Chinese student from Singapore, as he appeared yesterday groomed and shaven for a press conference at Ann Arbor, Mich. Sunday he was found living in the attic of the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor. He went into hiding in 1955 when, failing as a student at the University of Michigan, feared he would lose face. He hadn't spoken to anyone in four years until Sunday. (AP Photofax)

Student, 28, Who Hid Four Years Begins New Life

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A bewildered Chinese student, who hid four years because he was ashamed to live and afraid to die, stepped out into a bright, new world Monday.

Long self-imprisonment in the dusty attic of Ann Arbor's First Methodist church ended Sunday for Cheng Guan Lim. He said it started because he couldn't face failing grades, a family difference, and empty pockets.

The 28-year-old former University of Michigan student, amazingly healthy despite his ordeal, met Monday with newsmen and cameramen. He still weighed approximately his normal 135 pounds.

Just before he unraveled an almost unbelievable account of four years in a self-made prison, Cheng learned of the death of his father, Un Tien Lim, teacher in a Singapore Methodist mission school.

Cheng's family and friends in Singapore were delighted to learn he is alive—taken from his hermit-like existence by private police investigating church reports of prowlers.

Cheng fought off tears and grasped for every word at his news conference.

Cheng had not seen his father for eight years, since the son left Singapore in 1951 to attend Albion (Mich.) College. A year later he transferred to the University of Michigan.

Finding no wrongdoing, police released him to custody of Robert Klinger, university counsellor to foreign students.

Parents Of Youth Hunted As 'Fagins' In Theft Spree

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A father and mother of seven were hunted Monday on charges they masterminded shoplifting sprees by one of their children.

Gary Myers, 14, told police an older brother joined the Army and a sister left home because they were "fed up" with stealing for the parents.

Juvenile officer Si Bolger said Gary admitted 600 shoplifting trips in the last two years and estimated his parents had made $4,000 this year alone selling stolen articles.

"It's the most fantastic case I ever heard of," said Bolger, who described Gary as a "clean-cut lad and well mannered."

The four younger children are believed traveling with the father and mother, Kenneth Myers, 39, and Dolores, 41, in an automobile house trailer. They left a residence they had occupied in suburban Lakeside within the last five or six days.

They are charged in arrest warrants with burglary and receiving stolen property. Mrs. Myers is also charged with contributing to the delinquency of Gary. Officers said he had a list made out by his mother of things he was to steal when he was arrested in a department store Aug. 14.

He said his father or mother would wait in the family car in a parking lot for him to bring the stolen articles. The father is a former security guard at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Nonoperating Rail Workers Ask Pay Hike

Unions' Spokesman Says Strike Could Result November 2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven unions announced Monday a joint demand on the railroad industry for a 25-cent hourly pay boost and improved welfare benefits for over 600,000 nonoperating rail workers.

George E. Leighty, spokesman for the unions, said a nationwide rail strike probably will take place Nov. 2 if the carriers keep insisting that present three-year contracts don't run out Nov. 1.

Leighty contended the agreements clearly specify they expire on Nov. 1 but railroads have contested this, he said, in discussions relating to holiday and vacation improvements requested earlier by the same union group.

Industry Spokesmen Silent

Rail industry spokesmen here and in Chicago declined comment.

The term nonoperating workers is applied to the railroad employes, such as clerks and mechanics, who do not operate trains. Leighty said the demands for a 25-cent hourly pay boost and welfare plan improvements will be served on the railroads Tuesday. The non operating unions already have filed requests for holiday and vacation improvements.

The demands for holiday-vacation changes, Leighty said, were met by a rail management counter demand for a five-cents an hour wage cut. He said the nonop workers presently average about $2.30 per hour.

Trainmen Ask 12-14% Hike

Unions representing operating rail workers—the trainmen, conductors, etc.—have asked for a 12 to 14 per cent wage increase. Rail management demanded a 15-cent wage cut.

The carriers have demanded a thorough overhaul of pay practices. They claim that featherbedding, meaning pay required for no work, costs the industry about a half billion dollars a year. The unions have disputed this, maintaining the rail industry is one of the most productive.

Vance, AEC Member, Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Harold S. Vance, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission since 1955, died Monday afternoon at Walter Reed Army Medical Center from acute pneumonia following an abdominal operation.

Vance, 69, was serving a term ending June 30, 1960. His specialty was the industrial application of atomic energy.

Notified of Vance's death, Chairman John A. McCone said the AEC would sorely miss the industrial expert.

"Even more," he said in a statement, "each member of the commission has lost a close, valuable friend. We will long remember and be indebted for his work in formulating and putting into effect the programs of the commission over the past four years."

A native of Port Huron, Mich., Vance was chairman of the Executive Committee of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., before assuming the AEC post.

China Reports 2,334 Typhoon Casualties

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communists said Tuesday 2,334 persons were killed, injured or left missing by Typhoon Iris. The storm hit the coast of Fukien province, opposite Formosa, Aug. 20.

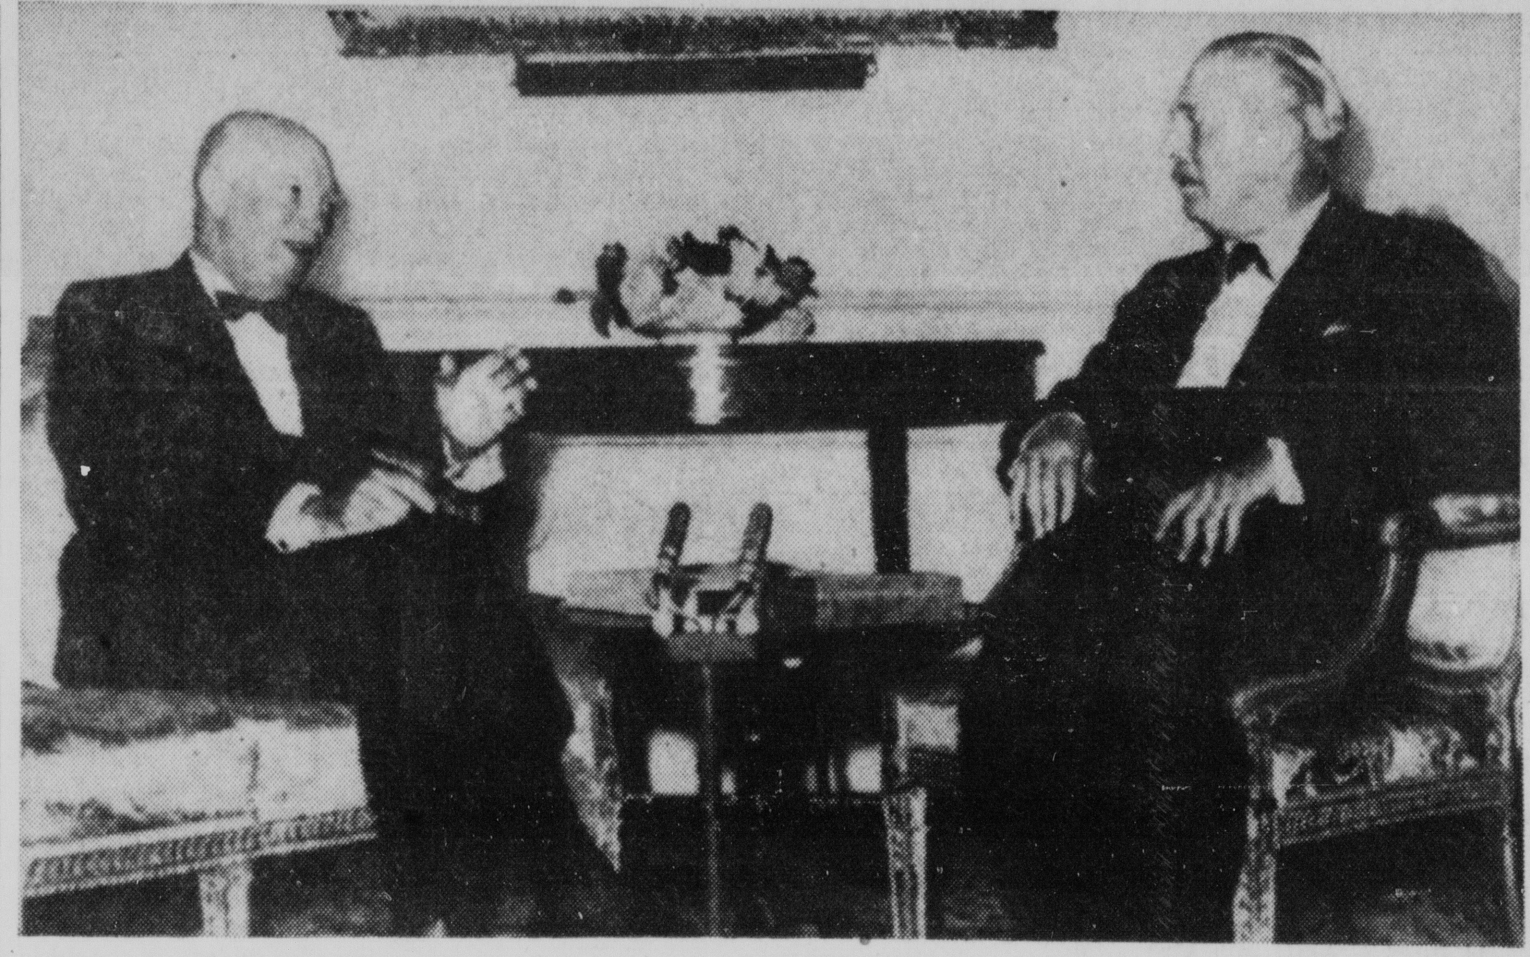
The Communist New China News Agency said the typhoon killed 720 persons, injured 618 and the fate of 996 others still is unknown. This contrasted sharply with the agency's Aug. 24 report that 12 persons were killed and eight injured.

The same area was hit again Sunday by Typhoon Joan. The Red agency said that according to preliminary reports 3 persons were killed, 57 injured and 6 missing.

It reported that 50,000 homes around the city of Foochow were evacuated when Joan struck. The agency said 774 houses were destroyed and 7,784 more damaged.

Four Sailors Rescued

TORONTO (AP) — A Toronto lifeguard rescued four U.S. sailors Sunday after their small outboard boat flipped over. The four were from the destroyer Wilson, part of a NATO flotilla anchored here.



Fireside Chat From 10 Downing Street

President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan (right) are shown in informal pose at 10 Downing Street in London last night. In this setting in the prime minister's residence, the two conducted a fireside chat which was televised for 20 minutes throughout Europe. The two leaders spoke out for peaceful negotiations and indicated they are ready for a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev under favorable conditions. (AP Photofax)

Fireside Chat By Leaders Is Televised

Eisenhower Favors Summit Conference If Khrush Sincere

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, in a televised two-man fireside chat, spoke out Monday night for peaceful negotiations and indicated they are ready for a summit meeting under favorable conditions.

"Peace," said the President, "is the imperative of our time."

"We are up against the biggest job in the world, how to keep peace and justice," the Prime Minister said.

They confined themselves to general statements about the awesome problem of preventing nuclear war and did not reveal any details of the conversations they have been holding in England for three days.

Eisenhower and Macmillan spoke in the informal setting of a drawing room at No. 10 Downing St., the Prime Minister's official residence.

The telecast bringing together the leaders of two major powers was unprecedented. It lasted 20 minutes and was carried throughout Europe.

Summit Prospects Discussed

Eisenhower and Macmillan quickly came to the question of another summit conference.

Macmillan consistently insists one should be held. He reiterated that belief and told the President:

"I think your visits to these three European capitals and the interchange of visits that you are going to make with Mr. Khrushchev are very sound contributions to peace."

Eisenhower replied:

"Peace is an imperative and we must all understand that. And indeed if we are to have a summit, I am sure of this—Mr. Khrushchev must understand that exactly as you and I do. If he does things that show he recognizes that just as you and I do, then I think a summit meeting could be profitable."

In effect, the President and Prime Minister ended their conversations Monday, although they will see each other again before Eisenhower leaves for Paris Wednesday.

Franco Invites Ike To Spain

In related developments Monday:

1. Generalissimo Franco of Spain invited Eisenhower to visit Spain whenever convenient. The Spanish leader also told the President, in a letter containing the invitation, that he fully supports Eisenhower's personal -diplomacy effort to find solutions to cold war problems.

2. Eisenhower and Macmillan have agreed on a crash program to find a new approach to the problem of disarmament, qualified sources said. Diplomats who attended some of the meetings between the two leaders said each is issuing secret orders to nuclear experts to draft new proposals and to have them ready to present to the Soviets early in 1960.

3. On the question of another summit conference, these informants said, the decision now is to await the outcome of the exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The Soviet chief is scheduled to go to Washington Sept. 15 and Eisenhower will re-

Senate Leaders Take Dim View Of Recess Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic and Republican leaders threw cold water Monday on a proposal by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) that Congress take a recess while Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is in this country.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he would consider Smathers suggestion. But he made it plain he had little enthusiasm for the idea.

"We must all realize that we were elected to come up here and do a job and my view is that we ought to stay here and do that job," Johnson said. He added that "my present feeling is that we ought to stay here" until needed legislation is out of the way.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) agreed that "the appropriate thing is to stay here until we get the job done."

Smathers proposed Saturday that Congress recess from next Friday until Oct. 15. He said this would permit the lawmakers to dodge the ticklish question of whether to invite Khrushchev to address Congress during his forthcoming visit.

Johnson listed among the "must" legislation still awaiting congressional action this year such items as labor reform, highway financing, civil rights, and surplus farm commodities.

Conferees Making Last-Ditch Effort To Save Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees hunted desperately Monday for a way to solve their deadlock over three key points in the labor control bill.

It was an 11th-hour effort to keep the angry issue from spilling back onto the Senate floor where one conferee said the entire bill aimed at curbing labor union corruption might be endangered.

The last-ditch bid for a compromise was made by Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) on behalf of conference committee members supporting the original House version—a somewhat more stringent bill than the Senate passed.

Senate and House Democrats supporting the Senate bill considered Griffin's proposals without reaching a firm decision at a morning session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a chief sponsor of the Senate bill, said his side could not accept the Griffin proposals as written.

Griffin's proposals—he called them adjustments rather than concessions—dealt with no man's land labor cases, secondary boycotts and organizational picketing. A major sticking point here is how to handle consumer picketing, a form of secondary boycott conducted by some unions.

The House bill, cosponsored by Griffin and Rep. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga), carries tougher language on these points than the Senate version.

While the conferees struggled to find a mutually acceptable formula, the Senate held fire on consideration of two rival resolutions in which its conferees were seeking new instructions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois filed one of the resolutions, asking the Senate to instruct its conferees to accept the wording of the House bill on the three remaining disputed points.

Kennedy then put in a resolution asking different instructions. Kennedy's resolution contains provisos he said should be added to the House language to protect what he said are labor's legitimate rights.

Quake Probable Death Toll 28

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP) — Thirteen more persons were listed Monday by Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt as missing and probably killed in Montana's earthquakes two weeks ago, bringing the probable death toll to 28.

Only nine bodies have been recovered.

Previously the sheriff and the Red Cross, which began keeping the list of persons unreported, had counted six as missing.

Dr. Merle Edgerton and his wife, Edna, Coalinga, Calif.

Robert J. Williams, his wife and three children, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The bodies of any persons killed in the quake are buried beneath the big slide across the Madison River at Rock Creek campground, which officials have decided not to move. No attempt will be made to try to recover the bodies.

House Approves Coal Research Agency Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House gave final approval Monday to a bill setting up a new Federal Coal Research and Development Commission.

The bill, approved by the Senate last Tuesday, was a compromise between varying versions which previously had been passed by the two chambers.

The compromise retained House language making the new commission an independent agency. It would be under the Interior Department but for housekeeping purposes only.

The purpose of the commission would be to encourage and stimulate production and conservation of coal.

Khrushchev Believes Ike Is Man Of Peace

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared in a speech published Monday that he believed President Eisenhower to be a man of peace.

Khrushchev said he is quite satisfied with the President's Aug. 25 statement that the forthcoming meetings between the two leaders should help melt the cold war ice.

Goodyear, URW Agree On Wage Hike 'Package'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) —Negotiators for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Union (URW) reached agreement on a new general wage settlement Monday, ending the threat of walkout by 23,000 workers in 11 cities.

The settlement, which calls for an across-the - board pay raise "package" of 10 cents an hour, was reached four hours before a midnight strike deadline.

The agreement covers workers at Goodyear plants in Akron and St. Marys, Ohio; Gadsden, Ala.; Los Angeles; Jackson, Mich.; Muncie, Ind.; Lincoln, Neb.; Windsor, Vt.; New Bedford, Mass.; Topeka, Kan., and North Chicago, Ill.

The settlement must be ratified by the URW's Executive Board and a majority of the union's membership.

The agreement ended negotiations that began Aug. 18 and grew more tense as the deadline approached. It is expected to set the pattern for wage settlements with the other members of the rubber industry's "big four," U.S. Rubber, the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and the B. F. Goodrich Co.

Goodyear was the only one of the four companies to escape a strike by the URW earlier this year over contracts covering fringe benefits and master working agreements.

Negotiations between the URW and Firestone opened here Monday while talks with Goodrich began in Canton, Ohio, Monday. The Firestone talks cover 18,500 workers in eight plants and the Goodrich bargaining involves 15,000 employes in eight plants. Both pacts expire Sept. 11.

Similar wage talks are continuing at Cincinnati between the union and the U.S. Rubber Co. That contract, covering 26,000 workers in 19 cities, expires at midnight Sept. 6.

N.Y. Police Act To Stem Teen-Age Terror Wave

NEW YORK (UPI) —A teen-aged boy turned two 7-year - old boys into human torches Monday.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy immediately stepped in to stem the wave of juvenile violence in New York by sending a 1,400-man police task force into the streets to battle teen-aged terrorists.

Kennedy called a news conference at the end of nine days in which four teen-agers were killed by young toughs and a number were injured.

About a score of slayings have occurred during the summer juvenile crime wave and nearly 40 persons have been injured.

Kennedy hastily called the news conference after a day in which two Puerto Rican boys suffered serious burns when they were doused with cleaning fluid as they played in a tenement and two alleged young killers in another case were nearly mobbed.

A 17-year-old boy was seized for questioning in the human torch case.

A few hours earlier an angry crowd had gathered outside a police station in Hell's Kitchen, a block from the Broadway theater district. The crowd shouted insults at four street toughs charged with killing two 16-year-old boys on a playground.

Police said all the boys involved in Monday's violence were Puerto Ricans.

Michale Ramos and Alvin Fernandez were playing with other youngsters on the third floor of an empty five-story building when they were set afire.

Police said the children were gathering candles to use in a clubroom they had taken over in the building.

Earlier patrolmen were forced to form a guard around a station wagon carrying two of the four boys charged with homicide in Hell's Kitchen neighborhood when the crowd converged on the car.

Police said the crowd, apparently friends and relatives of the dead boys, Anthony Krezesinski and Robert Young, tried to storm the vehicle after shouting threats and epithets at the prisoners.

Those booked on homicide charges were identified as Jose (French) Cordero, 18; Francisco (Baboo Charlie) Curz, 17; Rogelio (Lowie) Soto, 17, and Nestor Hernandez, 16.

Khrush Making U.S. Visit Family Affair

Premier Accepts Eisenhower's Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government announced officially Monday—"with pleasure" — that Nikita Khrushchev has accepted President Eisenhower's invitation to bring his family on his trip to America.

The Soviet Premier will bring his wife, both daughters, his son and one son-in-law — the whole family except for the second son-in-law.

The group is expected to stay at the President's guest house, the old mansion known as Blair House across Pennsylvania avenue from the White House, during at least part of the visit.

The son-in-law, Alexei Abzhubei might stay with other Soviet correspondents covering the trip. Abzhubei is editor of the Soviet state newspaper Izvestia.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators were figuring out how to fit a possible Khrushchev meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee into the schedule. Officials said it was doubtful it could be arranged.

Washington police are preparing to turn out their biggest force for such an occasion since the visit of Queen Elizabeth in 1957.

U.S. authorities were particularly pleased that Khrushchev's wife is coming. She has favorably impressed Americans who have seen her with what they feel is her comparative open-hearted interest in the United States.

A main point in having Khrushchev here is to clear up misconceptions he may have about this country and it is hoped Mrs. K. will be a good influence in this respect.

The Soviets normally give out very little about their family lives. As a result, there was uncertainty here on the names of the family members and their spellings.

Here in brief is the latest approximate biographical information available on those making the trip:

Nina Petrovna Khrushchev, the wife, is in her late 50s (her husband is 65). She has been described as a solid, strong-looking, pleasant woman.

The present Mrs. Khrushchev is the Soviet leader's second wife. His first, the mother of all four children, died of natural causes in 1938. Khrushchev remarried soon after.

Daughter Julia Nikitichna, in her early 40s, married to Victor Petrovich Gontar, Kiev Opera House director. Gontar is not scheduled to make the trip.

Daughter Rada Nikitichna, about 30, married to Abzhubei who is in his 30s. Rada is said to have a fair knowledge of English.

Khrushchev's son Sergei, 24, is an electrical engineer who also speaks English fairly well. He accompanied his father to England in 1956.

Another son, Leonid, was a World War II pilot who was killed in combat.

TFC To View Potomac Fishing Problems

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission will visit Southern Maryland this week for a first-hand look at some Potomac River fishing problems.

Chairman H. C. Byrd said objections of Charles and St.Marys County watermen to a new Potomac River compact with Virginia will also be aired at the Wednesday night meeting in Leonardtown and the Thursday night session at Glasva High School.

Southern Maryland watermen instigated the move to place the new Potomac River Compact on the 1960 election ballot for rejection or approval by Maryland voters. This has kept the freshly ratified treaty from taking effect, and the new TFC is yet to take a stand publicly for or against the treaty.

Mao Squelches High Level Red Policy Revolt

TOKYO (AP) — Widespread rebellion against Mao Tze-tung's peasant communes and economic goals is raging in Red China and some of it may be in the highest levels of the Communist party.

Red Flag, biweekly magazine of the Chinese Communist party Central Committee, admitted the revolt Monday and announced a nationwide campaign to squelch the critics whom it called "rightist opportunists."

This indicated that if there was revolt in the party's high command, Mao had won out.

The magazine said party workers were among the critics, and hinted that the opposition may be in the Central Committee itself, although it did not say so.

Red Flag said "Marxists-Leninists always repudiate the notion that revolution is something which a handful of people in private work out a formula and then order the masses to act in accordance."

The "handful of people" could refer to members of the Central Committee, the policy - making body.

Red Flag said "in the process of our leap forward and switch to people's communes, enemy elements hostile to our country's Socialist cause, both inside and outside our land, raised wave after wave of howls and clamors.

"When the control figures — goals — of the second five-year plan were published, the imperialists and enemy elements within the country insisted these figures were 'unrealistic.' They have been trying in vain to shake our confidence with such talk."

Calling the opposition's maneuvers "criminal activity," Red Flag said "the party and people throughout the country will undoubtedly struggle resolutely to overcome such right opportunist ideas."

Lo Jui-ching, head of the Red Chinese secret police, already has warned of increased opposition to the regime and ordered his aides to track down opponents, saboteurs and subverters.

State Traffic Deaths 5% Higher Than 1958

BALTIMORE (AP) — Traffic deaths on Maryland highways through July were running 5 per cent higher than the figure for a comparable period last year.

The State Police traffic division reported Monday that 299 fatalities have occurred in 1959.

However, State Police noted that pedestrian deaths for the seven-month period this year were down 6 per cent.

The personal injury total during July was 1,828, or 59 traffic injuries every day.

During July, Somerset County led all other Maryland counties with six traffic deaths.

4. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Macmillan, who visited Khrushchev last winter, has given Eisenhower some extremely helpful information on what to expect in talking with Khrushchev.

5. The same sources said no fresh plans for solving the dangerous problem of Berlin developed in the conversations.

Before the extraordinary telecast, a British Foreign Office spokeesman told more than 400 corrspondents, including Soviet reporters in London, he expected the TV meeting would be "wholly newsworthy."

It did not turn out to be that. But it did reflect the basic positions that Eisenhower and Macmillan have taken on some of the great questions haunting the world. And it reflected the principles on which they propose to operate in the continuing discussions with the Soviets.

Ike's Golf Swing Draws Criticism

LONDON (AP) — President Eisenhower, the first to admit he's no Ben Hogan, Monday awoke to a public analysis of his golf swing —and a critical one.

A gossip writer for the London Daily Telegraph called on a golf expert to study a published photograph of Eisenhower practicing golf at Chequers.

This was the verdict:

"The President's stance and swing are inclined to be upright but subject to that, the clubhead is as it ought to be.

"His feet are closer together for a drive than the purists prescribe. The left shoulder has come round well, but the hop movement is not complete.

"The right elbow, which should be close to the right side, is projected a little. Finally, it would also appear that the left arm is bent."

Employment Drops In Md.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Employment in Maryland fell 15,400 to 1,039,100 during July, the first drop since last January. Unemployment also declined slightly, however.

The Department of Employment Security said Monday the employment loss was largely seasonal and included such personnel as school teachers. Most of it was in the Baltimore metropolitan area.

Robert B. Kimble, DES executive director, attributed the rise in unemployment to students and others just entering the labor market in June who swelled the ranks of the unemployed but found jobs in the meantime.

An employment drop in trade and smaller losses in transportation and utility and transportation equipment manufacturing followed normal seasonal patterns, the department said. The biggest decline was in government employment and a reduction in service employment — including the school teachers — also was large.

A decline in agricultural employment was greater than seasonal as the July drought reduced harvesting activity.

"The steel strike was a factor," the department reported, "only to the extent that steel producers cut payrolls in anticipation of the strike, and to the extent of secondary effects in a scattering of other industries."

The 28,100 striking steel workers in the Baltimore area were counted among the employed during July, under U. S. Department of Labor standards, and will be placed in an "on strike" category for August.

Frederick Co. 4-H Girls Win At Fair

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — The Frederick County 4-H Club girls walked off with the first blue ribbon as the 78th Maryland State Fair opened Monday.

The girls, using "Homemaking and Decorating" as their theme, were awarded first prize for their booth in the Exhibition Hall.

Fair officials said attendance on opening day was 12,655, despite the damp, cloudy weather. Attendance on opening day last year, a Saturday, was 23,517 but the turnout on a comparable Monday last year was 8,433.

Despite morning showers, a fairly good crowd was on hand as Baltimore County's chief executive, Christian H. Kahl, cut the ribbon opening the fair shortly before noon.

Kahl and other county officials lunched with fair officials and then attended the races a t the half-mile track.

The damp weather caused one postponement. Judging of draft horses was put off until Tuesday.

Three Injured In Two Fiery Truck Crashes

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Two men were injured, one seriously, when an oil truck collided with a tractor-trailer and burst into flames Monday near here.

Daniel T. Myers, 45, of Martinsville, Va., was in serious condition at Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown, Md., with multiple fractures.

His brother, James M. Myers, 35, of Danville, Va., was admitted to the same hospital with minor injuries.

State Police said Daniel Myers was pinned behind the wheel of the tractor-trailer after it collided with the oil truck on U.S. 11 between Martinsburg and Williamsport, Md. His brother managed to get out of the cab without assistance.

Police said the truck rounded a curve, jack-knifed and collided with an oil truck driven by Russell C. Trone, 47, of Hanover, Pa. Trone escaped uninjured before his truck burst into flames.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A collision of two tractor-trailer trucks set one afire Monday and tied up traffic on busy U.S. 40 for hours.

One driver's feet were crushed when the wheels of the huge rig rolled over them.

The injured driver, John Pinkhart, 41, of Columbia, S.C., told police he was standing beside his disabled truck at the side of the highway when the other truck struck it.

Police said the impact ignited the gasoline tank of the moving vehicle, loaded with furniture. The driver, Harold W. Ayres of Winston-Salem, N.C., escaped unhurt but the truck was destroyed.

Pinkhart was hospitalized here.

Five Rescued After Boat Upsets In Bay

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Three women and two men were rescued from Chesapeake Bay Sunday when their 17-foot boat overturned off Deale, Md. after taking water over the stern.

Released after treatment for shock at Anne Arundel General Hospital were Pearl Cramer, 49, of Washington, D.C., Francis Ardinger of Hagerstown, Doris Howard of Washington, Harry Knabman, 52, of Mt. Rainier, and John L. Waters, 48, of Washington.

Waters was owner of the boat, which sustained damage estimated at $1,000. The group lost personal articles valued at $316.

Gilbert Ward of Deale, who was cruising in the vicinity of the accident, picked up the five passengers after they had been dumped in the water.

Woman With Year To Live Left Fortune

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —A 46-year-old housewife, doomed to die from cancer within a year, prepared Monday to leave for Scotland where she will claim a two-million dollar estate bequeathed by an uncle.

Mrs. Jean Naccarelli said a doctor informed her she will be dead within 12 months.

"I think I'm going to have a big funeral," she said. Last year she was a hospital patient for 45 days undergoing surgery designed to stave off death. She took a realistic view of her situation although she was excited by the prospect of an overseas visit.

"I shall come back here to die," she said.

Mrs. Nacarelli lives in a modest home in the city's Mt. Washington district with her husband, Felic. She has two daughters by a previous marriage.

Last week Mrs. Naccarelli received a telegram saying her uncle, John Lennon, 78-year-old ship designer who worked on the Queen Mary, had died. She was the sole heir mentioned in the will.

Mrs. Naccarelli had seen her uncle in 1924 when she visited Scotland and in 1952 when he came to Pittsburgh.

Last year Mrs. Naccarelli was a heroine when she dragged two policemen from a burning patrol car.

The plucky woman said she plans to will her fortune to her Italian-born husband.

"I have a lot of wonderful friends," she said, "and I had them all long before I got this money."

Canaveral Strike

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—A strike by operating engineers paralyzed construction projects at this vast missile test center Monday, but the Air Force indicated missile operations were not immediately affected.

Change In Street Work Gets Opposition Here

L. V. Lowery of 714 Frederick Street, told the Mayor and Council yesterday petitions are being circulated to be presented to council asking a referendum on a charter amendment which would set up new rules for street construction and resurfacing.

Deadline for submitting the petitions is Friday.

Lowery said he had several of the petitions today and wanted to submit them to council. However, he was informed by City Attorney William R. Carscaden that all should be given to City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery at one time. None had been turned in by late afternoon.

The petitions Lowery displayed yesterday had only 105 signatures representing residents mostly of the Frederick Street-Bedford Street area. Others are in circulation, he said.

In order to bring about a referendum on a charter amendment, petitions must contain the names of 20 per cent of the registered voters. Registration at the end of July was 11,639 and that means petitions must be signed by 2,328 qualified voters of the city.

The charter amendment was adopted July 27 and will become effective September 15 unless a referendum is in order.

Essentially, the charter resolution would:

—Extend the time in which a lien is effective from five years to 12 years.

—Extend from three months to six months the time in which the city must file a lien after work is completed.

—Provide that railroads must pay front footage the same as other property owners.

—Provide that the city cannot file a second lien within five years, instead of the present 10, to allow the use of shorter-lived light surfacing treatment on city streets.

—Provide that a uniform schedule of fees, uniform throughout the city, shall be adopted, subject to change by ordinance. At present, the city must levy at least two-thirds of expenses on abutting property and in actual practice has usually levied the full amount.

It is reported that the schedule of fees, which the Mayor and Council has asked City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to work out, calls for the city to share about 25 per cent of the costs.

A rough draft of the fee schedule ordinance, Mayor J. Edwin Keech reports, has been passed out to city officials.

TO SPEAK HERE—C. R. Zarfoss, vice president in charge of traffic for the Western Maryland Railway, will speak to the graduates of the Memorial Hospital School of Nursing on Friday at 8 p. m. in Fort Hill High School auditorium. Zarfoss lives in Baltimore and is active in civic affairs. A native of York, Pa., he was named "York Man of the Year" in 1951.

Heavy Trucks Are Banned On Some Streets

An ordinance to restrict heavy trucks and equipment from using certain streets within the city limits was approved by the Mayor and Council yesterday.

The restrictions also applies to certain alleys and highways.

Many city streets were constructed years ago, the ordinance points out, and are not designed to carry the load of present-day heavy trucks and equipment.

Great damage has resulted. Streets are also too narrow for the heavy vehicles which endanger life and property and water and sewer lines beneath the streets are damaged when the surface is damaged.

Load limits will be imposed where considered necessary and also vehicle weight limits.

Signs will be erected where limitations are placed in effect.

Penalties provided in the ordinance for violations call for a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 or in default, not less than one day nor more than 30 days in jail.

The ordinance does not spell out the restrictions, which are to be adopted from time to time by orders of the Mayor and Council.

In other activity yesterday, council approved the one-year contract of Carl Guy Rickard Jr., of Pittsburgh, as new assistant city engineer for streets, parks and planning. Rickard will receive $7,000 and is due to assume his duties today.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light was authorized to advertise for bids for two chlorinators, one for pre-chlorination and one for post-chlorination; and one chlorine residual recorder and electrolyte cell, an ammoniator and a reducing valve. Light was also authorized to seek bids on a four-wheel drive station wagon for the Water Department.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming was authorized to advertise for bids for a panel truck for the Fire Department.

The $1,280 bid of General Supply and Equipment Company for a concrete saw was accepted.

In other routine matters, council said it would contribute $2,000 to the County United Fund campaign if and when sufficient funds from the movie tax are available. However, council said, it must be understood that direct charges for maintenance of the Girl Scout House and the Allegany County League for Crippled Children's Buildings are made to the Movie Tax Fund and only the balance remaining after these charges will be allocated to CUF.

Ohio Police Arrest Man Wanted Here

City Police have been notified by Ohio authorities that Nathan Bartell has been taken into custody.

Lt. Det. James E. Van said Bartell was wanted in Cumberland in connection with a case which developed in Cumberland last Thursday when four men attempted to break into the Montgomery Ward Store.

James S. Getty, state's attorney, said Ohio police advised Lt. Van that Bartell indicated he would refuse to waive extradition.

Getty said papers are being prepared to bring the man back on charges of possession of burglary tools.

Three men, Albert S. Wright, 42, and Charles Issacs, 32, both of Newport, Ky., and Andrew J. Forkes, 51, of Phoenix, Ariz., were arrested by City Police in connection with the case, however, Bartell managed to escape.

Police at the time impounded Bartell's automobile which contained pistols and such burglary tools as a large pair of bolt cutters, various sizes of drill bits, drills, an emory wheel, gloves, flashlights and screwdrivers.

Bartell's car and the tools are still being held by authorities.

The other three men were released Saturday afternoon under $500 bond each after they were questioned in the Allegany County Jail by an FBI agent.

Workers To Get Long Weekend

City offices and departments will be closed Labor Day.

The Mayor and Council in ordering the holiday yesterday said offices will close at 5 p. m. Friday and reopen at 9 a. m. Tuesday, September 8. The regular meeting of Council will be held September 8 at 10 a. m.

The application of Patrolman Edward P. Wilson to continue with the Police Department for another year was rejected by council on recommendation of Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

Fleming said Wilson, who was injured in an automobile accident several years ago, reaches retirement age of 60, September 7. Because of his physical condition as a result of the accident, Fleming said he has been unable to fulfill other than limited duties with the force. Fleming said he agreed to this arrangement for the last year but the department needs 10 fulltime men and he regrets that the action is necessary.

In other activities, council proclaimed Wednesday, September 16 as "Cumberland Day" during the Fairgo race meet and ordered offices to close at noon that day and asked that other businesses join in the observation to allow employes a day at the races.

Two PTAs, Columbia Street and Mt. Royal, expressed concern over the recent dismissal of women school crossing guards for lack of funds.

4-H Group To Hear Talk

A meeting of the 4-H Older Youth organization of Allegany County will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Extension Service office at the Court House.

A feature will be a talk by Miss Brunhidle Seidel, a summer trainee in the Extension office, of her life in the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia at the time it was taken over by the Nazis, then the Russians during World War II and finally the Czech communists.

Miss Seidel was eight years old when her family moved to the West Germany sector.

Brotemarkle Is Honored By Mayor, City Council

Charles L. Brotemarkle, a 40-year veteran of city service, retired yesterday as assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, and the Mayor and Council, by resolution, made him an "Honorary Citizen" of Cumberland.

Brotemarkle, who resides on Bedford Road, outside the city limits, was visibly affected by the resolution's praise of his service and a tribute paid him by Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Light said his association with Brotemarkle had been the best and it was with regret that he saw him retire. Many times, Light said Brotemarkle has served extra hours without pay and has not taken a vacation in some years.

He said he hoped Brotemarkle will enjoy a lot of fishing and fun "When you exchange your work clothes for your retirement clothes."

Brotemarkle expressed his appreciation to the city and to his fellow workers at the Lake Gordon water plant, wishing both success in the years ahead.

After the presentation of the resolution to Brotemarkle by Mayor J. Edwin Keech, Brotemarkle received a desk pen set, a gift from his fellow employes at the filter plant. This presentation was made by Shirley Mortzfeldt, laboratory technician.

False Teeth Dislodge

CARLISLE, England (UPI) — Maj. John Dicksee had an appointment with his dentist Monday because he was too enthusiastic. When a general arrived to inspect Dicksee's troops at camp Durranhill Saturday, the major shouted the command "attention!" with such vigor his false teeth were dislodged and fell on the ground.

FRENCH DAY AND EVENING SUITS—Strictly velvet for the evening, left, Balmain of Paris carried his long jacket line into evening wear in this velvet creation with that long, lean look. The strictly tailored double breasted dinner suit is of moss green velvet. On the lapel is a diamond studded boutonniere. A multi-colored sequin blouse is worn with the form-fitting, ankle length skirt. A mink hat and muff complete the ensemble. Yves directs eyes to the knees, right. A black mohair band holds the puffed skirt at the knees in this autumn and winter suit from Christian Dior salon in Paris, designed by Yves Saint Laurent. The red wool suit features a very short jacket over the puffed skirt.

Navy Mothers Club Joins Stick Collection Drive

Cumberland Chapter 514, Navy Mothers Club, selected a new project for its welfare work and outlined its fall activities at the meeting Friday evening at the American Legion home. Mrs. Elizabeth Nave presided.

The club decided to join the campaign for ice cream sticks, following an appeal that 20,000 more are needed by four hospitals for the veterans rehabilitation program. Joseph Rosendale, owner of the Home Laundry in Baltimore, has offered to sterilize them free of charge.

Beginning later this fall it was decided to serve refreshments to the boys at the Naval Reserve station, each month.

Mrs. Helen Bujac was elected and installed as matron at arms, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Leanna Golden, who resigned, due to ill health. Plans were completed for the state convention, which is being held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, September 18-19. It was decided to postpone the birthday party until after the convention. The next general meeting of the club will be September 11.

Redmen And Auxiliary Entertain

Games recreation featured the entertainment at the family picnic held by Tonkaway Tribe, of the Improved Order of Redmen, and Algonquin Company 54, Degree of Pocahontas, at the Ali Ghan Club picnic grounds.

Winners of the games were Diana Holmes and Timothy Wolf, donkey games for children under 6; Glen Hixenbaugh, Debra Hixenbaugh, ball throwing under 6; Gary Hixenbaugh, Linda Shanholtz, races for boys and girls, 6 to 10; Patricia Hixenbaugh, William Hixenbaugh, sack race, 6-10; Larry Skidmore, Carla Skidmore, sack race, 10-16; Larry McGaughey, Georgiana Hixenbaugh, balloon bursting contest; Ruth Koontz, Mary Mortzfeldt, sack race for women; Betty Kelly, Georgia Myers, back to back race for women; Bernard Galford, Ronald Schade, men's sack race; Jack Wertz, James Wisenburg, back to back race for men.

The games were conducted by Mrs. Georgie Myers and Mrs. Ruth Twigg. Refreshments were served by a committee of both degrees, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Mayme Bramble, Mr. and Mrs. William Combs, Mrs. Dorothy Payton, Mrs. Lola Taylor, Mrs. Ruth Twigg and Mrs. Susie Batt.

Approximately 150 members and their families attended.

Personals

New Mennonite Rest Home To Be Dedicated

Open House Plans Are Announced

GRANTSVILLE—Goodwill Mennonite Home, Inc., a rest home for the aged located near Grantsville, will be dedicated Sunday, September 6, at 2 p. m.

Open house for public inspection will be held Saturday, from 4 to 9 p. m. and Monday, September 7, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The home is an outgrowth of the belief that a rest home could render a needed and worthwhile service to the community since there were more aged people in the community and more crowded facilities in the average home.

Goodwill Mennonite Home is sponsored by the Castleman River Conservative Mennonite Church. It is controlled by a board of seven men, elected by the sponsoring church. The board serves without pay and the home is chartered by the State of Maryland as a non-profit organization.

The home is easily accessible from two main highways passing through Grantsville. It is located one mile north of Grantsville in quiet country surroundings and is immediately adjacent to the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, central meeting place of the sponsoring congregation.

It is located on a rising elevation which overlooks the farm lands and wooded areas of the Castleman River valley. A five-minute drive will reach most of the churches in the Grantsville area.

The home can accommodate approximately 25 guests. The large brick structure was formerly owned by the Conservative Mennonite Conference and used as a children's home. The conference made the property availabe to the local congregation and during 1958 and this year, the building was remodeled and renovated. Old heating, wiring and plumbing were removed and modern equipment installed. A new fire alarm system covers the building. Grounds have been landscaped.

Purpose of the Goodwill Mennonite Home is to give comfortable living conditions to aged people in a pleasant, Christian environment. Though the Home is operated by the Mennonite Church, its policy will be to give care to those who desire its services regardless of religious persuasion, officials said.

Presbyterians Plan 100th Anniversary

BARTON — A committee has been formed to plan the celebration of the 100th anniversary of First Presbyterian Church.

The group will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., at the church. The celebration is planned from October 4 through October 11.

Rev. James Eakin, pastor, and Mrs. Alexander Cross are co-chairmen of the arrangements committee.

Gladys Williams Honored By Church

FROSTBURG — Miss Gladys Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, Midlothian, was honored with a picnic supper recently at Swaugers Dam by members of Trinity Assembly of God Church.

Approximately 175 attended the hot dog and marshmallow roast. Miss Williams, a graduate of Beall High School& who was employed with government insurance in Washington for the past two years, will enter Eastern Bible Institute, Green Lane, Pa., this fall.

Following the supper, hymns and gospel choruses were sung, after which Rev. James L. Tate, pastor of the church and Rev. William Reed, also of Midlothian, spoke briefly.

Vine Blooms At Lonaconing

A neighbor boy, Charles Paskun, is pointing out the beautiful diamond-like blossoms on a Canadian flower plant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gardner, Allegany Street, Lonaconing. Mrs. Ada Gardner brought the vine-type plant from Canada when she made a trip there on a summer vacation. She had the plant for seven years before it bloomed. The unusual running vine produces white velvety petals with deep pink five-star petal centers. Liquid falls from the blossom, similar to a teardrop, and has a sweet taste, like syrup. Charles Paskun, son of Mrs. Edna Paskun, who is admiring the vine, is a fifth grade student at Central Elementary School.

Sister M. Hilda Will Observe Golden Jubilee

WESTERNPORT — Sister M. Hilda, the former Miss Anna McMillen of Westernport, will observe her golden jubilee as a member of the Visitation Order of Nuns at Roland Park, Baltimore today.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Leary, Catonsville, former assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church here, will celebrate a mass in her honor.

Sister Hilda, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMillen, entered the cloistered order in June 1908 at Baltimore. She is a sister of Mrs. J. B. Maybury, Piedmont, and Mrs. C. E. Laughlin, Westernport. The late Frank McMillen, Westernport, was a brother. Thomas McMillen, Keyser, is also a brother.

Bloodmobile Visits Tri-Towns Tomorrow

PIEDMONT — Johnstown bloodmobile unit of the Red Cross will visit the Tri-Towns tomorrow.

It will be at the Presbyterian Church from noon to 6 p. m. and their quota is 85 pints.

If the quota is not met, the unit will discontinue visiting the Tri-Towns. Persons desiring to donate blood are asked to contact Mrs. Bernadine Appel, ELgin 5-2664 or Mrs. Annabelle Wilkes, FLeetwood 9-9211.

Baby Suffocates On Plastic Bag

GRAFTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held here Monday for a nearby Parkview baby who suffocated over the weekend when he apparently rolled face down on a plastic bag left in his crib.

The death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David Freeze was the second plastic bag death reported in West Virginia. Martha J. Meyers, 75, Morgantown, apparently committed suicide last June by tying a plastic bag over her head.

Frostburg Street Program On Schedule

FROSTBURG—Street Commissioner William Preston has reported that the Frostburg street program, inaugurated this spring and the first of its kind since 1953, is progressing rapidly with Park Lane, Frost Avenue Extended and Federal and Howard Streets having been completed.

Preston said the finishing coat of asphalt and chips is now being laid on Mt. Pleasant Street Extended. Also scheduled for improvement this year is Mt. Vernon Street from Main to Washington Streets.

There are approximately 25 miles of streets in Frostburg with about five miles being dirt. Before the year is over, about one-fifth of these dirt streets will have been paved.

Now that this program is underway, Preston said, more progress will be shown next year. Resurfacing will progress more rapidly on streets that already have been graded and have a base coat.

Scheduled to be resurfaced next year with the approval of citizens will be Green Street, College Avenue from Water Street west, Pine Street from Frost Avenue to Linden, and Ghestnut Street between Frost and College Avenues. Tentatively scheduled are Maple, Wood and Beall Streets.

Dirt streets to be graded and based next year will be Bowry Extended, Centennial Extended, and Stoyer between Wood and Maple Streets.

Within a five year period Preston pointed out, all streets whether dirt or paved should be in top condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Chaney, Ormond Street and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chaney Sr., Cresaptown, have returned home after visiting in Philadelphia, New Jersey and Delaware.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Powell and son Richard, returned home after vacationing in Baltimore.

Correction

MT. SAVAGE — In cutlines under a photograph taken at a district meeting of Knights of Columbus councils here and published in the NEWS Friday, August 28, it was stated that Mt. Savage Council 1058 received a plaque for highest increase in membership. This is incorrect. Actually, Wilbert E. Logsdon of Mt. Savage Council, assistant membership chairman for last year, presented the plaque to James B. Nalley, grand knight of Oakland Council 1771, winner of the award. The NEWS regrets this error.

TEACHER ASSIGNED — Mrs. Joyce (Sween) Lancaster, RD 2, Frostburg, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Sween and the late John Sween, Zihlman, has been appointed to the faculty of Route 40 Elementary School, where she will teach the fifth grade. Mrs. Lancaster is a graduate of Beall High School, '55 and of Frostburg State Teachers College, class of 1959.

Turnpike To Nowhere Is Finally Going Somewhere

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The turnpike to 'nowhere" is finally going somewhere after five years.

Take it from Gen. Mgr. William E. Stahl of the West Virginia Turnpike that the once blackened financial picture for the 88-mile multi-million dollar highway is beginning to get clearer.

"For those who have kept their confidence in the potential of the road there is now a certain measure of satisfaction." Stahl said on the eve of the highway's fifth anniversary.

The first segment of the road—a 35 mile stretch from Princeton to Beckley—was opened to traffic five years ago—Sept. 2, 1954. The final 53 miles — Beckley to Charleston—got its initial baptism of vehicle traffic two months later—Nov. 8.

"We're still not breaking even and it may be a long time before that day is finally reached," Stahl declared, "but the highway is much nearer that point today than at any time since it opened."

There are two explanations for the increased traffic which has dumped more money into the turnpike coffers this year.

New Records

Stahl said heavier truck traffic resulting from increased production in textile mills of the south was the primary cause of higher toll collections. These collections have been breaking records each month this year.

"But we've noticed an increase in the number of out-of-state passenger cars, too," he said. "It seems that more people from other states are traveling through West Virginia and they are using the turnpike on their trip through the southern part of the state."

The road was labeled the "Turnpike to Nowhere" after it was opened because it connected with no major traffic arteries, but only knifed through some of southern West Virginia's highest mountains.

But today, there is a brighter future in prospect.

"The road will be a vital link in the proposed north-south Interstate Highway from Canton, Ohio to Charlotte, N. C.," Stahl said. "It appears to me that it would be useless to think of constructing a third major highway south from Charleston to the Virginia border."

Driving Time Cut

The present U. S. 21 was the original road connecting the two cities. Then the turnpike was constructed and it cut the mileage by one-third and the driving time nearly in half.

"The right-of-way for an Interstate construction is already in our name," Stahl said. "There needs to be only an arrangement of finances and construction of additional lanes to conform with Interstate specifications."

He would make no estimate on how or when the 'pike' might transfer hands or how the $133,000,000 worth of bonds sold to finance the construction would be paid off. "That's something that will have to be worked out later if it is decided to take the highway into the Interstate system," he said.

Five years after opening the expressway has been anything but a financial success. It can better be considered a headache for those connected with it.

It has never paid its way. In fact interest payments alone are running about six or seven months behind schedule. The traffic originally anticipated for the road never materialized. Despite all this Stahl keeps his optimistic outlook.

"We're going somewhere and soon," he said. "When we do everyone will benefit."

Catholic Lay Teachers To Attend Workshop

A number of lay teachers on faculties of parochial schools in this county will attend the lay teachers workshop to be conducted by the Department of Catholic Education of the Archdiocese of Baltimore today and Wednesday in Baltimore.

The sessions will be held in Catholic High School, 2800 Edison Highway, Baltimore, and will include such topics as teaching methods in the archdiocese, teacher planning books, techniques of teaching, tests, study interpretation and classroom procedures.

From SS. Peter and Paul School will be Mrs. Elizabeth Fair, Miss Nancy Sitter and Miss Patricia James. St. Mary's will send Mrs. John Jett and Mrs. Earl Humbertson, and from St. Michael's School, Frostburg, will be Miss Margaret Ann Campbell.

The workshop staff will be comprised of faculty members with wide experience in the teaching field.

The teachers will be divided into small groups according to the individual grades they teach, Msgr. Leo J. McCormick, superintendent of the Department of Catholic Education, said.

As school nears, two principals today made announcements concerning faculty changes and other data.

At Ursuline Academy, freshmen and sophomores will report Thursday from 9 to 11 a. m. to receive class schedules and make arrangements for textbooks. Juniors and seniors will report Friday from 9 to 11 a. m.

Sister Hilda, principal, said the academy is accepting no new applications from students except in the Junior Class. The school is absorbing the student body of St. Mary's High School which was closed in June.

Sister Herman Joseph, principal at St. Mary's School, said Mrs. Humbertson is the new lay teacher on the faculty.

Sister Lenore, principal of St. Patrick's School, said only one change was made this month in the faculty. Sister Julissa, fourth grade teacher, was transferred to St. Mary's High School, Washington. She has been replaced by Sister Cecelia from the Motherhouse of the School Sisters Notre Dame.

The title of the regular superior of an abbey of monks or canons is an abbot.

City To Hold Bridge Class

The 10th in a series of duplicate-contract Bridge courses, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will begin Wednesday, September 9 at 8 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant rec director, said the class is limited to 40 members and registration should be made with the Recreation Department, telephone PA 2-2000.

The course will cover a 12-week period and a small fee, payable the first session, will be charged. C. C. DeHaven will be instructor and the Goren Point System will be used.

The course will cover 24 hours, two hours each session. The first hour will be devoted to lecture and the second hour to play.

The Bridge courses were started under department sponsorship in October, 1955. Since then, an average of two classes a year have been held with a total graduate of 361.

LaVale Resident Gets Home Permit

Frederick T. Wilson, Parkside Boulevard, LaVale, has been issued a permit to build a brick dwelling by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

The structure, which will measure 38 feet by 28 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and a composition shingle roof and will cost about $7,800.

George R. McGee, RD 2, Creek Road, was issued a permit to build a 10-unit trailer court between Oldtown Road and Williams Road. The court will include no buildings, according to the permit.

Bedford Road Optimists To Hear ABL Employe

Guest speaker will be Harry Winterling of LaVale, who is employed in the rocket development department of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Pritchett Gets Greeley Award

Norman M. Pritchett, chief engineer of the State Roads Commission, has been selected as one of the recipients of the Samuel A. Greeley Service Award of the American Public Works Association.

Only officials who have 30 years continuous service with an organization are eligible to receive the award.

Mr. Pritchett has been with the SRC since March of 1928, when he signed on as a junior engineering aide, rodman, on a survey party. He has been chief engineer of the commission since December 23, 1953.

A native of Baltimore, he attended Baltimore Polytechnic Institute and Johns Hopkins University Engineering School.

While Mr. Pritchett has been chief engineer, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads has selected five in the United States to be used as models for the Interstate System. Two of these roads are in Maryland.

US Air Force Enlists Seven

Local Air Force recruits announced the enlistment of seven men and re-enlistment of one at the local recruiting station during the month of August.

S/Sgt. James A. Hawthorne said yesterday that Willard Leon Johnson, 1003 Lexington Avenue, re-enlisted and has been assigned to Detroit Air Defense Sector at Custer Air Force Station, Michigan.

New recruits included one former Allegany High School student and one from Fort Hill, along with men from Hyndman, Keyser, Barton and Moorefield.

Herbert Lyons Nesbitt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nesbitt Sr., 544 Rose Hill Avenue, formerly attended Allegany.

Robert Roy Jeffries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Jeffries, 205 Maple Street, is a 1959 graduate of Fort Hill.

Johnny Ray Willison, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Willison of Hyndman, Pa.; Wendell Glenn Mankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Mankins, 1 Davis Street, Keyser, and Robert Ronald Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaire S. Roy, RFD No. 3, Keyser, enlisted for four years each.

James Milton Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Thomas, of Barton, graduated from Northern High School.

Eugene Love Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Sherman, Moorefield, W. Va., is a 1959 graduate of Moorefield High.

All of these men have traveled by air to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, where they have been processed and have begun their basic training.

Public School Coal Bids Being Sought

The Board of Education of Allegany County is seeking bids for the furnishing of coal for public schools.

Bids will be received until 3 p. m. Friday, September 11, according to J. Goodloe Jackson, president, who said specific information and a list of schools may be obtained from the office of the Board of Education, 108 Washington Street.

He said the Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I'm a sensible young lady, 18, and in nurse's training. I've been going steady with a fellow 22. Before he came along I dated many men. One day I realized I wasn't working toward a permanent relationship with anyone. Since this particular fellow seemed like the best of the lot I decided to concentrate on him.

He sensed my special interest and immediately suggested I stop dating the others. He said I was the type of girl he had always wanted. Now I'm wondering — wanted — for what?

He treats me coldly when others are present. He almost belittles me, you might say. When I broach the subject of marriage, he skillfully changes the topic. He gets furious when I hint that I may date someone else. Yet he studiously avoids committing himself. What's the next step?—DANGLING

DEAR DANGLING: You're only 18, Toots. What's the big hurry to beat a commitment out of anybody? In your attempt to tie up this fellow you've become pretty well tangled in the ropes. Has the calf killed the butcher?

Unwind and enjoy, the sweet flavor of freedom until you're mature enough to think about a permanent relationship.

DEAR ANN: What can we do about a headstrong daughter who is 21 and tells us she can do as she pleases?

In November she comes into $7,000 from her grandfather's estate. There are no strings on this money. She gets it all at once.

Mae quit high school at 16 to "go on the stage." That didn't pan out so she worked on a steamship as a stateroom maid and went all over the world. For six months we didn't even know where she was.

Last night she announced she'll marry as soon as she gets her money. We don't know the man but he's waiting for a divorce. She's making plans for an elaborate wedding which we can't afford. She says SHE'LL pay for it out of her inheritance if we won't. What can we do?—DOROTHY

DEAR DOROTHY: If you couldn't do anything with Mae when she was 16 why are you surprised you can't handle her at 21?

Tell her precisely the kind of wedding you can afford and make it plain that beyond that, it's on her. Also explain that if she blows her inheritance she can expect no financial lift from you.

DEAR ANN: I'm the father of eight children. I planned on a vacation this fall with the whole family. My wife agreed it would be fun. Then her cousin who I never liked, wrote and invited my wife to spend a couple weeks with her. She took the three youngest kids and left.

Our oldest girl is 14 and she and I have been doing the cooking and housework. I'm a painter and pretty tired when I get home. I'm mad at my wife for taking off like this without considering me. I wrote her that when she gets back I'm going fishing by myself for two weeks. Her reply was "You want to go alone because you're taking a woman."

Do you think I'm entitled to this vacation by myself?—DAD

DEAR DAD: I do indeed. Your wife had no right to go off and leave you with five children after she had agreed to a family-type vacation. Any chance of taking the five kids who were left home?

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAVERICK: Soap and water is cheap. Tell him he can be "best" and hygienic, too.

Hare-And-Tortoise Race For Opinion

The continuing strife between truth and falsehood has intrigued poet and philosopher down through the ages. Their witness on the progress of the conflict has been like that of the ringside radio reporter—"he's up, he's down"—the antecedent of the pronoun depending on the predilection of the reporter.

There are definite reasons why truth often seems to be losing in the unending grapple. Several psychological tests have been interpreted as showing that, when truth and falsehood start out under equal conditions, the human memory is such that falsehood eventually gains an advantage.

Memory eventually tends to recall the lie with greater force and the circumstance of its questionable origin fades from recollection. Dictators and aggressors have always maintained that the bigger a lie is the more readily it is swallowed.

Efforts to counteract Soviet misrepresentation of American attitudes and aims have shown how great is the handicap against the truth that is sent out to overtake error.

Truth has taken a terrific drubbing in this modern era. It is enough to cause even the hopeful to assume the attitude expressed by Coventry Patmore and to feel that, though "truth is great and shall prevail," perhaps that eventuality will arrive "when none cares whether it prevail or not."

Yet, loyalty to truth is not so easily discouraged. Knowledge of the psychological reasons that contribute to the temporary triumph of error—knowledge which the enemies of truth seek to pervert to their own evil purposes—could be a long step in the direction of helping truth come uppermost.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Prayer Is Not Sinful

It has now been decided in the Herricks (Long Island) School Prayer Case that a prayer to God, in the classroom, is neither illegal nor sinful. It is said that the parents of some children are so adamant on the subject that they will take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States, hoping that the Supreme Court, in all its majesty, will declare prayer illegal if said in a school.

The issue is very simple. The New York State Regents, who are in charge of education, devised in 1951 a prayer which is utterly non-sectarian among religious people but is sectarian so far as atheists and agnostics are concerned. The prayer reads:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our Country."

Some parents regard this simple prayer to be a violation of the United States Constitution which nowhere forbids prayer or the use of prayer in public schools. Why asking such a simple blessing is unsatisfactory, it is difficult to understand but there are such people in the world.

The case came before the State Supreme Court, presided over by Judge Bernard S. Meyer, who decided that children may say this prayer, provided that their parents are informed that the child is praying. Parents who forbid their children to pray to God may request that the child step aside and not engage in such activities that such parents may regard as nefarious. The judge further requires that school authorities and school teachers may not comment on the conduct of children who are forbidden to pray by their parents.

Judge Meyer's reasoning is sound throughout. There is no constitutional provision against prayer and there is no evidence that it was intended that the First Amendment to the Constitution should be used to oppose devotional exercises in the schools. This is something that has arisen in recent years and has no basis in American tradition.

It is true that the parent is the trustee for the child, but it is not true that a few parents can impose their will on the majority of parents. There the matter is left to those parents to object to a prayer to God by their children in schools. Those parents may have their children removed from devotional exercises. If their children object to such discrimination, that is a matter between parent and child. The school will have to follow each parent's wish.

When I was a boy in New York Public Schools, that was the procedure. There was a general assembly in the morning; the principal read from the Bible; we sang a hymn and then a patriotic song. We started the day right. Why was this procedure dropped? Who objected to it?

At any rate, the prayer is now being re-introduced and it is very beneficial to children. It gives them a moment to think of something besides themselves and their needs and their wants. It might even help them to respect their parents as they respect their God.

The judge's opinion, which is quite long, emphasized the point that there must be no comment about children who are kept away from prayer. It is difficult to see how that can be done. The children will comment. Johnny will ask Jerry why he was not at prayer and Jerry will say that his mother does not let him pray. So Johnny will ask Jerry: "Doesn't your mother believe in God?"

Poor Jerry! At that point he will not know what to say. He loves his mother but he realizes that she is different. Other children are allowed to pray to God, but he isn't. "Who is God, anyhow?"

Jerry asks his mother. She is up against it. For thousands of years, people have been up against that question. But Jerry is insistent. He wants to know why other kids can do something he can't do. Mother is stumped. She dare not say that their God is another God whereas the child has been told that there is only one God.

Is it better for the child to be mixed up, to suffer confusion, or for him to say the simple prayer of grace and respect?

According to Judge Meyer's decision, that is up to the parents and that is where it should rest.

Banned Book Urges U.S. To Strike First If War Becomes 'Inevitable'

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is on a "work and play vacation," his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson. Mr. Pearson is preparing some revealing columns on the Khrushchev visit.)

WASHINGTON — In the book Secretary of Defense McElroy has banned, Gen. Tom Power, the big bomber boss, advocates striking the first blow if a total war appears inevitable and using nuclear weapons to hurl back limited aggression.

McElroy has forbidden publication of the manuscript on the grounds that a commander shouldn't write about "his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command." However, California's crusading Congressman John Moss, the freedom-of-information champion, is investigating the book banning. He has asked McElroy whether he personally read the book before censoring it, also whether anyone in the Army or Navy put him up to it.

From a bootleg copy of the censored manuscript, this column is now able to present the most explosive passages.

"Our military strategy is essentially defensive. This does not preclude the possibility that we may have to striek the first blow," writes the bomber chief. "But while pre-emptive action on our part might initiate open warfare, it still would not represent offensive strategy because it would be undertaken only in self defense."

"Pre-emptive" War

He describes "pre-emptive" war as beating an enemy to the punch after gaining "certain knowledge of an imminent attack."

"It is conceivable," he warns, "that we may be placed in that position with respect to Russia."

Elaborating, he points out grimly: "The decision to launch a pre-emptive war against the Soviet Union would be a very difficult one to make even if our intelligence should have ascertained beyond any doubt that the Soviets were preparing to attack us in the immediate future.

"Regardless of how successful our initial attack might be, it could not possibly destroy the entire offensive capability of the Soviets. Some of their bombers and missiles would escape destruction and succeed in mounting a counter-attack, exacting a high price with their nuclear payloads. But if there were no other way left to escape an imminent surprise attack, our government might well resort to a pre-emptive war which, even though it could not save us entirely from damages, would serve to keep our losses to a minimum.

"Nevertheless," General Power hastens to add, "there is relatively little likelihood of a pre-emptive war against the Soviet Union because so long as there is the slightest hope that we can prevent a Soviet attack through diplomatic means or a strong posture of deterrence, our government backed by the majority of the American people would be opposed to more drastic means."

Defending the use of nuclear weapons in limited wars, the Strategic Air Commander writes: "The possession of missiles will encourage the Soviets to precipitate one incident and crisis after the other, to exhibit still greater audacity and inflexibility and eventually to launch a massive missile attack if their nuclear blackmail is no longer effective.

"To deal with this growing threat, the American people must first make up their minds that they will under no circumstances condone Soviet actions that are contrary to our national interests or yield an inch from our stated position. Second, we must convince the Soviets that we are prepared to retaliate with a massive and sudden missile attack with decisive results. Third, if we should become involved in local military actions, we must never again hesitate to use the best weapons required to protect our interests."

Recommends Priority List

Power boldly laid down his recommendations for solving our military muddle. Here are his principal ideas:

1. "An impartial and well-balanced group of the best qualified experts in the nation should take a hard look at all major projects of the armed forces and other government agencies concerned. On the basis of their findings, they should list these projects in a recommended order of priorities based strictly on considerations of national security."

2. "The existing organization of our armed forces is entirely inadequate for nuclear war, because it is divided and subdivided along lines of demarcation which modern weapons have largely wiped out. Instead of an incongruous conglomeration of vaguely defined and conflicting operation areas, we need a thoroughly integrated and centrally controlled organization with clear-cut lines of authority and firmly established responsibility. These ends can be attained only through complete and real unification of the present military services."

3. "To insure the survival and rapid recovery of this country in case of a massive nuclear surprise attack, we should establish a coordinated national survival plan to include air defense programs, an emergency control program should cover all aspects of civil defense and be assigned to the U.S. Army. Reserve personnel under all military services should be assigned as appropriate to the Army's emergency control force units."

Military vs. Space

4. "The emphasis of our space program should be on early military utility rather than on long-range scientific aspects."

5. "We should strive for a professional military force which has the stability, high level of proficiency and combat readiness which are indispensable in the nuclear age."

6. "An aggressive program should be undertaken by the government . . . to combat misconceptions and lack of understanding among the public with respect to the threat which we are facing and the actions required to meet that threat."

The general winds up his controversial book with this thought: "No matter what the future may bring, we have every reason to face it with confidence so long as we maintain the unsurpassed power of our ultimate weapon — the inflexible determination of our citizens to survive as a people and to prevail as a nation."

The Value Of Eisenhower's European Trip

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The cheers of the people of Western Europe for President Eisenhower — exuberant and affectionate — are a reminder of the historic friendship between the United States and its allies. But the demonstrations signify even more—how free peoples trust one another. This is something that peoples behind the Iron Curtain might well examine, for it contains the very ingredients of international understanding that someday could apply its benefits to the whole world.

In the personality of Dwight Eisenhower — a man of military background in the past, but today a symbol of peace — the world sees a missionary seeking, by good will and a spirit of conciliation, to overcome the petty, narrow and self-centered policies of men in government that sometimes keep nations apart.

It is an open secret that Mr. Eisenhower is in Western Europe this week as much to bind up the wounds of a strained governmental alliance with France as he is to prepare for the days next month in which he will represent the West in talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Dwight Eisenhower is popular in Europe as a man. But this is not simply because of his genial personality and innate friendliness. It is because of his record—he commanded the very forces that saved Britain and France 15 years ago. His acceptance by the people of West Germany is due largely to the fact that General Eisenhower dealt with his defeated foes on a basis of decency and fairness.

But, above all, President Eisenhower typifies the American spirit — the desire to see a nation like West Germany, which has repudiated Nazism and established a government of free institutions, preserve its independence and become reunited with their kinsmen in East Germany.

Every American President usually speaks in foreign affairs on behalf of the American people — there is less and less partisanship nowadays on such matters. Hence, a President of the United States, by a personal visit to countries allied with us, can accomplish a good deal to strengthen the ties with them. But whatever may have been the original reasons that seemed to make it desirable for President Eisenhower to go overseas, the truth is that such a visit is constructively helpful in the long run and tends to promote a spirit of mutual concession in resolving differences.

Everybody knows that President de Gaulle is trying somehow to increase the prestige of France and his hold on his own country. He has several crucial points to discuss with Mr. Eisenhower, involving, of course, the plight of Algeria. The principle of American non-intervention in disputes inside other countries is well recognized everywhere, but at the same time the yearning of colonial peoples for independence also strikes a sympathetic note in the United States. Certainly the most important consideration is what will benefit a dependent people. To give them immediate independence is not always in their own best interest. Gradualism is a better approach, because economic disintegration and consequent suffering for the masses often follows too sudden a change in the governmental structure. Indonesia, for example, has her independence today but is worse off than at any time since her people benefited by the enlightened colonialism of the Dutch government.

Mr. Eisenhower doesn't go to France in the next few days as a mediator on the Algerian problem, but he will sit down with General de Gaulle to emphasize that Allied unity, especially in defense matters, is far more important than any other single factor in the internal situation confronting France. To keep NATO planes from using bases inside France because the United States wouldn't grant information on nuclear weapons is petty tactics for any Frenchman to be practicing in these critical days. After all, the United States has twice had to come to the rescue of France in world-war crises, and it would be a disservice to the people of France if, in this missile and atomic age, the weapons of war by which American planes could help stave off any attack on France were suddenly found lacking. Surely questions like these, on sober second thought, will have to be handled with more tact in the future than they have been in the past, lest confidence in General de Gaulle himself is weakened in America.

So far as relations with Britain are concerned, there is complete understanding and harmony. Mr. Eisenhower's visit to Bonn will reassure the West Germans that they are not to become the victims of a "deal" over West Berlin.

But entirely apart from the specific issues that must be dealt with by President Eisenhower on his mission to Bonn, London and Paris, it is heartening to see the Western European peoples by their demonstrations showing the friendship they cherish for the people of America. Maybe as Nikita Khrushchev examines the press reports, he will be a bit envious. For if he could but understand it, peoples make heroes out of leaders who love humanity and freedom, and show their disdain only for those who do not grasp the meaning of human love or its corollary — human freedom.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Just when everyone was sure there'd be a balanced federal budget for the 1960 fiscal year, a new threat has arisen which could put Uncle Sam in the red again.

It could happen if the steel strike runs on to a point where industrial production and therefore profits are affected.

Administration quarters are quick to say that the strike has had no appreciable effect so far, primarily because of the huge stocks of steel which were piled up by industry during the first half of this year.

It is recalled that government tax revenues from corporations for the current fiscal year are estimated at $21.4 billion, and the budget was figured on that basis. During the 1958 recession year, corporate tax collections come to $16.7 billion.

Keep Junior From Being Afraid Of School

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The first day of school may be torture for the 6 year old. Many cry when mother says good-by but this reaction is less likely to occur when the mother is calm and firm. If the tot spots a playmate in the classroom, home and mother are soon forgotten.

A variation of this problem is the day to day fear of going to school that starts about a half hour before and ends a half hour after getting to class. Firmness and reassurance by mother and teacher eliminate minor fears but a more detailed study may be needed to uncover a deepseated cause.

Some boys and girls are afraid to ride in the school bus because of memories of a previous accident. Others are panic stricken because of encountering a dog or an adult stranger on the way to school. Still others are bothered by older children, gangs, or conflicts with the teacher. Sometimes these excuses hide a more basic sense of insecurity.

The child with a school phobia is tense and anxious and is hard to manage every September when the parents struggle to get him to class. But nine times out of 10 the problem is not a school affair. These youngsters are afraid and show signs of anxiety on leaving home and being separated from mother.

In many instances this emotional response is fostered by the mother, who thrives on her offspring's dependency. This is particularly true of women who are unhappy in or poorly adjusted to marriage; they turn to someone to whom they are important.

School phobia usually disappears when the mother cooperates and uses common sense. These incidents are minimized by discouraging too much dependency. The relationship between mother and child is necessarily close during infancy and the preschool years. Thereafter each must learn gradually to live his own life with separate interests, activities, and friends.

TOMORROW: Seaweed as a cure-all.

MATERNITY TESTS

Mrs. J. writes: Can motherhood be proved through blood tests?

REPLY

It has been said that maternity is a matter of fact and paternity a matter of opinion. Testing the blood along this line usually is more successful in showing whether the individual could not be the parent. In puzzling cases, the blood of the father and the mother should be tested in order to make a proper evaluation. In general, the blood shows whether the person could be the parent but is more positive on the negative side. By this, we mean the blood is more likely to show who could not be the parent.

WINE HAS CALORIES

L. W. writes: I'm trying to reduce and wonder if I should include in the calorie count the glass of white wine I drink every night?

REPLY

Yes, indeed. Depending upon the type of white wine, each glass contains from 75 to 140 calories.

A NEGATIVE QUESTION

Mrs. I. S. writes: Is a person with Rh negative considered to have bad blood?

REPLY

The 15 per cent of the population who have Rh negative blood look and act like everyone else. The only time it makes a difference is when having a transfusion or a baby.

LIVER DISEASES

L. F. writes: Is cirrhosis of the liver a form of cancer?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis is a condition in which the liver cells are destroyed and replaced by scar tissue. The two diseases may coexist.

EFFECTS OF SUNSTROKE

J. W. writes: A few years ago I spent several hours at the beach and developed sunstroke. Since then I get a headache whenever I'm out in the summer sun. Does a person ever get over sunstroke?

REPLY

You were cured of sunstroke a few years ago. But it left you a bit sensitive to the direct rays of the sun, as evidenced by your headaches. Some persons have residual brain damage, especially when treatment has been delayed.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Toots Shor, stylish-stout restaurateur, who recently sold out his fancy boite for a million or so dollars, cries easily whether he's sober or not. George Jessel once made him break down completely by sighing, "Isn't it tough what they did to President McKinley?" Toots also cried at "Guys and Dolls" and "The Seven Year Itch," but turned thumbs down on "Faust" at the Met. "Too darn much singing," he explained.

This year's "Bawl Street Journal," an irreverent parody of the financial district's bible, features these two advertisements: One: a casket company urges, "Try our handy flip top box"; Two: a banking house admits, "We like the higher things in life: International Business Machines, Superior Oil of California, Jane Mansfield in a penthouse . . ."

Hollywood patter:

First star: Aren't you just mad for June brides?

Second star: I'll say I am. I've been five of them.

What About Birrell?

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—Where does Lowell Birrell go now?

No one in authority has the answer to that one.

He is wanted here on indictments charging him with swindling American companies and investors out of millions of dollars. Yet there is no assurance that he will be brought back to face the charges in the near future—if ever.

Birrell—who knows every trick and twist of the law—is appealing the Brazilian order. This dumps the case into the courts and he already has retained a retinue of Brazilian lawyers.

The Brazilian case involves charges he entered the country illegally presenting a false Canadian passport claiming Canadian citizenship. He was born in Whitehead, Ind.

The Brazilians aren't interested in whether he is or is not a swindler. There are three warrants out for his arrest, but because the U.S. State Department has never negotiated an extradition treaty covering swindlers he cannot be brought back on any of these warrants.

The State Department has shown little interest in the case until recent days, although he has been a fugitive for more than two years in Cuba, elsewhere in Latin America, Paris and now in Brazil. He was in Brazil a year ago.

The U.S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro, according to District Attorney Frank Hogan, who got the first fraud indictment against Birrell, gave his man sent there to pick up the fugitive the runaround.

A call by this reporter to the legal division of the State Department produced the same "runaround." All this spokesman would say was that the department was "giving consideration" to doing something about his passport.

When pressed as to whether it was being invalidated this lawyer said:

"I don't believe it is for me to say."

Then came what might be called misleading or mis-information. This was that "no one asked for Birrell's extradition and haven't to date."

His extradition could not be asked, because of the State Department's dereliction in a treaty with Brazil, but the district attorney of New York did ask the department in Washington for help as well as the embassy in Rio. When it was suggested that the Department telephone the embassy in Brazil, they said they would if the New York district attorney would pay for the telephone call.

The same spokesman questioned whether there was "legal authority to grab the passport." While admitting a passport can be invalidated under certain conditions, the spokesman expressed the opinion being in "hot water" such as Birrell wasn't enough.

A little later another State Department spokesman called and said the passport had been picked up and marked for return to the United States only. This shuts off Birrell's use of this passport to go anywhere but "home."

However, there is nothing to stop him from negotiating in Brazil to stay there as a permanent citizen or to make similar arrangements with some other country that has no extradition treaty with the U.S. There are several.

The State Department won't list these on the grounds the knowledge might benefit Birrell.

Australia Defeats U.S., 3-2, And Regains Davis Cup

Neale Fraser Beats MacKay In 5th Match

Aussies Win Trophy For Eighth Time In Last 10 Years

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A rash of doublefaults sent the Davis Cup back to Australia Monday as Neale Fraser scored a swift followup victory over Uncle Sam's wild-hitting Barry MacKay in the fifth and decisive match of the challenge round.

Picking up where the tennis battle was halted by darkness Sunday at one set each, the 25-year-old Melbourne left-hander took advantage of MacKay's reckless serving to win 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

The giant Air Force private from Dayton, Ohio, playing on his 24th birthday, served five doublefaults to drop his delivery twice in the third set. He doublefaulted again — his 14th — to lose his service and the match in the 10th game of the fourth set.

Fraser Is Hero

Thus Fraser emerged as the one-man hero of the 1959 challenge round just as Peruvian Alex Olmedo was star of America's surprise triumph in Brisbane last December.

Fraser won two singles matches —his first over the disappointing Olmedo — and teamed with Roy Emerson to ring up a straight-set doubles triumph over Olmedo and 18-year-old Earl Buchholz.

Australia's final margin was 3-2, both MacKay and Olmedo winning over the flashy but inexperienced Rod Laver in singles.

This marked the eighth Davis Cup conquest for the tennis-minded Australians in the last ten years and the ninth in 12 meetings since the United States and Australia turned the competition into a two-country monopoly in 1938.

Hopman's 9th Success

For Harry Hopman, the wily Australian captain, it was his ninth success in 16 campaigns as Aussie leader since 1938.

It was a heartbreaking turn for both MacKay and the 71-year-old U.S. captain, Perry Jones.

MacKay choked back the tears as he rushed over to congratulate the highly-elated Fraser. Australians swarmed out on the court to escort their star off the field.

MacKay, who Sunday was eager and almost jumping out of his skin, appeared pale and tense Monday. His rocket-like shots — they say he never hits a safe one —were far off the beam.

As much as he tried to storm his way back into the battle, he couldn't do it. Fraser was too steady off the ground and his tricky, high-spin service was too effective to be broken.

Dapper Phils Rout Dodgers

Win First Game Of Series, 20-0

Pounding the offerings of three pitchers for 20 hits, including eight for extra bases, the Phillies clobbered the Dodgers to the tune of 20 to 0 in the opening game of the Dapper Dan Little League championship series yesterday at Penn Avenue Field.

The Phillies' assault was punctuated by home run blasts from the bats of Howard Reynolds, Jim Mertens and Steve Walters which accounted for 10 runs. Reynolds hit a round-tripper with two aboard in the first inning. Mertens duplicated in the second frame and Steve Walters belted a grand slammer in the fifth.

Reynolds, who hurled the first three innings, yielded two hits, fanned five and walked one, notched his 7th win of the season against no losses. He gave way to Terry Deremer with the score 13-0 at the end of the third and the latter pitched three innings of no-run, no-hit ball. Terry fanned two. Ronnie Flora was the losing pitcher.

In addition to his three inning stint on the rubber, Reynolds had a perfect day at the plate in five trips, smacking a homer, double and three singles. Jim Mertens went 4-for-4 with a homer, double and two one-base knocks. Mike Hixson collected a two-bagger and two singles, and Olin Perkins also had three hits, including a double.

Terry Lease and Zapf accounted for the Dodgers two hits.

The victory was the 16th in 17 starts for the Phillies this season against league opponents. It was also their sixth shutout triumph.

The Dapper Division champs and the winner in the Dan Division will clash today in the second game of their best-of-three series at Penn Avenue Field at 6 p. m. Another victory for the Phillies would windup the series but the series will go the limit if the Dodgers come through today. Yesterday's score:

Kono Cops 19th Medal For U.S. At Chicago Meet

Weightlifter Wins At Pan-Am Games

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) —Weightlifter Tommy Kono, a champion since 1952, added the 19th Pan American Gold Medal to the United States list Monday, and a young Mexican fencer, Pilar Roldan, became the fourth invading athlete to take a top prize in the U.S.-dominated games.

Kono, from Honolulu, set three Pan American records en route to the middleweight championship, hoisting 281 pounds in the press, 352¾ in the jerk and 898 pounds total for new marks. His victory gave the United States 19 Gold Medals out of 23 awarded.

U.S. Yachtsman won three of six events Monday and were in front of the field in three classes.

Swimmers Began Attack

U.S. swimmers began an anticipated seven-day attack on Pan American records. Thirteen swimmers set records in qualifying heats in three events, the men's 100 meter freestyle, the men's 200 meter breaststroke and the women's 200 meter freestyle.

All three U.S. entrants in the women's freestyle, led by a time of 2:20.3 by Chris Von Saltza, Saratoga, Calif., bettered the old record of 2:32.4 by Ana Maria Schultz of Argentina in 1951. United States qualifiers were Joan Spillane, Houston, Tex., and Shirley Stobs, Miami, Fla.

In team sports the United States continued at a high peak. The water polo team beat Brazil, 8-2. The soccer team, previously a patsy in international competition, upset previously unbeaten Brazil, 5-3, and the men's volleyball team tripped Puerto Rico, 3 games to none. The women's volleyball team also beat a Puerto Rican team, by the same margin.

Advanced To Semifinals

The U. S. men's doubles teams both advanced to the semifinals. Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill., and Myron Franks, Los Angeles, tripped Luis Ayala and Ernesto Aguirre, Chile, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2. Jon Douglas, Santa Monica, Calif., and Mike Green, Los Angeles, defeated Ed Alfredo Revelo and Jose Revelo, Dominican Republic 6-1, 6-0.

The U. S. women's doubles' team also got into the semifinals as Althea Gibson, New York, and Karol Fageros, Cocoanut Grove, Fla., drew a bye and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, Panama City, Panama, and Mimi Arnold, Redwood City, Calif., defeated Mabel Bove and Margarita Zavalia, Argentina, 7-5, 6-4.

Mount Royal Team Gets Sportsmanship Trophy At Dinner

Manager Harold E. "Shorty" Naughton's Mount Royal team was awarded the sportsmanship trophy at the dinner held last night by the Maryland-West Virginia Little League at the Midland Fire Hall.

Judge Naughton, better known around the league as "Old Case," accepted the trophy with thanks in behalf of his team and stated he was hopeful trades during the winter would give him a pennant winner next year.

Managers of the six teams in the league gave brief talks.

Trophies also will be given to the championship team and the runners-up. Barton and Corriganville, first and second half winners of the split season schedule, now are engaged in a series for the title.

Pros Will Play In Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Orange Bowl Stadium advisory board recommended Monday the 76,000-seat stadium be made available to the proposed American Football League.

Barton Beats 'Coney, 11-4, Even Series

Final Game Set For Wednesday

Barton's Braves squared up their Twilight Baseball League final playoff series with Lonaconing at two-all by winning yesterday at Barton by the score of 11-4.

Trailing 1-0, Barton sewed up the decision by scoring eleven runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Lonaconing garnered four of its seven hits for three runs in the final frame. Everett Spiker accounted for two of the runs with a circuit clout with one mate aboard.

Lou Fazenbaker went the route for the Braves while Jock Budries, who was supplanted in the fifth by Carl Donald, was the loser.

"Buck" Smith collected a triple and single and Ronald "Butch" Young and Ellie Fazenbaker obtained two singles each to pace Barton's 11-hit attack. Bill Richmond, Bill Fazenbaker and Curt Johnson had two-base hits for 'Coney.

Barton won the first and fourth games, 7-2 and 11-4, and Lonaconing emerged the winner in the second and third contests, 5-2 and 11-2.

The fifth and "rubber" game of the series is set for Wednesday at 5 p. m., in Barton. Yesterday's score:

BARTON .... 000 416 0—11 11 0
LONACONING ...... 010 000 3— 4 7 4
Lou Fazenbaker and E. Fazenbaker. J. Budries, C. Donald (5) and E. Spiker. LP—J. Budries. HR—E. Spiker (Lonaconing).

Beall's Jayvees List Eight Tilts

Beall High School's junior varsity gridders will play a schedule of eight games this fall, opening with Allegany's Jayvees at Frostburg, Sept. 17.

Bob Chaney, former Ridgeley High athlete and Shepherd College football player, a new member of the Beall High faculty, will coach the Jayvees this year.

Twenty-five sophomores and freshmen have been working out. The schedule:

Sept. 17—Allegany, home. Sept. 24—Ridgeley, home. Oct. 1—Keyser, away. Oct. 8 — Fort Hill, home. Oct. 15—LaSalle, home. Oct. 22—Allegany, away. Oct. 29 — Keyser, home. Nov. 9 — LaSalle, home.

Milwaukee Signs Wheeling Youth

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves Monday night announced the signing of 17-year-old outfielder Leonard Pavlik of Wheeling, W. Va., to a 1960 contract with their Eau Claire, Wis., farm club.

Pavlik bats and throws right and will report to the Milwaukee minor league training camp at Waycross, Ga., next month. He was signed to the Class C Northern League club by scout Bill Maughn.

Playoffs In Rec Softball League Start Tomorrow

Playoffs to determine the championship in the Men's Rec Softball League will get under way on Wednesday, it was announced last night by Gene Mason, director of the Cumberland Recreation Department, following a meeting with the managers of the four teams involved.

Opening semi-final games Wednesday are Post Playground at Old Germans (Stitcher Field) and Ridgeley Legion at Sports Shoppe (Naval Reserve Field).

Second games of the best-of-three series are billed for Friday, as follows: Old Germans at Post's (Post Field) and Sports Shoppe at Ridgeley Legion (Stitcher Field).

The third games, if necessary, will be staged next week.

All games will get under way at 6 p. m. Tri-State Association umpires will handle the contests.

Donahue Wins Al Via Trophy

Paces Maplehurst Field With Net 70

James Donahue earned a leg on the Al Via Trophy when he won the annual handicap tournament Sunday at the Maplehurst Country Club, Frostburg, with a net score of 77-7—70, pacing a field of ninety players.

Runner-up honors went to Al Comer with a net 85-14—71.

Walter Eyler and Jim McNeil won prizes for coming closest to the pin on holes Nos. 4 and 7, respectively.

Charles Pinto won the first leg on the Via Trophy in 1958.

The trophy will be retired by the first player winning it three times.

The Breakfast Tournament, held over the weekend at Maplehurst, was won by Ben Hughes and Charles Steininger with a net score of 173-25—148.

Fifty-two members of the Men's Golf Association participated in this event.

Budge Patty Loses

POERTSCHACH, Austria (AP)—Robert Darmon, French Davis Cup player, won the singles title of an international tennis tourney Monday by defeating Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Rain halted play in the final set Sunday with Darmon ahead, 2 games to 1.

Diller Hanover Is Favorite In Trotting Race

34th Hambletonian Set For Wednesday

By DAVID C. BEEDER

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Heavily-favored Diller Hanover drew the advantage of a No. 2 starting position Monday in a field of 15 trotters entered in the 34th Hambletonian, richest harness race in history.

The classic this year carries a gross purse $125,283.98, said by officials here to be an all-time high for the sulky sport. The premier event for 3-year-old trotters will be held Wednesday over the fast clay track of the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds.

Betting is prohibited by Illinois law at a state fair track, but unofficial odds compiled by track observers make Diller Hanover a 2-1 choice followed by Tie Silk and Circo at 4-1.

Hickory Pride, considered a strong contender in pre-race estimates, was not entered after trainer Billy Haughton said he was unsound. Haughton will drive Circo from the No. 8 spot.

Tie Silk, drawing a second row No. 14 spot, has the fastest time of any entry in this Hambletonian. The Indianapolis colt scored a 2:00 2-5 photo finish victory over Diller Hanover last week in Sedalia, Mo.

Harness racing officials at the Du Quoin track said the gross purse surpasses the previous record — a $123,712.50 distribution for the Empire Pace in Yonkers, N.Y., this July 30.

The richest previous Hambletonian gross payoff was $117,117.98, in the 1953 stake in Goshen, N.Y.

Twigg, Hadidian Win In County Singles Tests

Jimmy Twigg advanced to the semi-final round in the men's singles division of the Allegany County Tennis Tournament by defeating Russell Fink yesterday in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, on the Garlitz courts.

Calvin Hadidian defeated Granville Cannon in another quarter-final match, 6-1, 6-1.

Post's To Practice

Sorrentino Wins With 25-1 Shot

Mystic 2nd Cops Belmont Feature

ELMONT, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP) — Mystic 2nd, next to the longest shot in the field of eight, charged from fifth place to win the 46th running of the $28,300 Fall Highweight Handicap as Belmont Park opened its fall meeting today.

C. Mahlon Kline's 5-year-old son of Relic-Tosca, ridden by Jockey Mike Sorrentino, scored by two lengths over Stella G. Steckler's Discard, who saved the place by three quarters of a length over Woolford Farm's Silver Ship, the heavily laden favorite, who carried 140 pounds.

Maine Chance Farm's Jet's Alibi, who cut out the hot early pace, faded to finish fourth, a head out of the money. The rest of the field was bunched a neck, head, neck and a half a length separating Commendation, Tick Tock, St. Amour 2nd and Besomer.

Mystic 2nd, toting 122 pounds, stepped the 6 furlongs in the moderate time of 1:11 in sloppy going to pick up the winner's share of $18,095 for Kline, Philadelphia, Pa., pharmaceutical house executive.

Given but a scant backing by the crowd of 19,370, Mystic 2nd paid $53.00, $15.90 and $7.80. Discard carrying 125 pounds, paid $7.20 and $3.70, and Silver Ship was $2.70 to show.

It was the second stakes score for Mystic 2nd, who won the Westchester at Jamaica this spring with Sorrentino again in the saddle.

Potomac Valley Conference Opens 23rd Season Saturday

Romney High Gridders Play At Berkeley

Beall, 11th Team, Will Make Debut; 30 Games Listed

The Potomac Valley Conference will launch its twenty-third season on Saturday when Coach Ed Hartman's Romney High School Pioneers do battle with Berkeley Springs High School on the latter's field.

This will be the first of thirty games on tap for the 1959 campaign in which eleven schools, instead of ten as last year, will participate.

Beall To Make Debut

Beall High School, of Frostburg, makes its debut in the football circuit and will play a total of four games with Keyser, Southern, Romney and Moorefield.

A school is required to play a minimum of four games to compete for the championship.

Two games are scheduled next week while on Friday, Sept. 18, ten of the eleven schools in the circuit will see action.

The league has nine West Virginia schools and Beall and Southern (Oakland) of Maryland in the grid race this season.

Three New Coaches

Gerard Calhoun, one time Moorefield High School player, and former Berkeley Springs coach, is now at the Beall High School helm. The other new coaches in the league are Wayne Barr, who succeeds William "Honey" Crites and Earl Adolphson, who replaces Dick Travis at Southern High in Garrett County.

Holdover coaches are Frederick "Tack" Clark, who has led Keyser to more titles than any other school in the loop; Allan Goldstrom, Berkeley Springs; Guy Propst, Circleville; Curtis "Gus" Smith, Franklin; George Hott, Moorefield; Thomas O'Connor, Ridgeley; Ed Hartman, Romney, and Donald Bullock, of the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romnty.

Keyser Won 11 Times

During the 22-year history of the grid circuit, Keyser High School has won the championship outright nine times and tied for the crown on two occasions. Nine of the Keyser High teams coached by Clark have finished on top. He also had one winner at Moorefield. The other Keyser winners were coached by Homer Fizer, now at University High School, Morgantown.

Keyser enters the 1959 race with a record of 25 consecutive victories, having swept through all opposition for the past five years. Last year Keyser and West Virginia School for the Deaf shared the title with 5-0 and 4-0 records, respectively.

The P.V.C. schedule:

Sept. 5—Romney at Berkeley Springs.
Sept. 11—Moorefield at Southern, Circleville at Ridgeley.
Sept. 18—Beall at Keyser, Ridgeley at Berkeley Springs, Franklin at Romney, Moorefield at Petersburg, Southern at West Virginia Deaf.
Sept. 25—Beall at Southern, West Virginia Deaf at Franklin, Keyser at Ridgeley, Romney at Moorefield.
Oct. 1—Petersburg at Franklin.
Oct. 2—Moorefield at Ridgeley, Circleville at West Virginia Deaf.
Oct. 9—Romney at Beall, Franklin at Moorefield, Ridgeley at Petersburg.
Oct. 16—Moorefield at Keyser, Circleville at Petersburg, Ridgeley at Romney.
Oct. 23—Petersburg at Romney, Moorefield at Berkeley Springs, Southern at Keyser, West Virginia Deaf at Ridgeley.

Steelers Land Hall In Trade

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers acquired offensive halfback Ken Hall from the Baltimore Colts Monday in exchange for an undisclosed draft choice.

Hall, who played college ball for Texas A. & M., was the Colts' No. 14 draft choice for the 1958 National Football League season, but was sidelined last year with a back injury.

The Steelers were back at training camp here after sustaining a 54-17 defeat from the Chicago Bears in Houston, Tex., Saturday night.

Game Rained Out

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The scheduled night game between the New York Yankees and the Baltimore Orioles was postponed due to rain and wet grounds Monday night.

40,000 Expected To See Chisox Battle Detroit

CHICAGO (AP)—The White Sox aren't in yet, but don't try to tell that to Chicagoans.

They wouldn't have time to listen anyway.

Many of them are bombarding Comiskey Park ticket offices for ducats for the remaining Sox home games and, of course, World Series tickets.

The Sox management isn't selling any of the latter yet.

Crowds of about 40,000 fans are expected each of their next two nights as the Sox entertain Detroit and try to improve upon their American League lead of 5½ games over the Cleveland Indians.

Bedford Road Plays Rotary Club Today

Rain last night stopped the opening game of the Hot Stove League's final playoff series at Penn Avenue Field with the Bedford Road Optimist Club leading the Rotary Club 2-0 in the second inning.

The game is rescheduled for today at 8 p. m., on the same field.

Pete Runnels' Homer In 10th Sinks Senators

Boston Wins 4-3 On Circuit Blow

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox won a 10-inning "goofy derby" Monday night when spray-hitting Pete Runnels hit a long bases-empty home run into the right field bleachers to down the Washington Senators, 4-3.

The sock was Runnels' sixth of the season and traveled some 400 feet, coming off reliefer Chuck Stobbs with two down. It gave Mike Fornieles, who pitched one inning, his fourth victory. It was Stobbs' seventh defeat against a single win.

The Senators lost what would have been the tying run in the seventh when Jackie Jensen's throw from right field doubled up Billy Consolo trying to go to second base after Clint Courtney flied out. Lennie Green had already scored from third, but the run was cancelled on the double play—the second Jensen turned in after hitting his 26th homer in the fourth inning.

Courtney was thrown out of the game in the next inning for tossing his batting helmet into the stands after being called out on strikes, Harmon Killebrew being doubled up trying to steal third.

The Senators, who out-hit Boston 12-10, still managed to tie it in the eighth, Roy Sievers singling home Jim Lemon. Lemon had reached base when Gene Stephens let his drive to the left field wall drop beside him, apparently losing it in the lights.

In addition, the three-hour game provided such diversions as: rookie Zoilo Versalles going from first to third on a wild pitch, the Senators using 20 players to Boston's 11, and Bill Monbouquette working the first nine innings though tagged for 12 hits.

Ridgeley American Legion clinched second place in the American Division and earned a playoff berth by beating Whitacre's Grocery in the final game of the Men's Rec Softball League season yesterday at Post Field by the score of 8-3.

Red Shield defeated the Knights of Columbus at Stitcher Field by the score of 5-0 in the other league game played yesterday.

If Ridgeley had lost and the Knights of Columbus had won yesterday these teams would have finished the regular schedule tied at 20-6 but the Legion by winning wound up with 21-5, tying the Old Germans for first place while the Caseys finished with 19 wins and seven losses.

Bill Kenney notched his 19th victory of the season by hurling the Legion to victory over Whitacre's.

The winners collected eight hits, including a three-run triple by Bill Kegg, and two hits each by Ed Barley and Jim Weakley. Moore and Keiser shared four of the losing team's six hits.

Ellis "Turtle" Slonaker tossed a one-hitter at the Caseys as Red Shield closed the season with an 11-12 record. The win was the eighth for Slonaker, who struck out eight. Jerry Loibel, the loser, ended the season with a 12-5 mark.

The Knight's only hit was a single by Christ in the fifth inning.

Cubs Recall 13

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs Monday recalled 13 players from minor league teams, mainly from Fort Worth of the American Assn. The Cubs also purchased pitcher Ben Johnson, 28, from Fort Worth of the American Assn. and the 16-game winner will report immediately.

Pennant Fever Is Burning Hot In Pittsburgh

Buccos Have Copped 15 Of 18 At Home

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Once again pennant fever is burning hot in Pittsburgh — this time from the general manager of the Pirates right on down to the fans.

And no wonder! The Pirates are fresh off from their most successful home stand of the season—one in which they recorded 15 wins and only 3 losses. The Pirates are in fourth place, just four games behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

"Anything can happen in this game. The Pirates are a battling team, and a battling team can never be counted out of the pennant race," said General Manager Joe L. Brown. "We have a darn good chance for the National League pennant."

Danny Murtaugh, Pirate manager, although keeping his mind pretty much on each game as it comes, said his club's slogan of "keep driving, might just lead the Bucs into a pennant this year."

Rockne Memorial Will Be Erected

BAZAAR, Kan. (AP)—A Knute Rockne memorial will be erected on the Kansas Turnpike six miles from the spot where the Notre Dame coach and seven others died in an airplane crash 28 years ago.

Lon Jourdet Takes Life

Former Penn Coach Leaps To His Death

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Lon Walter Jourdet, 70, former head basketball coach at the University of Pennsylvania, Monday leaped to his death from a third story window at the Samuel G. Dixon Tuberculosis Hospital at South Mountain.

Jourdet admitted only 16 days ago, died of a broken neck. Franklin County Coroner J.D. Goshen issued a certificate of death by suicide. A state police report said Jourdet had a heart ailment induced by tuberculosis.

Turley May Be Out For Season

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Bob Turley, one of the New York Yankees' biggest disappointments of the season, may be lost to the out-going world champions for the remainder of the year with a chipped little finger on his right hand.

Sidney Street, 42, Boat Racer, Killed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Champion racing driver Sidney Street, 42, of Kansas City, Mo., was killed here Sunday when a boat he was driving at about 125 miles per hour during a race hit a wave and bucked him out.

Street, who once set a world record with his boat, "Z-Z-Zip," of 146 miles per hour for a mile straightaway, was driving "Hornet Two," owned by Marion Cooper of Louisville in Sunday's regatta on the Ohio River.

The accident occurred on the first turn of one of the events. Street was pulled from the water by the U. S. Coast Guard and rushed to a hospital, but he was dead on arrival.

In an earlier race George Byers, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio, was injured when the side of his boat splintered. The remainder of the regatta was canceled after Street's accident, but officials say they planned to hold it again next year.

Braves Recall Bob Taylor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves have received special permission from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to recall outfielder Bob (Hawk) Taylor from Atlanta as a replacement for injured Wes Covington, the club announced Monday night.

The special permission allows the Braves to take Taylor from Atlanta before the completion of the AA Southern Association season, which is not ordinarily permissible under league rules.

A party is only as gay as its hostess! Here's a Powers Girl plan for a dinner-party success.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Party Success Made Easy

As a new bride in the ranks of the Powers Girls posed the problem to one of her colleagues, "You always look as if you haven't turned a hand when guests arrive for one of your dinner parties! I always look and feel so rushed that I never have any fun and suspect my guests don't either! How do you do it?"

"It's easy," replied the Powers Girl who is famed for her gracious parties as well as her pulchritude. "Planning so you have nothing to do when the party day arrives but be hostess is the answer!"

"Easy, you say! But where do I find a plan like that?"

"Here is mine—and you are welcome to it: About a week ahead, I make a careful schedule of work to be done each day before the dinner. The heavy work, silver and polishing come first. Next on my schedule is time to shampoo and set my hair, and check over everything I'm going to wear to the party . . . right down to the last detail.

"After me, comes the menu. That is the easy part because I'm always collecting easy-to-do dishes from newspapers and magazines. I usually plan some things I can prepare the day before and store in the refrigerator until a few minutes before the guests arrive. Armed with my menu I get all the shopping done a good two days in advance."

"The evening before the party, I arrange the table, flowers, cigarets and ash trays; all the little details. I cover the dining table arrangement with a large, clean cloth to keep out dust, and put the flowers in a cool place to keep fresh.

"So what do I have to do on the party day? Nothing except get to work early so I'm on time for all my appointments and home as early as possible. Then, all I need is a few minutes to whisk the duster around, put the flowers in place and finish the dinner preparations. I usually have a whole hour to myself before the doorbell rings.

"And that's the hour that is the secret of having fun at your own parties! In it I do my nails, have a leisurely bath, a short nap and an expert make-up. Sometimes I even get caught up on some reading or mail. By the time the first guests arrive, I feel as though I'm going to a party instead of giving one!"

"Sounds wonderful," said the admiring bride, "I'm certainly going to try it!"

To Assume New Job

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fred M. Farwell assumes the newly created corporate staff position of vice president of marketing for Radio Corp. of America, on Sept. 8. Farwell had been executive vice president of International Telephone & Telegraph Co. in charge of U.S. group operations.

The monotype machine was patented by Rolbert Lanston in 1887.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — A chatty and newsy letter from Kay and Clark Gable who are settled in their Rome villa with the children after a motor tour of Austria. Kay reports:

"Clark and Sophia Loren are working in the lower slum area of Rome with mucho spectators who are so crazy about pa (Gable) and Sophia they wave madly into the cameras while pa and Sophia are doing love scenes for 'Bay of Naples.' Oh well, it's all in the day's shooting and reshooting. We love it here. The villa is beautiful and restful and at this moment we are having a most refreshing electric storm.

"The houseman's name is Dino and each time I ring for him he brings a bottle of vino! Thought it would amuse you to hear what Bunkie (her small son) wrote in a guest book at the airport. He had been asked what he liked best about Italy and wrote 'I like pizza — but they don't have any.' P.S.: He is used to the kind we get in the drive-in on Ventura Blvd!"

Clark sent love and kisses for a belated birthday greeting to me. It's easy to remember because Kay and I are Leos, her natal day following mine by one day.

Before Hope Lange took off for Europe with Don Murray on what they call their second honeymoon, Hope was called to Jerry Wald's office and told that she will be Gregory Peck's co-star in "The Billionaire." Few people recall that the pretty, blonde Hope started out as a dancer on Jackie Gleason's TV show, and a dancer is what she will play in the movie with Greg.

The Murrays left their two youngsters with Don's family while they take their trip abroad. Their close friends feel that Hope and Don want to be completely alone and perhaps work out some marital problems. Gossip was pretty strong a month ago about their marriage but Don has heatedly denied any trouble.

Dorothy Malone and Jacques Bergerac neither confirm nor deny that they are on the stork's list. But Dorothy made no protest when producer Andrew Stone told her she had some heavy swimming scenes in cold water yet to film for "The Last Voyage." I doubt if she would consent to this strenuous work if she is expecting.

Since their return from their wedding in Hong Kong, Dorothy and Jacques have been touring in "Once More With Feeling." The show has gone over so well and the Bergeracs are enjoying it so much they will extend the run another month.

Put this down in your little black book and remember I was the first to tell you. James Shigeta, who was seen on the screen for the first time in "Crimson Kimono," is our next big rave. He's paved the way for himself in "Holiday In Japan" currently in Las Vegas, and he's so excellent in Samuel Fuller's Columbia Picture that he had both the teenagers and adults applauding him.

"The Crimson Kimono" which was made for very little is an intriguing combination of love story and murder, with melodrama taking over in a big way. Victoria Shaw, whose promising career was cut short by marriage and two babies, is a worthy co-star for the very handsome Shigeta, and newcomer Glenn Corbett's performance deserves praise.

Robert Young and Collier Young (no relation) took time out last night to take their two young daughters shopping in Beverly Hills to buy school wardrobes for the children.

Collier's 12-year-old Martita, and Bob's daughter Cathy will be in the 8th grade together at Bishop school in La Jolla where Bob is on the board of trustees. Collier says his reason for sending Martita to Bishop is a plug for Bob's judgment and for his TV show "Father Knows Best."

At Margaret O'Brien's wedding reception a few weeks ago at the Kowloon I was introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, two very interesting people. Marion Miller, who worked as undercover agent for the FBI, will have her experiences and adventures written into a TV series this fall. She was decorated by President Eisenhower and J. Edgar Hoover for the great job she did against the Communists.

The Miller's two children, Paul, 10, and Betsy Lou, 8, have just been signed for the series. Coleen Gray plays Marion Miller, and this should make a very interesting series, as it is all factual.

"I SAY, NOTHING ...BUT NOTHING can match the new CASE® POWER-TILTING DOZER"

You'll say so, too, when you see it ditching, road-crowning and clearing trees. You just flip a lever to drop one corner of the rugged Case® TerraTrac® bulldozer blade by hydraulic power — and PRESTO! Knife-like blade tip slices through hardpan, frozen ground, and tree roots — "like butter". 5 crawler models — from 42 to 100 HP.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND $300,000.00 CUMBERLAND THRUWAY BONDS OF 1959

Sealed bids will be received by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, at the City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, until 10:00 o'clock A. M., E.D.S.T., on Tuesday, September 15, 1959, for the purchase of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00) Cumberland Thruway Bonds of 1959, issued pursuant to the authority of Ordinance No. 2105 of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, passed on the 15th day of June, 1959, in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each, numbered consecutively from One (1) to Three Hundred (300), both numbers inclusive, and maturing within a period of sixteen (16) years, in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth. The authority of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to pass said Ordinance No. 2105 was given said Mayor and City Council of Cumberland by subsection (e) of Section 81 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, as amended by Charter Amendment Resolution No. 4 of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, adopted pursuant to the authority contained in Article 11-E of the Constitution of Maryland and Chapter 423 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1955.

Said Bonds are dated September 1, 1959, and interest will be payable thereon March 1st and September 1st, in accordance with semi-annual interest coupons attached thereto. Both the principal and interest of said bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the time of payment at the office of the Treasurer of the City of Cumberland, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, upon presentation and surrender of the maturing bonds or coupons, as the case may be. The Bonds will not be subject to registration as to either principal or interest nor will they be subject to prior redemption.

Said Bonds will mature and be payable as follows:

BONDS NOS.	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT	DATE OF MATURITY
1— 20	$20,000.00	September 1, 1970
21— 60	40,000.00	September 1, 1971
61—110	50,000.00	September 1, 1972
111—170	60,000.00	September 1, 1973
171—230	60,000.00	September 1, 1974
231—300	70,000.00	September 1, 1975

Bidders are requested to specify in their bids the rate or rates of interest to be paid on the bonds on which rate or rates their bids are based and submitted. No rate so named shall exceed the annual rate of four and one-half percentum (4½%) per annum and each rate shall be in multiples of one-eighth of one percentum (⅛ of 1%). Bidders may not specify more than one rate of interest to be borne by any single series of said bonds but may name a different rate of interest for each maturity. Bidders may not bid less than par value and accrued interest to date of delivery, and no conditional bid shall be entertained. A bid conditioned upon approval of the bidder or of his council, named or unnamed, shall be deemed a conditional bid. Each of said bids shall state the amount of money per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) which the bidder will pay for said bonds.

The Bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid provides the lowest interest cost to the City, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of the premium bid, if any, from the aggregate amount of interes upon all of the bonds until their respective maturities. If two or more responsible bidders have made bids, each of which represents the lowest interest cost to the City, then such bonds may be awarded in a ratable portion among such bidders or the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland may, in its discretion, determine to which of said bidders said bonds will be awarded.

The right is reserved to the City to reject any or all bids.

Bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, and so marked on the outside as to indicate that it is a bid for the bonds hereby offered. Each bid must be accompanied by a Certified, Treasurer's or Cashier's Check on a responsible banking institution, in the amount of Seventy Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500.00), payable to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, to secure the City against any loss which might result from the failure of the particular bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the deposit. Checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them when the bonds are awarded to the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be credited on account of the total amount payable for said bonds.

Accrued interest shall be adjusted to the date of delivery of the bonds and the payment therefor. The bonds will be delivered to the purchasers at either Cumberland, Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, or New York, N. Y., without charge. Delivery elsewhere, however, will be made at the expense of the purchasers.

The bonds will be the unconditional obligation of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, issued upon its full faith and credit which will be irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on all of said bonds as the same fall due. The net proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds will be used for the purpose of fulfilling the obligations of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, in connection with the project commonly referred to as the "Cumberland Thruway", as set forth in a certain contract by and between the State Roads Commission of Maryland and the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, dated August 30, 1955, and any other contracts which may be executed in the future covering such projects or improving, constructing or relocating any municipal facilities which may be necessary in connection with said project, and for no other purpose or purposes.

Under existing laws, these bonds and the interest payable thereon, are exempt from all State, County and Municipal taxes in the State of Maryland, and the interest payable thereon is not taxable as income by the United States.

The legality of the issue will be approved by William R. Carscaden, Esq., City Solicitor of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, and Messrs. Clark, Smith and Prendergast of Baltimore, Maryland, and the approving opinions of these gentlemen will be delivered upon request to the purchaser of the bonds without additional charge.

At the time of the delivery the bonds will be accompanied by a description of supporting documents, together with the usual closing documents, including a certificate of the City to the effect that no litigation is pending or threatened, as of the date of such delivery, affecting or impairing the validity of said bonds.

Prospective bidders desiring financial data concerning the City of Cumberland may obtain the same upon request in writing to the undersigned.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND
Lucile Roeder,
Commissioner of Finance and Revenue

Adv.—N-T-Sept. 1.

Steels, Autos Post Gains In Generally Dull Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Strength in steel and auto shares highlighted a generally routine stock market session Monday.

Favorable investment advisitory comment on the steels and autos, along with speculation that a steel strike settlement may be in the offing, sparked demand for those stocks.

Ford, in particular, stood out with a gain of 3¾ points to a new top of 85¼ on the day's second most active trading. It was cited as a stock for action by a leading advisory service.

Studebaker, when issued, rose ¼ to 10¼ on the day's heaviest volume. The old Studebaker common rose ⅜ to 12¾, following Ford in the actives. American Motors rose a point, also in good volume, Chrysler 1c to 69c, General Motors ⅜ to 57⅝.

The steels scored improvement ranging to 4⅜ points in Youngstown, 2⅝ U.S. Steel, 2 each in Lukens and Continental, 1½ in Republic.

Of a total 1,152 issues traded, 478 were higher, 444 lower.

Trading picked up slightly on the late strength to total 2,140,000 shares, compared with 1,930,000 Friday.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were active and mixed Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to up ¾; corn off ⅜ to up 1; oats off ⅛; new oats off ¼ to up ⅜; rye unchanged to off 1 and soybeans off ⅛ to up ¼.

Nearby wheat futures were firm and the deferred contracts steady. There was only moderate liquidation of September by longs. Cash wheat was generally firm on small country movement. Some mill buying was reported, but the export trade continued quiet.

In corn, December dipped to a new low as cash houses lifted September hedges. Crop news was optimistic. Earlier, September led corn into a decline on moderate liquidation. September closed up 1 cent.

Export subsidies were granted on 930,000 bushels of corn. Other bids were rejected.

Oats were mixed. Cash houses bought September and sold March and May. Commission houses bought deferred contracts.

Rye weakened on liquidation. The Winnipeg Market was also weak, and the Canadian government crop report was about as expected.

Soybeans were quiet and closed steady. Export houses were buyers, and local traders did most of the selling. Meals were weak. The range:

Opening lead: Ten of ♣.

Even the tritest of deceptive plays will occasionally prove effective if tried early enough in the hand. Observe how South did it in today's small slam contract in hearts.

South won the opening club lead in his own hand with the ace and observed that the fate of the contract rested with a two-two trump break, which appeared to be slightly against the odds. He surveyed the situation with an eye to finding some means of increasing his chances, but there was no natural way.

Relying on the gullibility of an opponent, he chose to engineer a bit of sneak thievery. If either opponent held both a trump trick and the ace of diamonds the case was hopeless, but there was a slight chance if West held the ace of diamonds and East the trump trick. So he promptly led the six of diamonds. West declined to come up with the ace, for it did not appear to him that there was any real danger of declarer being able to obtain a discard upon anything in dummy.

When the queen held the trick, declarer played a heart to his king, cashed the two high spades in his hand and then crossed to dummy with the ace of hearts and discarded the king of diamonds on the king of spades.

Declarer's line of play involved very little risk. The danger of a ruff did not in any way measure up to the danger that hearts would break three-one. It would have been somewhat indelicate for declarer first to cash the ace and king of hearts, for this might have made it apparent to West that his partner held a trump trick so that ducking with the ace of diamonds would have been out of the question.

Water Rates Here Outside PSC Control

City Will Meet With Area Users

The Maryland Public Service Commission said yesterday it has no jurisdiction over the Cumberland Water Department.

The ruling was reported to the Associated Press in Baltimore by the commission, which advised it had received several letters from residents just outside Cumberland protesting a recent water rate ordinance.

In general, the PSC has jurisdiction over common carriers and all gas, electric, telephone, telegraph, water, heating and refrigerating companies operating within the state. It also has jurisdiction over privately-owned sewage disposal companies.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light, when informed of the ruling, confirmed that the commission has no jurisdiction over municipalities.

The new rates for water and for services provided by the Water Department go into effect today.

Last Friday, Leslie J. Clark, attorney for the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, ruled that the county has no legal authority in the action of the City of Cumberland to raise water rates for consumers outside the city.

He had been asked to rule on the matter by John J. Rowan, president of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, who said some action on the increases should be taken by the board, adding that perhaps a hearing could be asked before the Public Service Commission.

Receive Protest

The Mayor and Council received a formal protest to the new rate schedule yesterday in a letter from the Bedford Road Optimist Club.

Francis A. Warnick, president, said the members and officers of the club and property owners of the Bedford Road area and Baltimore Pike had gone on record as opposing the proposed new water rates.

He said the people of that area feel that a hearing with the Public Service Commission should be arranged to discuss the proposed increase.

Meetings Slated

The meetings, planned in City Hall at 7:30 p. m., will be held tonight for the Valley Road Water Company, Wednesday with the Ridgeley Water Company, Thursday with the Wiley Ford Water Company and Friday with the Cresaptown Water Company.

Commissioner Light met with LaVale Water Company officials Saturday afternoon, when details of the plan were discussed.

Commissioner Light indicated that if inequities are discovered during the conferences, he will recommend that correction be made.

VA Reports Educational Policy Change

The law relating to educational benefits for Korean veterans has recently been amended in a way that may benefit many Maryland veterans, according to Samuel Weston, representative in charge of the local Veterans Administration office.

Mr. Weston explains that Congress has clarified the meaning of the term, "change of program" as used in the basic law.

A veteran may now advance to higher educational programs without being charged with a "change in program" provided the first program is essential or generally required for entrance into the second.

As an example, Mr. Weston said, a veteran who applied for a program leading to a bachelor's degree may have previously taken a portion of a course to an entirely different objective. After receiving his bachelor's degree, the veteran applied for a course leading to a master's degree. The Veterans Administration denied the request because he had already had one change of program. Under the new law, however, Mr. Weston continued, this veteran may now reapply since the entrance into the course leading to his master's, need no longer be regarded as a "change of course."

Mr. Weston said any veteran who has been denied a change of program and believes his situation may be covered by this statement, should visit the VA office, Post Office Building and obtain full information.

It's No Longer A Gymnasium

This is what the old gymnasium at Allegany High School looks like today. Workmen of the John I. Vandegrift Company are converting the former gym for use as the new school library. The Allegany County Board of Education awarded the Vandegrift firm the $65,000 contract June 24. Work is expected to be complete between October 1 and 15. The new gymnasium, constructed just west of the old school, was completed last spring. The former gymnasium also will be utilized for a health suite and additional classroom facilities. The new school term will begin September 9.

Temperature Above Normal During August

Rainfall Here Also Over Average

If you thought it was warmer than usual last month you were right because temperatures ranged 3.1 degrees above normal in August.

The mean temperature for the month of August is 72.5 and the average reading here last month was 75.6, according to records kept by Robert G. Golden, official weather observer at Constitution Park.

Rainfall also was above normal here last month with a total of 4.52 inches recorded. The normal amount for the month is 3.48 inches.

Precipitation was measured by Mr. Golden on 11 days in August, while on three other days there appeared traces of rain.

The "above average" month of August still did not bring the total amount of rainfall for the year to its normal reading.

Only August and April of this year have had more than average rainfall. The normal total precipitation for the first eight months of the year here is 24.75 inches, but only 22.15 inches has been recorded here for the first two-thirds of the year.

June, which ic normally the wettest month of the year, only had 1.47 inches of rainfall. This was the fourth driest June on the records kept by Mr. Golden. Normal precipitation for June is 3.88 inches.

The month of September got off to a good start as far as rainfall is concerned. A hard downpour hit the city last night, dropping the temperature and bringing some relief to the warm and humid weather.

Mr. Golden noted that any rainfall after 7 a.m. on the last day of the month is recorded with the next month's total.

The weather forcast for today calls for considerable cloudiness, warm and humid weather. The high is expected to be about 84 degrees.

Some relief is expected to the long hot spell experienced here. The weather bureau predicts a cold front, now in the Great Lakes region, to move eastward and drop temperatures throughout this area.

Bartell Nabbed In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Nate Bartell, 42, Cincinnati, was taken into custody by police Monday on a warrant from Cumberland, Md. He will appear in police court Tuesday to answer a fugitive charge.

It was understood that Bartell is wanted in Cumberland for questioning in connection with an attempted burglary last Thursday. Bartell was quoted by Cincinnati officers as saying he knew nothing about any robbery or attempted robbery in Cumberland. He was arrested in a saloon.

Three men — Albert (Sammy) Wright, 42, and Charles Issacs, 32, both of Newport, Ky., and Andrew Joe Forkes, 51, Phoenix, Ariz. —were arrested in Cumberland last Thursday night. They were charged with conspiring to attempt to break into the store with intent to steal.

Police seized them outside a store. A fourth man escaped in an automobile.

Last year during the same month a total of 274 licenses were issued.

NANCY LEE WALKLEY

Will Attend Valparaiso U. In Indiana

Nancy Lee Walkley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walkley, 421 Chestnut Street, has been accepted for admission to Valparaiso (Ind.) University this month.

Miss Walkley, a graduate of Allegany High School, will enroll in the Colllege of Arts and Sciences.

Approximately 950 new students are expected for the fall term, over 800 beginning freshmen. Anticipated enrollment may reach 2,450 students at the Lutheran university located 45 miles southeast of Chicago in northwestern Indiana.

3,397 State Drivers Lose Licenses

BALTIMORE (AP) — Although Maryland's new point system for drivers doesn't go into effect until January, the Department of Motor Vehicles is finding another weapon handy in cracking down on reckless drivers.

Michael A. Noppinger, deputy director of the DMV, said Monday the publication of the names of drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked has strengthened the enforcement program.

"When you know your next-door neighbor is aware you've lost your license, you'll think twice before driving illegally," he said.

Also, Noppinger reasoned, in smaller communities "where the police know everyone" it gives officers an edge in keeping track of illegal drivers.

Under the point system enacted by the Legislature, the DMV will be able to revoke licenses for 14 offenses starting in January. Also, a motorist can lose his license when the points charged against him for each minor ofefnse reach a prescribed level.

Noppinger disclosed that the department revoked the licenses of 3,397 Maryland drivers during the first six months of this year and suspended the driving privileges of 2,834 others. In addition, 12,753 drivers were reprimanded.

Penn State Alumnus Begins Training For Forestry Duties

Henry Hartman, 22, of New Hope, Pa., is getting training as an assistant district forester in Garrett County, William H. Johnson, district forester, said yesterday.

A graduate of Penn State University, Mr. Hartman is getting practical experience and is working with Clinton Irwin, of Grantsville, assistant district forester of Garrett County.

The trainee will get experience in preparing management plans, examining timber and marking it for cutting.

After about two months of training, Mr. Hartman will be transferred to another section of the state, said Mr. Johnson.

Boy, 3, Shot In Head With BB Pellet

Gun Confiscated By City Police

A three-year-old local boy was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday afternoon after a shot fired by a BB rifle lodged in his head.

City police identified the victim as Dwight Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Davis, rear of 821 Shade's Lane.

The lad was reported in good condition last night and police said they were told surgery is scheduled today to remove the BB shot.

Detective Thomas J. See, who investigated, said the shot was fired by Gerald G. Weimer, 16, of 1001 Shade's Lane.

Det. See said the Fort Hill High School student said he did not see anybody when he fired the shot from an alley about 3 p. m.

The gunshot victim was standing along a hedge on Shade's Lane with several other small boys.

The BB gun was confiscated by city police, who released the Weimer youth in custody of his parents.

The accident was the latest development of a continuing campaign waged by the Cumberland Police Department against the use of BB guns.

About 50 of the weapons were destroyed by the Police Department some time ago.

Det. See commented that he had "preached and preached" to the kids and that "it finally happened."

Cabin Open House Season Will End

The Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that tomorrow will be the last day it will keep Washington's Cabin open for visitors this season.

The shrine located in Riverside Park will be open Wednesday from 1 to 5 p. m., with Miss Marilyn Hevel, a member of the C of C office staff, as hostess.

The Chamber sponsored weekly opening of the city's top historical landmark early in June for the benefit of citizens and tourists. Weekly attendance has ranged from 20 to 70 persons.

REV. JERRY BRUBAKER

Evangelist To Speak Here

Evangelist Jerry Brubaker and the "King's Ambassadors," of Lancaster, Pa., will be the guest speaker and musicians at the fall rally of the Tri-State Youth for Christ.

The rally will be held Saturday at 7:45 p. m. at 115 North Mechanic Street.

Rev Brubaker began speaking at meetings of the Child Evangelism Fellowship when he was 12 years old. He graduated from Lancaster School of Bible in 1958 and won the first teen-age preaching contest sponsored by Youth for Christ International.

The "King's Ambassadors" will share the musical program with the YFC choir and will present vocal and instrumental music. Members of the quartet are James Weaver, Harold Buckwalter, Donald Stetter and Alva Buhler.

Bridge Work Nears Completion

Crews of the Whiting-Turner Company are placing the steel railings on the Wiley Ford Bridge across the Potomac River and are expected to wrap up the repair project this week. Work, which included a new timber floor and new railings, began on August 3 and was scheduled to be completed in 35 days. This view, taken from the West Virginia side of the span, shows the deck in place and a considerable amount of railing up. Cost of the project is $24,925.

Dowell Named Assistant To Kelly Firm President

J. CARSON DOWELL

J. Carson Dowell has been appointed assistant to the president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, effective at once, according to an announcement by George B. Newman, president.

Mr. Dowell came to Kelly as assistant sales manager in August, 1954, from the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and has held this position until his present appointment. Prior to joining Kelly, he held various sales positions in Goodyear over a period of 19 years of service.

A graduate of Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo., Mr. Dowell was assistant to the treasurer and an instructor of accounting there for two years prior to joining Goodyear.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowell and their four children reside at 835 Braddock Road in Cumberland. They are active members of the Presbyterian Church, members of the Cumberland Country Club and take an active part in various community affairs.

Catch Basin Crew Will Be Set Up

Duties Assigned To 3-Man Unit

The City of Cumberland is setting up a three-man crew whose sole function will be to clean, maintain, repair and replace catch basins.

The catch basin crew is being set up by Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, at the request of Street Commissioner John J. Long.

The crew will be charged with complete responsibility for all of the city's some 1,300 catch basins and appurtenances.

It will be furnished with a truck and a catch basin cleaner, which will be used on a year-around basis.

The crew will work under the immediate supervision of James Shaw, sewer maintenance foreman, and the general supervision of Mr. Blaney.

City officials said they feel that by maintaining catch basins in a systematic manner it will be possible to eliminate many of the complaints which arise when water backs up in basements after heavy rains.

Another duty of the crew will be to repair existing storm water catch basins and to build new ones as lines are extended.

Keeping the catch basins clean, Mr. Blaney added, will also alleviate odors which occur when the basins are clogged with debris.

Another benefit will be the lessening of the load of debris which must be removed from the grit chamber at the city's sewage treatment plant.

Basins must be cleaned after each heavy rain in some sections of the city.

Mr. Blaney said Commissioner Long feels that the crew will perform a valuable service.

4-H All Stars Attend Meeting

An Allegany County delegation attended the 4-H All Stars Interstate Conference which was held this past weekend at the National 4-H Center, Chevy Chase.

James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent, and Miss Brunhilde Seidel, summer trainee in the office of county home demonstration office here, attended,

County All-Stars who attended include Miss Patty King, Louisiana Avenue, who was named an All Star this year, Ruth Perrin and Mrs. Nina Bender, of Flintstone, and Mrs. Dorothy Grimes of 568 Patterson Avenue.

CUF Workers Are Ahead On Golden Gifts

Report Meeting Slated Tomorrow

With Golden Gifts continuing to run 15 per cent ahead of last year, and with more than 15 per cent of their goals already in hand, Lewis J. Ort and William E. Crooks, co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts division of the County United Fund, last night were jubliant over the performance of their team captains and workers.

The Golden Gifts goal is $118,000. More than $18,000 has already been reported and it is obvious, the co-chairmen stated, that the Golden U. Club will be as successful as it has been during the past two CUF campaigns. A gift of $100 or more is necessary to qualify for membership.

Golden Gift cards are being signed this year with gift pens—a present from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company to each member of the Golden U. Club.

The records of the GG Division are a tribute to the generosity of those who have been a little more fortunate than some of their neighbors, Mr. Ort and Mr. Crooks said last night. Five of the members of the Golden U. Club have contributed $5,000 or more toward the support of 31 participating services in 31 communities of Allegany and Mineral counties during the past year, they pointed out.

Twenty-four contributed $1,000 or more. More than 60 topped the $500 mark. And 130 rang the bell with $250 and over.

The first report meeting of the GG Division will be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 at the Cumberland Country Club. Shooting for early conclusion of their campaign, Mr. Ort and Mr. Crooks urged all captains and workers to complete their assignments as soon as possible.

Brothers Jailed On Motor Counts

Two local brothers were committed to Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of fines imposed on motor vehicle violations.

Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti fined Robert E. Wilson, 20, of 142 Polk Street, $100 for the unlawful use of a motor vehicle and $10 for operating a vehicle without a license. He was committed to jail for 30 days.

His brother, Daniel S. Wilson, 21, was fined $50 by Magistrate Carpenti for assisting in the unlawful taking of an auto. He also was committed to jail for 30 days.

Motorist Given Jail Term For Manslaughter

John W. Haines Is Fined $100

John Wilbur Haines, 43, of Shanks, W. Va., was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $100 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle in the death of Riley Jennings Hannas, 63, also of Shanks, who was fatally injured in a one-car crash July 27 in Romney, W. Va.

He was tried before A. L. Russell, justice of the peace of Romney, who said the man's term in jail will begin on September 15, due to his physical condition.

Haines was admitted to Hampshire Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in the crash. He was confined to the hospital for a period of time and released.

However his physician advised that the man begin his jail term later this month due to his physical condition.

The accident occurred when Haines crashed into a tree on Main Street in Romney. Both men were admitted to the hospital where Hannas died the following day.

State Police Sgt. R. R. Karickhoff, who investigated, said Haines apparently lost control of the car and rammed into a large tree in front of the home of Earl Edgell.

The tree, which measured more than two feet in diameter, was torn out by its roots, Sgt. Karickhoff said.

Maryland Coed Named Queen Of State Fair

TIMONIUM, Md (AP)—A petite University of Maryland coed was named queen of the Maryland State Fair Monday night and will begin her reign after a coronation next Sunday.

Miss Allie Lee Boice, 18, of Hall, Prince Georges County, was picked from among 23 farm girls representing each of Maryland's counties. The 5-foot-3 queen, with brown eyes and short-cut auburn hair, wore a blue and white cotton dress with a full skirt as she paraded before the panel of three judges.

A sophomore at the university this fall, majoring in elementary education, Miss Boice won a four-year scholarship and a silver cup. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boice, who raise tobacco and Hereford beef cattle on their 100-acre farm.

Fair officials said it was not a beauty contest. The girls were judged on general appearance, poise and personality and home, farm and community activities.

Chosen her attendants, in order of ranking with cash prizes, were:

Lois Richardson, 18, Sudlersville, Queen Annes County, $100; Peggy Hflin, 17, Woodsboro, Frederick County, $75; Pat Agee, 16, Westminster, Carroll County, $50; and Ruth Ann Smith, 16, White Hall, Harford County, $35.

Chinese Army Unit Reportedly Invades Bhutan

400 Troops Said To Occupy Area

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A force of nearly 400 armed Red Chinese was reported Monday night to have invaded the Himalayan state of Bhutan, a protectorate of India, and occupied several square miles of territory.

The report from usually well-informed sources in Darjeeling, in the foothills just southwest of Bhutan, said the Chinese entered from Tibet through the Ha Valley within the last two days. An earlier report said Bhutan's forces had repulsed a Red Chinese detachment.

A Red Chinese patrol was reported also to have crossed into the adjoining protectorate state of Sikkim and to have been arrested by police.

Large concentrations of heavily armed Chinese were said to be maneuvering along the Bhutan and Sikkim borders, giving rise to alarming rumors.

Nehru Rejects Use Of Force

The reports, which were not confirmed by officials here, came only a few hours after Nehru had made clear that he had no intention of going to war with Red China over some bits of jungle real estate in northern India.

Asked by angry members of Parliament what the government proposed to do about Communist incursions into two Indian border areas, Nehru told the legislators:

"Send more reminders. We hope this will be settled by discussions and conferences, and we do not propose to go to war."

This was in contrast to his statement Friday that India had "no alternative but to defend our borders" and that "any aggression against Bhutan and Sikkim will be considered an aggression against India."

Bombing Suggestion Rejected

Nehru rejected a suggestion that the Indian air force bomb a road which the Communists have built across the northeast corner of Ladakh, high in the Himalayas in the north western state of Kashmir.

"A mile or two of wild and uninhabited territory does not matter very much," he said. "But it does matter if a treaty is broken or ignored."

Nehru thus drew a distinction between Ladakh and the Chinese aggression into the Northeast Frontier Agency, 1,000 miles to the southeast, where the Communists seized the border post of Longju. One Indian border guard was killed, two more are prisoners and six are still missing in a Chinese border raid on Aug. 25 near Longju.

CHURCH HERMIT — This is 28-year-old Cheng Guan Lim, a Chinese student from Singapore, as he appeared yesterday groomed and shaven for a press conference at Ann Arbor, Mich. Sunday he was found living in the attic of the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor. He went into hiding in 1955 when, failing as a student at the University of Michigan, feared he would lose face. He hadn't spoken to anyone in four years until Sunday.

Student, 28, Who Hid Four Years Begins New Life

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A bewildered Chinese student, who hid four years because he was ashamed to live and afraid to die, stepped out into a bright, new world Monday.

Long self-imprisonment in the dusty attic of Ann Arbor's First Methodist church ended Sunday for Cheng Guan Lim. He said it started because he couldn't face failing grades, a family difference, and empty pockets.

The 28-year-old former University of Michigan student, amazingly healthy despite his ordeal, met Monday with newsmen and cameramen. He still weighed approximately his normal 135 pounds.

Just before he unraveled an almost unbelievable account of four years in a self-made prison, Cheng learned of the death of his father, Un Tien Lim, teacher in a Singapore Methodist mission school.

Cheng's family and friends in Singapore were delighted to learn he is alive—taken from his hermit-like existence by private police investigating church reports of prowlers.

Cheng fought off tears and grasped for every word at his news conference.

Cheng had not seen his father for eight years, since the son left Singapore in 1951 to attend Albion (Mich.) College. A year later he transferred to the University of Michigan.

Finding no wrongdoing, police released him to custody of Robert Klinger, university counsellor to foreign students.

Enoch Pratt Library Director Succumbs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arthur H Parsons Jr., director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore for two years, died of a heart attack Sunday night while vacationing in Shapleigh, Maine.

Parsons came here in June of 1957 after seven years as director of the Omaha (Neb.) Public Library. He entered his profession in 1938 with the New York City Public Library and headed libraries in Swampscott and Brocton, Mass., before going to Omaha.

Parents Of Youth Hunted As 'Fagins' In Theft Spree

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A father and mother of seven were hunted Monday on charges they masterminded shoplifting sprees by one of their children.

Juvenile officer Si Bolger said Gary admitted 600 shoplifting trips in the last two years and estimated his parents had made $4,000 this year alone selling stolen articles.

"It's the most fantastic case I ever heard of," said Bolger, who described Gary as a "clean-cut lad and well mannered."

The four younger children are believed traveling with the father and mother, Kenneth Myers, 39, and Dolores, 41, in an automobile house trailer. They left a residence they had occupied in suburban Lakeside within the last five or six days.

They are charged in arrest warrants with burglary and receiving stolen property. Mrs. Myers is also charged with contributing to the delinquency of Gary. Officers said he had a list made out by his mother of things he was to steal when he was arrested in a department store Aug. 14.

He said his father or mother would wait in the family car in a parking lot for him to bring the stolen articles. The father is a former security guard at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Nonoperating Rail Workers Ask Pay Hike

Unions' Spokesman Says Strike Could Result November 2

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven unions announced Monday a joint demand on the railroad industry for a 25-cent hourly pay boost and improved welfare benefits for over 600,000 nonoperating rail workers.

George E. Leighty, spokesman for the unions, said a nationwide rail strike probably will take place Nov. 2 if the carriers keep insisting that present three-year contracts don't run out Nov. 1.

Leighty contended the agreements clearly specify they expire on Nov. 1 but railroads have contested this, he said, in discussions relating to holiday and vacation improvements requested earlier by the same union group.

Industry Spokesmen Silent

Rail industry spokesmen here and in Chicago declined comment.

The term nonoperating workers is applied to the railroad employes, such as clerks and mechanics, who do not operate trains. Leighty said the demands for a 25-cent hourly pay boost and welfare plan improvements will be served on the railroads Tuesday. The non operating unions already have filed requests for holiday and vacation improvements.

The demands for holiday-vacation changes, Leighty said, were met by a rail management counter demand for a five-cents an hour wage cut. He said the nonop workers presently average about $2.30 per hour.

Trainmen Ask 12-14% Hike

Unions representing operating rail workers—the trainmen, conductors, etc.—have asked for a 12 to 14 per cent wage increase. Rail management demanded a 15-cent wage cut.

The carriers have demanded a thorough overhaul of pay practices. They claim that featherbedding, meaning pay required for no work, costs the industry about a half billion dollars a year. The unions have disputed this, maintaining the rail industry is one of the most productive.

Vance, AEC Member, Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Harold S. Vance, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission since 1955, died Monday afternoon at Walter Reed Army Medical Center from acute pneumonia following an abdominal operation.

Vance, 69, was serving a term ending June 30, 1960. His specialty was the industrial application of atomic energy.

Notified of Vance's death, Chairman John A. McCone said the AEC would sorely miss the industrial expert.

"Even more," he said in a statement, "each member of the commission has lost a close, valuable friend. We will long remember and be indebted for his work in formulating and putting into effect the programs of the commission over the past four years."

A native of Port Huron, Mich., Vance was chairman of the Executive Committee of the Studebaker-Packard Corp., before assuming the AEC post.

China Reports 2,334 Typhoon Casualties

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communists said Tuesday 2,334 persons were killed, injured or left missing by Typhoon Iris. The storm hit the coast of Fukien province, opposite Formosa, Aug. 20.

The Communist New China News Agency said the typhoon killed 720 persons, injured 618 and the fate of 996 others still is unknown. This contrasted sharply with the agency's Aug. 24 report that 12 persons were killed and eight injured.

The same area was hit again Sunday by Typhoon Joan. The Red agency said that according to preliminary reports 3 persons were killed, 57 injured and 6 missing.

It reported that 50,000 homes around the city of Foochow were evacuated when Joan struck. The agency said 774 houses were destroyed and 7,784 more damaged.

Fireside Chat From 10 Downing Street

President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan (right) are shown in informal pose at 10 Downing Street in London last night. In this setting in the prime minister's residence, the two conducted a fireside chat which was televised for 20 minutes throughout Europe. The two leaders spoke out for peaceful negotiations and indicated they are ready for a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev under favorable conditions. (AP Photofax)

Senate Leaders Take Dim View Of Recess Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic and Republican leaders threw cold water Monday on a proposal by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) that Congress take a recess while Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is in this country.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) said he would consider Smathers suggestion. But he made it plain he had little enthusiasm for the idea.

"We must all realize that we were elected to come up here and do a job and my view is that we ought to stay here and do that job," Johnson said. He added that "my present feeling is that we ought to stay here" until needed legislation is out of the way.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) agreed that "the appropriate thing is to stay here until we get the job done."

Smathers proposed Saturday that Congress recess from next Friday until Oct. 15. He said this would permit the lawmakers to dodge the ticklish question of whether to invite Khrushchev to address Congress during his forthcoming visit.

Johnson listed among the "must" legislation still awaiting congressional action this year such items as labor reform, highway financing, civil rights, and surplus farm commodities.

Conferees Making Last-Ditch Effort To Save Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees hunted desperately Monday for a way to solve their deadlock over three key points in the labor control bill.

It was an 11th-hour effort to keep the angry issue from spilling back onto the Senate floor where one conferee said the entire bill aimed at curbing labor union corruption might be endangered.

The last-ditch bid for a compromise was made by Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) on behalf of conference committee members supporting the original House version—a somewhat more stringent bill than the Senate passed.

Senate and House Democrats supporting the Senate bill considered Griffin's proposals without reaching a firm decision at a morning session.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a chief sponsor of the Senate bill, said his side could not accept the Griffin proposals as written.

Griffin's proposals—he called them adjustments rather than concessions—dealt with no man's land labor cases, secondary boycotts and organizational picketing. A major sticking point here is how to handle consumer picketing, a form of secondary boycott conducted by some unions.

The House bill, cosponsored by Griffin and Rep. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga), carries tougher language on these points than the Senate version.

While the conferees struggled to find a mutually acceptable formula, the Senate held fire on consideration of two rival resolutions in which its conferees were seeking new instructions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois filed one of the resolutions, asking the Senate to instruct its conferees to accept the wording of the House bill on the three remaining disputed points.

Kennedy then put in a resolution asking different instructions. Kennedy's resolution contains provisos he said should be added to the House language to protect what he said are labor's legitimate rights.

Quake Probable Death Toll 28

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP) — Thirteen more persons were listed Monday by Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt as missing and probably killed in Montana's earthquakes two weeks ago, bringing the probable death toll to 28.

Only nine bodies have been recovered.

Previously the sheriff and the Red Cross, which began keeping the list of persons unreported, had counted six as missing.

Dr. Merle Edgerton and his wife, Edna, Coalinga, Calif.

Harmon Woods and his wife, also of Coalinga.

Robert J. Williams, his wife and three children, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

The bodies of any persons killed in the quake are buried beneath the big slide across the Madison River at Rock Creek campground, which officials have decided not to move. No attempt will be made to try to recover the bodies.

House Approves Coal Research Agency Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House gave final approval Monday to a bill setting up a new Federal Coal Research and Development Commission.

The bill, approved by the Senate last Tuesday, was a compromise between varying versions which previously had been passed by the two chambers.

The compromise retained House language making the new commission an independent agency. It would be under the Interior Department but for housekeeping purposes only.

The purpose of the commission would be to encourage and stimulate production and conservation of coal.

Khrushchev Believes Ike Is Man Of Peace

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared in a speech published Monday that he believed President Eisenhower to be a man of peace.

Khrushchev said he is quite satisfied with the President's Aug. 25 statement that the forthcoming meetings between the two leaders should help melt the cold war ice.

Goodyear, URW Agree On Wage Hike 'Package'

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) —Negotiators for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. and the United Rubber Workers Union (URW) reached agreement on a new general wage settlement Monday, ending the threat of walkout by 23,000 workers in 11 cities.

The settlement, which calls for an across-the-board pay raise "package" of 10 cents an hour, was reached four hours before a midnight strike deadline.

The agreement covers workers at Goodyear plants in Akron and St. Marys, Ohio; Gadsden, Ala.; Los Angeles; Jackson, Mich.; Muncie, Ind.; Lincoln, Neb.; Windsor, Vt.; New Bedford, Mass.; Topeka, Kan., and North Chicago, Ill.

The settlement must be ratified by the URW's Executive Board and a majority of the union's membership.

The agreement ended negotiations that began Aug. 18 and grew more tense as the deadline approached. It is expected to set the pattern for wage settlements with the other members of the rubber industry's "big four," U.S. Rubber, the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and the B. F. Goodrich Co.

Goodyear was the only one of the four companies to escape a strike by the URW earlier this year over contracts covering fringe benefits and master working agreements.

Negotiations between the URW and Firestone opened here Monday while talks with Goodrich began in Canton, Ohio, Monday. The Firestone talks cover 18,500 workers in eight plants and the Goodrich bargaining involves 15,000 employes in eight plants. Both pacts expire Sept. 11.

Similar wage talks are continuing at Cincinnati between the union and the U.S. Rubber Co. That contract, covering 26,000 workers in 19 cities, expires at midnight Sept. 6.

Fireside Chat By Leaders Is Televised

Eisenhower Favors Summit Conference If Khrush Sincere

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, in a televised two-man fireside chat, spoke out Monday night for peaceful negotiations and indicated they are ready for a summit meeting under favorable conditions.

"Peace," said the President, "is the imperative of our time."

"We are up against the biggest job in the world, how to keep peace and justice," the Prime Minister said.

They confined themselves to general statements about the awesome problem of preventing nuclear war and did not reveal any details of the conversations they have been holding in England for three days.

Eisenhower and Macmillan spoke in the informal setting of a drawing room at No. 10 Downing St., the Prime Minister's official residence.

The telecast bringing together the leaders of two major powers was unprecedented. It lasted 20 minutes and was carried throughout Europe.

Summit Prospects Discussed

Eisenhower and Macmillan quickly came to the question of another summit conference.

Macmillan consistently insists one should be held. He reiterated that belief and told the President:

"I think your visits to these three European capitals and the interchange of visits that you are going to make with Mr. Khrushchev are very sound contributions to peace."

Eisenhower replied:

"Peace is an imperative and we must all understand that. And indeed if we are to have a summit, I am sure of this—Mr. Khrushchev must understand that exactly as you and I do. If he does things that show he recognizes that just as you and I do, then I think a summit meeting could be profitable."

In effect, the President and Prime Minister ended their conversations Monday, although they will see each other again before Eisenhower leaves for Paris Wednesday.

Franco Invites Ike To Spain

In related developments Monday:

1. Generalissimo Franco of Spain invited Eisenhower to visit Spain whenever convenient. The Spanish leader also told the President, in a letter containing the invitation, that he fully supports Eisenhower's personal -diplomacy effort to find solutions to cold war problems.

2. Eisenhower and Macmillan have agreed on a crash program to find a new approach to the problem of disarmament, qualified sources said. Diplomats who attended some of the meetings between the two leaders said each is issuing secret orders to nuclear experts to draft new proposals and to have them ready to present to the Soviets early in 1960.

3. On the question of another summit conference, these informants said, the decision now is to await the outcome of the exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The Soviet chief is scheduled to go to Washington Sept. 15 and Eisenhower will re-

N.Y. Police Act To Stem Teen-Age Terror Wave

NEW YORK (UPI) —A teen-aged boy turned two 7-year - old boys into human torches Monday.

Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy immediately stepped in to stem the wave of juvenile violence in New York by sending a 1,400-man police task force into the streets to battle teen-aged terrorists.

Kennedy called a news conference at the end of nine days in which four teen-agers were killed by young toughs and a number were injured.

About a score of slayings have occurred during the summer juvenile crime wave and nearly 40 persons have been injured.

Kennedy hastily called the news conference after a day in which two Puerto Rican boys suffered serious burns when they were doused with cleaning fluid as they played in a tenement and two alleged young killers in another case were nearly mobbed.

A 17-year-old boy was seized for questioning in the human torch case.

A few hours earlier an angry crowd had gathered outside a police station in Hell's Kitchen, a block from the Broadway theater district. The crowd shouted insults at four street toughs charged with killing two 16-year-old boys on a playground.

Police said all the boys involved in Monday's violence were Puerto Ricans.

Michale Ramos and Alvin Fernandez were playing with other youngsters on the third floor of an empty five-story building when they were set afire.

Police said the children were gathering candles to use in a clubroom they had taken over in the building.

Earlier patrolmen were forced to form a guard around a station wagon carrying two of the four boys charged with homicide in Hell's Kitchen neighborhood when the crowd converged on the car.

Police said the crowd, apparently friends and relatives of the dead boys, Anthony Krezesinski and Robert Young, tried to storm the vehicle after shouting threats and epithets at the prisoners.

Those booked on homicide charges were identified as Jose (French) Cordero, 18; Francisco (Baboo Charlie) Curz, 17; Rogelio (Lowie) Soto, 17, and Nestor Hernandez, 16.

Khrush Making U.S. Visit Family Affair

Premier Accepts Eisenhower's Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government announced officially Monday—"with pleasure" — that Nikita Khrushchev has accepted President Eisenhower's invitation to bring his family on his trip to America.

The Soviet Premier will bring his wife, both daughters, his son and one son-in-law — the whole family except for the second son-in-law.

The group is expected to stay at the President's guest house, the old mansion known as Blair House across Pennsylvania avenue from the White House, during at least part of the visit.

The son-in-law, Alexei Abzhubei might stay with other Soviet correspondents covering the trip. Abzhubei is editor of the Soviet state newspaper Izvestia.

U.S. and Soviet negotiators were figuring out how to fit a possible Khrushchev meeting with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee into the schedule. Officials said it was doubtful it could be arranged.

Washington police are preparing to turn out their biggest force for such an occasion since the visit of Queen Elizabeth in 1957.

U.S. authorities were particularly pleased that Khrushchev's wife is coming. She has favorably impressed Americans who have seen her with what they feel is her comparative open-hearted interest in the United States.

A main point in having Khrushchev here is to clear up misconceptions he may have about this country and it is hoped Mrs. K. will be a good influence in this respect.

The Soviets normally give out very little about their family lives. As a result, there was uncertainty here on the names of the family members and their spellings.

Here in brief is the latest approximate biographical information available on those making the trip:

Nina Petrovna Khrushchev, the wife, is in her late 50s (her husband is 65). She has been described as a solid, strong-looking, pleasant woman.

The present Mrs. Khrushchev is the Soviet leader's second wife. His first, the mother of all four children, died of natural causes in 1938. Khrushchev remarried soon after.

Daughter Julia Nikitichna, in her early 40s, married to Victor Petrovich Gontar, Kiev Opera House director. Gontar is not scheduled to make the trip.

Daughter Rada Nikitichna, about 30, married to Abzhubei who is in his 30s. Rada is said to have a fair knowledge of English.

Khrushchev's son Sergei, 24, is an electrical engineer who also speaks English fairly well. He accompanied his father to England in 1956.

Another son, Leonid, was a World War II pilot who was killed in combat.

TFC To View Potomac Fishing Problems

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Tidewater Fisheries Commission will visit Southern Maryland this week for a first-hand look at some Potomac River fishing problems.

Chairman H. C. Byrd said objections of Charles and St.Marys County watermen to a new Potomac River compact with Virginia will also be aired at the Wednesday night meeting in Leonardtown and the Thursday night session at Glasva High School.

Southern Maryland watermen instigated the move to place the new Potomac River Compact on the 1960 election ballot for rejection or approval by Maryland voters. This has kept the freshly ratified treaty from taking effect, and the new TFC is yet to take a stand publicly for or against the treaty.

Mao Squelches High Level Red Policy Revolt

TOKYO (AP) — Widespread rebellion against Mao Tze-tung's peasant communes and economic goals is raging in Red China and some of it may be in the highest levels of the Communist party.

Red Flag, biweekly magazine of the Chinese Communist party Central Committee, admitted the revolt Monday and announced a nationwide campaign to squelch the critics whom it called "rightist opportunists."

This indicated that if there was revolt in the party's high command, Mao had won out.

The magazine said party workers were among the critics, and hinted that the opposition may be in the Central Committee itself, although it did not say so.

Red Flag said "Marxists-Leninists always repudiate the notion that revolution is something which a handful of people in private work out a formula and then order the masses to act in accordance."

The "handful of people" could refer to members of the Central Committee, the policy-making body.

Red Flag said "in the process of our leap forward and switch to people's communes, enemy elements hostile to our country's Socialist cause, both inside and outside our land, raised wave after wave of howls and clamors.

"When the control figures — goals — of the second five-year plan were published, the imperialists and enemy elements within the country insisted these figures were 'unrealistic.' They have been trying in vain to shake our confidence with such talk."

Calling the opposition's maneuvers "criminal activity," Red Flag said "the party and people throughout the country will undoubtedly struggle resolutely to overcome such right opportunist ideas."

Lo Jui-ching, head of the Red Chinese secret police, already has warned of increased opposition to the regime and ordered his aides to track down opponents, saboteurs and subverters.

State Traffic Deaths 5% Higher Than 1958

BALTIMORE (AP) — Traffic deaths on Maryland highways through July were running 5 per cent higher than the figure for a comparable period last year.

The State Police traffic division reported Monday that 299 fatalities have occurred in 1959.

However, State Police noted that pedestrian deaths for the seven-month period this year were down 6 per cent.

The personal injury total during July was 1,828, or 59 traffic injuries every day.

During July, Somerset County led all other Maryland counties with six traffic deaths.

turn the visit at an unspecified date in the autumn.

4. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Macmillan, who visited Khrushchev last winter, has given Eisenhower some extremely helpful information on what to expect in talking with Khrushchev.

5. The same sources said no fresh plans for solving the dangerous problem of Berlin developed in the conversations.

Before the extraordinary telecast, a British Foreign Office spokeesman told more than 400 corrspondents, including Soviet reporters in London, he expected the TV meeting would be "wholly newsworthy."

It did not turn out to be that.

But it did reflect the basic positions that Eisenhower and Macmillan have taken on some of the great questions haunting the world. And it reflected the principles on which they propose to operate in the continuing discussions with the Soviets.

Ike's Golf Swing Draws Criticism

LONDON (AP) — President Eisenhower, the first to admit he's no Ben Hogan, Monday awoke to a public analysis of his golf swing—and a critical one.

A gossip writer for the London Daily Telegraph called on a golf expert to study a published photograph of Eisenhower practicing golf at Chequers.

This was the verdict:

"The President's stance and swing are inclined to be upright but subject to that, the clubhead is as it ought to be.

"His feet are closer together for a drive than the purists prescribe. The left shoulder has come round well, but the hop movement is not complete.

"The right elbow, which should be close to the right side, is projected a little. Finally, it would also appear that the left arm is bent."

Employment Drops In Md.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Employment in Maryland fell 15,400 to 1,039,100 during July, the first drop since last January. Unemployment also declined slightly, however.

The Department of Employment Security said Monday the employment loss was largely seasonal and included such personnel as school teachers. Most of it was in the Baltimore metropolitan area.

Robert B. Kimble, DES executive director, attributed the rise in unemployment to students and others just entering the labor market in June who swelled the ranks of the unemployed but found jobs in the meantime.

An employment drop in trade and smaller losses in transportation and utility and transportation equipment manufacturing followed normal seasonal patterns, the department said. The biggest decline was in government employment and a reduction in service employment — including the school teachers — also was large.

A decline in agricultural employment was greater than seasonal as the July drought reduced harvesting activity.

"The steel strike was a factor," the department reported, "only to the extent that steel producers cut payrolls in anticipation of the strike, and to the extent of secondary effects in a scattering of other industries."

The 28,100 striking steel workers in the Baltimore area were counted among the employed during July, under U. S. Department of Labor standards, and will be placed in an "on strike" category for August.

Frederick Co. 4-H Girls Win At Fair

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — The Frederick County 4-H Club girls walked off with the first blue ribbon as the 78th Maryland State Fair opened Monday.

The girls, using "Homemaking and Decorating" as their theme, were awarded first prize for their booth in the Exhibition Hall.

Fair officials said attendance on opening day was 12,655, despite the damp, cloudy weather. Attendance on opening day last year, a Saturday, was 23,517 but the turnout on a comparable Monday last year was 8,433.

Despite morning showers, a fairly good crowd was on hand as Baltimore County's chief executive, Christian H. Kahl, cut the ribbon opening the fair shortly before noon.

Kahl and other county officials lunched with fair officials and then attended the races a t the half-mile track.

The damp weather caused one postponement. Judging of draft horses was put off until Tuesday.

Three Injured In Two Fiery Truck Crashes

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Two men were injured, one seriously, when an oil truck collided with a tractor-trailer and burst into flames Monday near here.

Daniel T. Myers, 45, of Martinsville, Va., was in serious condition at Washington County Hospital, Hagerstown, Md., with multiple fractures.

His brother, James M. Myers, 35, of Danville, Va., was admitted to the same hospital with minor injuries.

State Police said Daniel Myers was pinned behind the wheel of the tractor-trailer after it collided with the oil truck on U.S. 11 between Martinsburg and Williamsport, Md. His brother managed to get out of the cab without assistance.

Police said the truck rounded a curve, jack-knifed and collided with an oil truck driven by Russell C. Trone, 47, of Hanover, Pa. Trone escaped uninjured before his truck burst into flames.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A collision of two tractor-trailer trucks set one afire Monday and tied up traffic on busy U.S. 40 for hours.

One driver's feet were crushed when the wheels of the huge rig rolled over them.

The injured driver, John Pinkhart, 41, of Columbia, S.C., told police he was standing beside his disabled truck at the side of the highway when the other truck struck it.

Police said the impact ignited the gasoline tank of the moving vehicle, loaded with furniture. The driver, Harold W. Ayres of Winston-Salem, N.C., escaped unhurt but the truck was destroyed.

Pinkhart was hospitalized here.

Five Rescued After Boat Upsets In Bay

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Three women and two men were rescued from Chesapeake Bay Sunday when their 17-foot boat overturned off Deale, Md. after taking water over the stern.

Released after treatment for shock at Anne Arundel General Hospital were Pearl Cramer, 49, of Washington, D.C., Francis Ardinger of Hagerstown, Doris Howard of Washington, Harry Knabman, 52, of Mt. Rainier, and John L. Waters, 48, of Washington.

Waters was owner of the boat, which sustained damage estimated at $1,000. The group lost personal articles valued at $316.

Gilbert Ward of Deale, who was cruising in the vicinity of the accident, picked up the five passengers after they had been dumped in the water.

Woman With Year To Live Left Fortune

PITTSBURGH (UPI) —A 46-year-old housewife, doomed to die from cancer within a year, prepared Monday to leave for Scotland where she will claim a two-million dollar estate bequeathed by an uncle.

Mrs. Jean Naccarelli said a doctor informed her she will be dead within 12 months.

"I think I'm going to have a big funeral," she said. Last year she was a hospital patient for 45 days undergoing surgery designed to stave off death. She took a realistic view of her situation although she was excited by the prospect of an overseas visit.

"I shall come back here to die," she said.

Mrs. Nacarelli lives in a modest home in the city's Mt. Washington district with her husband, Felic. She has two daughters by a previous marriage.

Last week Mrs. Naccarelli received a telegram saying her uncle, John Lennon, 78-year-old ship designer who worked on the Queen Mary, had died. She was the sole heir mentioned in the will.

Mrs. Naccarelli had seen her uncle in 1924 when she visited Scotland and in 1952 when he came to Pittsburgh.

Last year Mrs. Naccarelli was a heroine when she dragged two policemen from a burning patrol car.

The plucky woman said she plans to will her fortune to her Italian-born husband.

"I have a lot of wonderful friends," she said, "and I had them all long before I got this money."

Change In Street Work Gets Opposition Here

L. V. Lowery of 714 Frederick Street, told the Mayor and Council yesterday petitions are being circulated to be presented to council asking a referendum on a charter amendment which would set up new rules for street construction and resurfacing.

Deadline for submitting the petitions is Friday.

Lowery said he had several of the petitions today and wanted to submit them to council. However, he was informed by City Attorney William R. Carscaden that all should be given to City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery at one time. None had been turned in by late afternoon.

The petitions Lowery displayed yesterday had only 105 signatures representing residents mostly of the Frederick Street-Bedford Street area. Others are in circulation, he said.

In order to bring about a referendum on a charter amendment, petitions must contain the names of 20 per cent of the registered voters. Registration at the end of July was 11,639 and that means petitions must be signed by 2,328 qualified voters of the city.

The charter amendment was adopted July 27 and will become effective September 15 unless a referendum is in order.

Essentially, the charter resolution would:

—Extend the time in which a lien is effective from five years to 12 years.

—Extend from three months to six months the time in which the city must file a lien after work is completed.

—Provide that railroads must pay front footage the same as other property owners.

—Provide that the city cannot file a second lien within five years, instead of the present 10, to allow the use of shorter-lived light surfacing treatment on city streets.

—Provide that a uniform schedule of fees, uniform throughout the city, shall be adopted, subject to change by ordinance. At present, the city must levy at least two-thirds of expenses on abutting property and in actual practice has usually levied the full amount.

It is reported that the schedule of fees, which the Mayor and Council has asked City Engineer C. R. Nuzum to work out, calls for the city to share about 25 per cent of the costs.

A rough draft of the fee schedule ordinance, Mayor J. Edwin Keech reports, has been passed out to city officials.

Ohio Police Arrest Man Wanted Here

City Police have been notified by Ohio authorities that Nathan Bartell has been taken into custody.

Lt. Det. James E. Van said Bartell was wanted in Cumberland in connection with a case which developed in Cumberland last Thursday when four men attempted to break into the Montgomery Ward Store.

James S. Getty, state's attorney, said Ohio police advised Lt. Van that Bartell indicated he would refuse to waive extradition.

Getty said papers are being prepared to bring the man back on charges of possession of burglary tools.

Three men, Albert S. Wright, 42, and Charles Issacs, 32, both of Newport, Ky., and Andrew J. Forkes, 51, of Phoenix, Ariz., were arrested by City Police in connection with the case, however, Bartell managed to escape.

Police at the time impounded Bartell's automobile which contained pistols and such burglary tools as a large pair of bolt cutters, various sizes of drill bits, drills, an emory wheel, gloves, flashlights and screwdrivers.

Bartell's car and the tools are still being held by authorities.

The other three men were released Saturday afternoon under $500 bond each after they were questioned in the Allegany County Jail by an FBI agent.

Heavy Trucks Are Banned On Some Streets

An ordinance to restrict heavy trucks and equipment from using certain streets within the city limits was approved by the Mayor and Council yesterday.

The restrictions also applies to certain alleys and highways.

Many city streets were constructed years ago, the ordinance points out, and are not designed to carry the load of present-day heavy trucks and equipment.

Great damage has resulted. Streets are also too narrow for the heavy vehicles which endanger life and property and water and sewer lines beneath the streets are damaged when the surface is damaged.

Load limits will be imposed where considered necessary and also vehicle weight limits.

Signs will be erected where limitations are placed in effect.

Penalties provided in the ordinance for violations call for a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 or in default, not less than one day nor more than 30 days in jail.

The ordinance does not spell out the restrictions, which are to be adopted from time to time by orders of the Mayor and Council.

In other activity yesterday, council approved the one-year contract of Carl Guy Rickard Jr., of Pittsburgh, as new assistant city engineer for streets, parks and planning. Rickard will receive $7,000 and is due to assume his duties today.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light was authorized to advertise for bids for two chlorinators, one for pre-chlorination and one for post-chlorination; and one chlorine residual recorder and electrolyte cell, an ammoniator and a reducing valve. Light was also authorized to seek bids on a four-wheel drive station wagon for the Water Department.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming was authorized to advertise for bids for a panel truck for the Fire Department.

The $1,280 bid of General Supply and Equipment Company for a concrete saw was accepted.

In other routine matters, council said it would contribute $2,000 to the County United Fund campaign if and when sufficient funds from the movie tax are available. However, council said, it must be understood that direct charges for maintenance of the Girl Scout House and the Allegany County League for Crippled Children's Buildings are made to the Movie Tax Fund and only the balance remaining after these charges will be allocated to CUF.

Workers To Get Long Weekend

City offices and departments will be closed Labor Day.

The Mayor and Council in ordering the holiday yesterday said offices will close at 5 p. m. Friday and reopen at 9 a. m. Tuesday, September 8. The regular meeting of Council will be held September 8 at 10 a. m.

The application of Patrolman Edward P. Wilson to continue with the Police Department for another year was rejected by council on recommendation of Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

Fleming said Wilson, who was injured in an automobile accident several years ago, reaches retirement age of 60, September 7. Because of his physical condition as a result of the accident, Fleming said he has been unable to fulfill other than limited duties with the force. Fleming said he agreed to this arrangement for the last year but the department needs 10 fulltime men and he regrets that the action is necessary.

In other activities, council proclaimed Wednesday, September 16 as "Cumberland Day" during the Fairgo race meet and ordered offices to close at noon that day and asked that other businesses join in the observation to allow employes a day at the races.

Two PTAs, Columbia Street and Mt. Royal, expressed concern over the recent dismissal of women school crossing guards for lack of funds.

4-H Group To Hear Talk

A meeting of the 4-H Older Youth organization of Allegany County will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Extension Service office at the Court House.

A feature will be a talk by Miss Brunhidle Seidel, a summer trainee in the Extension office, of her life in the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia at the time it was taken over by the Nazis, then the Russians during World War II and finally the Czech communists.

Miss Seidel was eight years old when her family moved to the West Germany sector.

Brotemarkle Is Honored By Mayor, City Council

Charles L. Brotemarkle, a 40-year veteran of city service, retired yesterday as assistant superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, and the Mayor and Council, by resolution, made him an "Honorary Citizen" of Cumberland.

Brotemarkle, who resides on Bedford Road, outside the city limits, was visibly affected by the resolution's praise of his service and a tribute paid him by Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Light said his association with Brotemarkle had been the best and it was with regret that he saw him retire. Many times, Light said Brotemarkle has served extra hours without pay and has not taken a vacation in some years.

He said he hoped Brotemarkle will enjoy a lot of fishing and fun "When you exchange your work clothes for your retirement clothes."

Brotemarkle expressed his appreciation to the city and to his fellow workers at the Lake Gordon water plant, wishing both success in the years ahead.

After the presentation of the resolution to Brotemarkle by Mayor J. Edwin Keech, Brotemarkle received a desk pen set, a gift from his fellow employes at the filter plant. This presentation was made by Shirley Mortzfeldt, laboratory technician.

City officials gave Brotemarkle a standing ovation.

False Teeth Dislodge

CARLISLE, England (UPI) — Maj. John Dicksee had an appointment with his dentist Monday because he was too enthusiastic. When a general arrived to inspect Dicksee's troops at camp Durranhill Saturday, the major shouted the command "attention!" with such vigor his false teeth were dislodged and fell on the ground.

FRENCH DAY AND EVENING SUITS—Strictly velvet for the evening, left, Balmain of Paris carried his long jacket line into evening wear in this velvet creation with that long, lean look. The strictly tailored double breasted dinner suit is of moss green velvet. On the lapel is a diamond studded boutonniere. A multi-colored sequin blouse is worn with the form-fitting, ankle length skirt. A mink hat and muff complete the ensemble. Yves directs eyes to the knees, right. A black mohair band holds the puffed skirt at the knees in this autumn and winter suit from Christian Dior salon in Paris, designed by Yves Saint Laurent. The red wool suit features a very short jacket over the puffed skirt.

Navy Mothers Club Joins Stick Collection Drive

Cumberland Chapter 514, Navy Mothers Club, selected a new project for its welfare work and outlined its fall activities at the meeting Friday evening at the American Legion home. Mrs. Elizabeth Nave presided.

The club decided to join the campaign for ice cream sticks, following an appeal that 20,000 more are needed by four hospitals for the veterans rehabilitation program. Joseph Rosendale, owner of the Home Laundry in Baltimore, has offered to sterilize them free of charge.

Beginning later this fall it was decided to serve refreshments to the boys at the Naval Reserve station, each month.

Mrs. Helen Bujac was elected and installed as matron at arms, to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Leanna Golden, who resigned, due to ill health. Plans were completed for the state convention, which is being held at the Fort Cumberland Hotel, September 18-19. It was decided to postpone the birthday party until after the convention. The next general meeting of the club will be September 11.

Redmen And Auxiliary Entertain

Games recreation featured the entertainment at the family picnic held by Tonkaway Tribe, of the Improved Order of Redmen, and Algonquin Company 54, Degree of Pocahontas, at the Ali Ghan Club picnic grounds.

Winners of the games were Diana Holmes and Timothy Wolf, donkey games for children under 6; Glen Hixenbaugh, Debra Hixenbaugh, ball throwing under 6; Gary Hixenbaugh, Linda Shanholtz, races for boys and girls, 6 to 10; Patricia Hixenbaugh, William Hixenbaugh, sack race, 6-10; Larry Skidmore, Carla Skidmore, sack race, 10-16; Larry McGaughey, Georgiana Hixenbaugh, balloon bursting contest; Ruth Koontz, Mary Mortzfeldt, sack race for women; Betty Kelly, Georgia Myers, back to back race for women; Bernard Galford, Ronald Schade, men's sack race; Jack Wertz, James Wisenburg, back to back race for men.

The games were conducted by Mrs. Georgie Myers and Mrs. Ruth Twigg. Refreshments were served by a committee of both degrees, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Mayme Bramble, Mr. and Mrs. William Combs, Mrs. Dorothy Payton, Mrs. Lola Taylor, Mrs. Ruth Twigg and Mrs. Susie Batt.

Approximately 150 members and their families attended.

New Mennonite Rest Home To Be Dedicated

Open House Plans Are Announced

GRANTSVILLE—Goodwill Mennonite Home, Inc., a rest home for the aged located near Grantsville, will be dedicated Sunday, September 6, at 2 p. m.

Open house for public inspection will be held Saturday, from 4 to 9 p. m. and Monday, September 7, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The home is an outgrowth of the belief that a rest home could render a needed and worthwhile service to the community since there were more aged people in the community and more crowded facilities in the average home.

Goodwill Mennonite Home is sponsored by the Castleman River Conservative Mennonite Church. It is controlled by a board of seven men, elected by the sponsoring church. The board serves without pay and the home is chartered by the State of Maryland as a nonprofit organization.

The home is easily accessible from two main highways passing through Grantsville. It is located one mile north of Grantsville in quiet country surroundings and is immediately adjacent to the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, central meeting place of the sponsoring congregation.

It is located on a rising elevation which overlooks the farm lands and wooded areas of the Castleman River valley. A five-minute drive will reach most of the churches in the Grantsville area.

The home can accommodate approximately 25 guests. The large brick structure was formerly owned by the Conservative Mennonite Conference and used as a children's home. The conference made the property availabe to the local congregation and during 1958 and this year, the building was remodeled and renovated. Old heating, wiring and plumbing were removed and modern equipment installed. A new fire alarm system covers the building. Grounds have been landscaped.

Purpose of the Goodwill Mennonite Home is to give comfortable living conditions to aged people in a pleasant, Christian environment. Though the Home is operated by the Mennonite Church, its policy will be to give care to those who desire its services regardless of religious persuasion, officials said.

Presbyterians Plan 100th Anniversary

BARTON — A committee has been formed to plan the celebration of the 100th anniversary of First Presbyterian Church.

The group will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., at the church. The celebration is planned from October 4 through October 11.

Rev. James Eakin, pastor, and Mrs. Alexander Cross are co-chairmen of the arrangements committee.

Gladys Williams Honored By Church

FROSTBURG — Miss Gladys Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, Midlothian, was honored with a picnic supper recently at Swaugers Dam by members of Trinity Assembly of God Church.

Approximately 175 attended the hot dog and marshmallow roast. Miss Williams, a graduate of Beall High School& who was employed with government insurance in Washington for the past two years, will enter Eastern Bible Institute, Green Lane, Pa., this fall.

Following the supper, hymns and gospel choruses were sung, after which Rev. James L. Tate, pastor of the church and Rev. William Reed, also of Midlothian, spoke briefly.

Vine Blooms At Lonaconing

A neighbor boy, Charles Paskun, is pointing out the beautiful diamond-like blossoms on a Canadian flower plant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gardner, Allegany Street, Lonaconing. Mrs. Ada Gardner brought the vine-type plant from Canada when she made a trip there on a summer vacation. She had the plant for seven years before it bloomed. The unusual running vine produces white velvety petals with deep pink five-star petal centers. Liquid falls from the blossom, similar to a teardrop, and has a sweet taste, like syrup. Charles Paskun, son of Mrs. Edna Paskun, who is admiring the vine, is a fifth grade student at Central Elementary School.

Sister M. Hilda Will Observe Golden Jubilee

WESTERNPORT — Sister M. Hilda, the former Miss Anna McMillen of Westernport, will observe her golden jubilee as a member of the Visitation Order of Nuns at Roland Park, Baltimore today.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Leary, Catonsville, former assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church here, will celebrate a mass in her honor.

Sister Hilda, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMillen, entered the cloistered order in June 1908 at Baltimore. She is a sister of Mrs. J. B. Maybury, Piedmont, and Mrs. C. E. Laughlin, Westernport. The late Frank McMillen, Westernport, was a brother. Thomas McMillen, Keyser, is also a brother.

Bloodmobile Visits Tri-Towns Tomorrow

PIEDMONT — Johnstown bloodmobile unit of the Red Cross will visit the Tri-Towns tomorrow.

It will be at the Presbyterian Church from noon to 6 p. m. and their quota is 85 pints.

If the quota is not met, the unit will discontinue visiting the Tri-Towns. Persons desiring to donate blood are asked to contact Mrs. Bernadine Appel, ELgin 5-2664 or Mrs. Annabelle Wilkes, FLeetwood 9-9211.

Baby Suffocates On Plastic Bag

GRAFTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held here Monday for a nearby Parkview baby who suffocated over the weekend when he apparently rolled face down on a plastic bag left in his crib.

The death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. David Freeze was the second plastic bag death reported in West Virginia. Martha J. Meyers, 75, Morgantown, apparently committed suicide last June by tying a plastic bag over her head.

Fort Ashby Enrollment On Increase

FORT ASHBY — J. William Marker, principal of Fort Ashby Elementary and High Schools, announced that students will report today for the coming school term. Registration will continue from 9 to 11 a.m.

The first full day for students will be Wednesday. Enrollment will be ten more than last year, making a total of 346 for the high school. The grade school will have an enrollment of 196.

Four vacancies have been filled during the summer months. New teachers added are: David Malone, physical science, biology and social studies; Mrs. Betty Howard, who has been teaching the past three years at Elk Garden High School, English, social studies; Lane Oakman, social studies and commerce, and Mrs. Elinor Heath, mathematics. Mrs. Howard will also serve as librarian.

Teachers returning at the high school include Mrs. Alice Lee, English and social studies; Homer May, English; Quentin Sayers, coach, physical education, driver education and social studies; Edward Riley, science and physical education; Donald Thorn, vocational agriculture; Mrs. Mildred G. Shepp, home economics; Mrs. Martha M. Boyles, commerce and art; Robert Knieriem, music and English, and Lloyd Winters, seventh grade subjects.

Grade school teachers returning are Mrs. Margaret Umstot, first; Mrs. Nelle Welton, first and second; Mrs. Virginia Bloom, second and third; Mrs. Sabra Price, third and fourth; Mrs. Helen Spencer, fourth; Mrs. Helen Spencer, fourth; Mrs. Arvella May, fifth, and Mrs. Ida Prysock, sixth.

Holidays for the year will be Labor Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving from November 26 to December 1, Christmas vacation from December 23 to January 5, Easter vacation from April 12 to April 19, and primary electoin May 10. The school term will end Friday, May 27.

Turnpike To Nowhere Is Finally Going Somewhere

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The turnpike to "nowhere" is finally going somewhere after five years.

Take it from Gen. Mgr. William E. Stahl of the West Virginia Turnpike that the once blackened financial picture for the 88-mile multi-million dollar highway is beginning to get clearer.

"For those who have kept their confidence in the potential of the road there is now a certain measure of satisfaction," Stahl said on the eve of the highway's fifth anniversary.

The first segment of the road—a 35 mile stretch from Princeton to Beckley—was opened to traffic five years ago—Sept. 2, 1954. The final 53 miles — Beckley to Charleston—got its initial baptism of vehicle traffic two months later—Nov. 8.

"We're still not breaking even and it may be a long time before that day is finally reached," Stahl declared, "but the highway is much nearer that point today than at any time since it opened."

There are two explanations for the increased traffic which has dumped more money into the turnpike coffers this year.

New Records

Stahl said heavier truck traffic resulting from increased production in textile mills of the south was the primary cause of higher toll collections. These collections have been breaking records each month this year.

"But we've noticed an increase in the number of out-of-state passenger cars, too," he said. "It seems that more people from other states are traveling through West Virginia and they are using the turnpike on their trip through the southern part of the state."

The road was labeled the "Turnpike to Nowhere" after it was opened because it connected with no major traffic arteries, but only knifed through some of southern West Virginia's highest mountains.

But today, there is a brighter future in prospect.

"The road will be a vital link in the proposed north-south Interstate Highway from Canton, Ohio to Charlotte, N. C.," Stahl said. "It appears to me that it would be useless to think of constructing a third major highway south from Charleston to the Virginia border."

Driving Time Cut

The present U. S. 21 was the original road connecting the two cities. Then the turnpike was constructed and it cut the mileage by one-third and the driving time nearly in half.

"The right-of-way for an Interstate construction is already in our name," Stahl said. "There needs to be only an arrangement of finances and construction of additional lanes to conform with Interstate specifications."

He would make no estimate on how or when the 'pike' might transfer hands or how the $133,000,000 worth of bonds sold to finance the construction would be paid off. "That's something that will have to be worked out later if it is decided to take the highway into the Interstate system," he said.

Five years after opening the expressway has been anything but a financial success. It can better be considered a headache for those connected with it.

It has never paid its way. In fact interest payments alone are running about six or seven months behind schedule. The traffic originally anticipated for the road never materialized. Despite all this Stahl keeps his optimistic outlook.

"We're going somewhere and soon," he said. "When we do everyone will benefit."

Frostburg Street Program On Schedule

FROSTBURG—Street Commissioner William Preston has reported that the Frostburg street program, inaugurated this spring and the first of its kind since 1953, is progressing rapidly with Park Lane, Frost Avenue Extended and Federal and Howard Streets having been completed.

Preston said the finishing coat of asphalt and chips is now being laid on Mt. Pleasant Street Extended. Also scheduled for improvement this year is Mt. Vernon Street from Main to Washington Streets.

There are approximately 25 miles of streets in Frostburg with about five miles being dirt. Before the year is over, about one-fifth of these dirt streets will have been paved.

Now that this program is underway, Preston said, more progress will be shown next year. Resurfacing will progress more rapidly on streets that already have been graded and have a base coat.

Scheduled to be resurfaced next year with the approval of citizens will be Green Street, College Avenue from Water Street west, Pine Street from Frost Avenue to Linden, and Ghestnut Street between Frost and College Avenues. Tentatively scheduled are Maple, Wood and Beall Streets.

Dirt streets to be graded and based next year will be Bowry Extended, Centennial Extended, and Stoyer between Wood and Maple Streets.

Within a five year period Preston pointed out, all streets whether dirt or paved should be in top condition.

Correction

MT. SAVAGE — In cutlines under a photograph taken at a district meeting of Knights of Columbus councils here and published in the NEWS Friday, August 28, it was stated that Mt. Savage Council 1058 received a plaque for highest increase in membership. This is incorrect. Actually, Wilbert E. Logsdon of Mt. Savage Council, assistant membership chairman for last year, presented the plaque to James B. Nalley, grand knight of Oakland Council 1771, winner of the award. The NEWS regrets this error.

Catholic Lay Teachers To Attend Workshop

A number of lay teachers on faculties of parochial schools in this county will attend the lay teachers workshop to be conducted by the Department of Catholic Education of the Archdiocese of Baltimore today and Wednesday in Baltimore.

The sessions will be held in Catholic High School, 2800 Edison Highway, Baltimore, and will include such topics as teaching methods in the archdiocese, teacher planning books, techniques of teaching, tests, study interpretation and classroom procedures.

From SS. Peter and Paul School will be Mrs. Elizabeth Fair, Miss Nancy Sitter and Miss Patricia James. St. Mary's will send Mrs. John Jett and Mrs. Earl Humbertson, and from St. Michael's School, Frostburg, will be Miss Margaret Ann Campbell.

The workshop staff will be comprised of faculty members with wide experience in the teaching field.

The teachers will be divided into small groups according to the individual grades they teach, Msgr. Leo J. McCormick, superintendent of the Department of Catholic Education, said.

As school nears, two principals today made announcements concerning faculty changes and other data.

At Ursuline Academy, freshmen and sophomores will report Thursday from 9 to 11 a. m. to receive class schedules and make arrangements for textbooks. Juniors and seniors will report Friday from 9 to 11 a. m.

Sister Hilda, principal, said the academy is accepting no new applications from students except in the Junior Class. The school is absorbing the student body of St. Mary's High School which was closed in June.

Sister Herman Joseph, principal at St. Mary's School, said Mrs. Humbertson is the new lay teacher on the faculty.

Sister Lenore, principal of St. Patrick's School, said only one change was made this month in the faculty. Sister Julissa, fourth grade teacher, was transferred to St. Mary's High School, Washington. She has been replaced by Sister Cecelia from the Motherhouse of the School Sisters Notre Dame.

The title of the regular superior of an abbey of monks or canons is an abbot.

City To Hold Bridge Class

The 10th in a series of duplicate-contract Bridge courses, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will begin Wednesday, September 9 at 8 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Mrs. Eva M. Hogan, assistant rec director, said the class is limited to 40 members and registration should be made with the Recreation Department, telephone PA 2-2000.

The course will cover a 12-week period and a small fee, payable the first session, will be charged. C. C. DeHaven will be instructor and the Goren Point System will be used.

The course will cover 24 hours, two hours each session. The first hour will be devoted to lecture and the second hour to play.

The Bridge courses were started under department sponsorship in October, 1955. Since then, an average of two classes a year have been held with a total graduate of 361.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: I'm a sensible young lady, 18, and in nurse's training. I've been going steady with a fellow 22. Before he came along I dated many men. One day I realized I wasn't working toward a permanent relationship with anyone. Since this particular fellow seemed like the best of the lot I decided to concentrate on him.

He sensed my special interest and immediately suggested I stop dating the others. He said I was the type of girl he had always wanted. Now I'm wondering — wanted — for what?

He treats me coldly when others are present. He almost belittles me, you might say. When I broach the subject of marriage, he skillfully changes the topic. He gets furious when I hint that I may date someone else. Yet he studiously avoids committing himself. What's the nex step?—DANGLING

DEAR DANGLING: You're only 18, Toots. What's the big hurry to beat a commitment out of anybody? In your attempt to tie up this fellow you've become pretty well tangled in the ropes. Has the calf killed the butcher?

Unwind and enjoy the sweet flavor of freedom until you're mature enough to think about a permanent relationship.

DEAR ANN: What can we do about a headstrong daughter who is 21 and tells us she can do as she pleases?

In November she comes into $7,000 from her grandfather's estate. There are no strings on this money. She gets it all at once.

Mae quit high school at 16 to "go on the stage." That didn't pan out so she worked on a steamship as a stateroom maid and went all over the world. For six months we didn't even know where she was.

Last night she announced she'll marry as soon as she gets her money. We don't know the man but he's waiting for a divorce. She's making plans for an elaborate wedding which we can't afford. She says SHE'LL pay for it out of her inheritance if we won't. What can we do?—DOROTHY

DEAR DOROTHY: If you couldn't do anything with Mae when she was 16 why are you surprised you can't handle her at 21?

Tell her precisely the kind of wedding you can afford and make it plain that beyond that, it's on her. Also explain that if she blows her inheritance she can expect no financial lift from you.

DEAR ANN: I'm the father of eight children. I planned on a vacation this fall with the whole family. My wife agreed it would be fun. Then her cousin who I never liked, wrote and invited my wife to spend a couple weeks with her. She took the three youngest kids and left.

Our oldest girl is 14 and she and I have been doing the cooking and housework. I'm a painter and pretty tired when I get home. I'm mad at my wife for taking off like this without considering me. I wrote her that when she gets back I'm going fishing by myself for two weeks. Her reply was "You want to go alone because you're taking a woman."

Do you think I'm entitled to this vacation by myself?—DAD

DEAR DAD: I do indeed. Your wife had no right to go off and leave you with five children after she had agreed to a family-type vacation. Any chance of taking the five kids who were left home?

CONFIDENTIAL TO MAVERICK: Soap and water is cheap. Tell him he can be "best" and hygienic, too.

Hare-And-Tortoise Race For Opinion

The continuing strife between truth and falsehood has intrigued poet and philosopher down through the ages. Their witness on the progress of the conflict has been like that of the ringside radio reporter—"he's up, he's down"—the antecedent of the pronoun depending on the predilection of the reporter.

There are definite reasons why truth often seems to be losing in the unending grapple. Several psychological tests have been interpreted as showing that, when truth and falsehood start out under equal conditions, the human memory is such that falsehood eventually gains an advantage.

Memory eventually tends to recall the lie with greater force and the circumstance of its questionable origin fades from recollection. Dictators and aggressors have always maintained that the bigger a lie is the more readily it is swallowed.

Efforts to counteract Soviet misrepresentation of American attitudes and aims have shown how great is the handicap against the truth that is sent out to overtake error.

Truth has taken a terrific drubbing in this modern era. It is enough to cause even the hopeful to assume the attitude expressed by Coventry Patmore and to feel that, though "truth is great and shall prevail," perhaps that eventuality will arrive "when none cares whether it prevail or not."

Yet, loyalty to truth is not so easily discouraged. Knowledge of the psychological reasons that contribute to the temporary triumph of error—knowledge which the enemies of truth seek to pervert to their own evil purposes—could be a long step in the direction of helping truth come uppermost.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Prayer Is Not Sinful

It has now been decided in the Herricks (Long Island) School Prayer Case that a prayer to God, in the classroom, is neither illegal nor sinful. It is said that the parents of some children are so adamant on the subject that they will take the case to the Supreme Court of the United States, hoping that the Supreme Court, in all its majesty, will declare prayer illegal if said in a school.

The issue is very simple. The New York State Regents, who are in charge of education, devised in 1951 a prayer which is utterly non-sectarian among religious people but is sectarian so far as atheists and agnostics are concerned. The prayer reads:

"Almighty God, we acknowledge our dependence upon Thee, and we beg Thy blessings upon us, our parents, our teachers and our Country."

Some parents regard this simple prayer to be a violation of the United States Constitution which nowhere forbids prayer or the use of prayer in public schools. Why asking such a simple blessing is unsatisfactory, it is difficult to understand but there are such people in the world.

The case came before the State Supreme Court, presided over by Judge Bernard S. Meyer, who decided that children may say this prayer, provided that their parents are informed that the child is praying. Parents who forbid their children to pray to God may request that the child step aside and not engage in such activities that such parents may regard as nefarious. The judge further requires that school authorities and school teachers may not comment on the conduct of children who are forbidden to pray by their parents.

Judge Meyer's reasoning is sound throughout. There is no constitutional provision against prayer and there is no evidence that it was intended that the First Amendment to the Constitution should be used to oppose devotional exercises in the schools. This is something that has arisen in recent years and has no basis in American tradition.

It is true that the parent is the trustee for the child, but it is not true that a few parents can impose their will on the majority of parents. There the matter is left to those parents to object to a prayer to God by their children in schools. Those parents may have their children removed from devotional exercises. If their children object to such discrimination, that is a matter between parent and child. The school will have to follow each parent's wish.

When I was a boy in New York Public Schools, that was the procedure. There was a general assembly in the morning; the principal read from the Bible; we sang a hymn and then a patriotic song. We started the day right. Why was this procedure dropped? Who objected to it?

At any rate, the prayer is now being re-introduced and it is very beneficial to children. It gives them a moment to think of something besides themselves and their needs and their wants. It might even help them to respect their parents as they respect their God.

The judge's opinion, which is quite long, emphasized the point that there must be no comment about children who are kept away from prayer. It is difficult to see how that can be done. The children will comment. Johnny will ask Jerry why he was not at prayer and Jerry will say that his mother does not let him pray. So Johnny will ask Jerry: "Doesn't your mother believe in God?"

Poor Jerry! At that point he will not know what to say. He loves his mother but he realizes that she is different. Other children are allowed to pray to God, but he isn't. "Who is God, anyhow?"

Jerry asks his mother. She is up against it. For thousands of years, people have been up against that question. But Jerry is insistent. He wants to know why other kids can do something he can't do. Mother is stumped. She dare not say that their God is another God whereas the child has been told that there is only one God.

Is it better for the child to be mixed up, to suffer confusion, or for him to say the simple prayer of grace and respect?

According to Judge Meyer's decision, that is up to the parents and that is where it should rest.

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is on a "work and play vacation," his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson. Mr. Pearson is preparing some revealing columns on the Khrushchev visit.)

WASHINGTON — In the book Secretary of Defense McElroy has banned, Gen. Tom Power, the big bomber boss, advocates striking the first blow if a total war appears inevitable and using nuclear weapons to hurl back limited aggression.

McElroy has forbidden publication of the manuscript on the grounds that a commander shouldn't write about "his area of responsibility while on active duty in that command." However, California's crusading Congressman John Moss, the freedom-of-information champion, is investigating the book banning. He has asked McElroy whether he personally read the book before censoring it, also whether anyone in the Army or Navy put him up to it.

From a bootleg copy of the censored manuscript, this column is now able to present the most explosive passages.

"Our military strategy is essentially defensive. This does not preclude the possibility that we may have to striek the first blow," writes the bomber chief. "But while pre-emptive action on our part might initiate open warfare, it still would not represent offensive strategy because it would be undertaken only in self defense."

"Pre-emptive" War

He describes "pre-emptive" war as beating an enemy to the punch after gaining "certain knowledge of an imminent attack."

"It is conceivable," he warns, "that we may be placed in that position with respect to Russia."

Elaborating, he points out grimly: "The decision to launch a pre-emptive war against the Soviet Union would be a very difficult one to make even if our intelligence should have ascertained beyond any doubt that the Soviets were preparing to attack us in the immediate future.

"Regardless of how successful our initial attack might be, it could not possibly destroy the entire offensive capability of the Soviets. Some of their bombers and missiles would escape destruction and succeed in mounting a counter-attack, exacting a high price with their nuclear payloads. But if there were no other way left to escape an imminent surprise attack, our government might well resort to a pre-emptive war which, even though it could not save us entirely from damages, would serve to keep our losses to a minimum.

"Nevertheless," General Power hastens to add, "there is relatively little likelihood of a preemptive war against the Soviet Union because so long as there is the slightest hope that we can prevent a Soviet attack through diplomatic means or a strong posture of deterrence, our government backed by the majority of the American people would be opposed to more drastic means."

Defending the use of nuclear weapons in limited wars, the Strategic Air Commander writes: "The possession of missiles will encourage the Soviets to precipitate one incident and crisis after the other, to exhibit still greater audacity and inflexibility and eventually to launch a massive missile attack if their nuclear blackmail is no longer effective.

"To deal with this growing threat, the American people must first make up their minds that they will under no circumstances condone Soviet actions that are contrary to our national interests or yield an inch from our stated position. Second, we must convince the Soviets that we are prepared to retaliate with a massive and sudden missile attack with decisive results. Third, if we should become involved in local military actions, we must never again hesitate to use the best weapons required to protect our interests."

Recommends Priority List

Power boldly laid down his recommendations for solving our military muddle. Here are his principal ideas:

1. "An impartial and well-balanced group of the best qualified experts in the nation should take a hard look at all major projects of the armed forces and other government agencies concerned. On the basis of their findings, they should list these projects in a recommended order of priorities based strictly on considerations of national security."

2. "The existing organization of our armed forces is entirely inadequate for nuclear war, because it is divided and subdivided along lines of demarcation which modern weapons have largely wiped out. Instead of an incongruous conglomeration of vaguely defined and conflicting operation areas, we need a thoroughly integrated and centrally controlled organization with clear-cut lines of authority and firmly established responsibility. These ends can be attained only through complete and real unification of the present military services."

3. "To insure the survival and rapid recovery of this country in case of a massive nuclear surprise attack, we should establish a coordinated national survival plan to include air defense programs, an emergency control program should cover all aspects of civil defense and be assigned to the U.S. Army. Reserve personnel under all military services should be assigned as appropriate to the Army's emergency control force units."

Military vs. Space

4. "The emphasis of our space program should be on early military utility rather than on long-range scientific aspects."

5. "We should strive for a professional military force which has the stability, high level of proficiency and combat readiness which are indispensable in the nuclear age."

6. "An aggressive program should be undertaken by the government . . . to combat misconceptions and lack of understanding among the public with respect to the threat which we are facing and the actions required to meet that threat."

The general winds up his controversial book with this thought: "No matter what the future may bring, we have every reason to face it with confidence so long as we maintain the unsurpassed power of our ultimate weapon — the inflexible determination of our citizens to survive as a people and to prevail as a nation."

The Value Of Eisenhower's European Trip

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The cheers of the people of Western Europe for President Eisenhower — exuberant and affectionate — are a reminder of the historic friendship between the United States and its allies. But the demonstrations signify even more—how free peoples trust one another. This is something that peoples behind the Iron Curtain might well examine, for it contains the very ingredients of international understanding that someday could apply its benefits to the whole world.

In the personality of Dwight Eisenhower — a man of military background in the past, but today a symbol of peace — the world sees a missionary seeking, by good will and a spirit of conciliation, to overcome the petty, narrow and self-centered policies of men in government that sometimes keep nations apart.

It is an open secret that Mr. Eisenhower is in Western Europe this week as much to bind up the wounds of a strained governmental alliance with France as he is to prepare for the days next month in which he will represent the West in talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Dwight Eisenhower is popular in Europe as a man. But this is not simply because of his genial personality and innate friendliness. It is because of his record—he commanded the very forces that saved Britain and France 15 years ago. His acceptance by the people of West Germany is due largely to the fact that General Eisenhower dealt with his defeated foes on a basis of decency and fairness.

But, above all, President Eisenhower typifies the American spirit — the desire to see a nation like West Germany, which has repudiated Nazism and established a government of free institutions, preserve its independence and become reunited with their kinsmen in East Germany.

Every American President usually speaks in foreign affairs on behalf of the American people — there is less and less partisanship nowadays on such matters. Hence, a President of the United States, by a personal visit to countries allied with us, can accomplish a good deal to strengthen the ties with them. But whatever may have been the original reasons that seemed to make it desirable for President Eisenhower to go overseas, the truth is that such a visit is constructively helpful in the long run and tends to promote a spirit of mutual concession in resolving differences.

Everybody knows that President de Gaulle is trying somehow to increase the prestige of France and his hold on his own country. He has several crucial points to discuss with Mr. Eisenhower, involving, of course, the plight of Algeria. The principle of American non-intervention in disputes inside other countries is well recognized everywhere, but at the same time the yearning of colonial peoples for independence also strikes a sympathetic note in the United States. Certainly the most important consideration is what will benefit a dependent people. To give them immediate independence is not always in their own best interest. Gradualism is a better approach, because economic disintegration and consequent suffering for the masses often follows too sudden a change in the governmental structure. Indonesia, for example, has her independence today but is worse off than at any time since her people benefited by the enlightened colonialism of the Dutch government.

Mr. Eisenhower doesn't go to France in the next few days as a mediator on the Algerian problem, but he will sit down with General de Gaulle to emphasize that Allied unity, especially in defense matters, is far more important than any other single factor in the internal situation confronting France. To keep NATO planes from using bases inside France because the United States wouldn't grant information on nuclear weapons is petty tactics for any Frenchman to be practicing in these critical days. After all, the United States has twice had to come to the rescue of France in world-war crises, and it would be a disservice to the people of France if, in this missile and atomic age, the weapons of war by which American planes could help stave off any attack on France were suddenly found lacking. Surely questions like these, on sober second thought, will have to be handled with more tact in the future than they have been in the past, lest confidence in General de Gaulle himself is weakened in America.

So far as relations with Britain are concerned, there is complete understanding and harmony. Mr. Eisenhower's visit to Bonn will reassure the West Germans that they are not to become the victims of a "deal" over West Berlin.

But entirely apart from the specific issues that must be dealt with by President Eisenhower on his mission to Bonn, London and Paris, it is heartening to see the Western European peoples by their demonstrations showing the friendship they cherish for the people of America. Maybe as Nikita Khrushchev examines the press reports, he will be a bit envious. For if he could but understand it, peoples make heroes out of leaders who love humanity and freedom, and show their disdain only for those who do not grasp the meaning of human love or its corollary — human freedom.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Just when everyone was sure there'd be a balanced federal budget for the 1960 fiscal year, a new threat has arisen which could put Uncle Sam in the red again.

It could happen if the steel strike runs on to a point where industrial production and therefore profits are affected.

Administration quarters are quick to say that the strike has had no appreciable effect so far, primarily because of the huge stocks of steel which were piled up by industry during the first half of this year.

It is recalled that government tax revenues from corporations for the current fiscal year are estimated at $21.4 billion, and the budget was figured on that basis. During the 1958 recession year, corporate tax collections come to $16.7 billion.

Keep Junior From Being Afraid Of School

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The first day of school may be torture for the 6 year old. Many cry when mother says good-by but this reaction is less likely to occur when the mother is calm and firm. If the tot spots a playmate in the classroom, home and mother are soon forgotten.

A variation of this problem is the day to day fear of going to school that starts about a half hour before and ends a half hour after getting to class. Firmness and reassurance by mother and teacher eliminate minor fears but a more detailed study may be needed to uncover a deepseated cause.

Some boys and girls are afraid to ride in the school bus because of memories of a previous accident. Others are panic stricken because of encountering a dog or an adult stranger on the way to school. Still others are bothered by older children, gangs, or conflicts with the teacher. Sometimes these excuses hide a more basic sense of insecurity.

The child with a school phobia is tense and anxious and is hard to manage every September when the parents struggle to get him to class. But nine times out of 10 the problem is not a school affair. These youngsters are afraid and show signs of anxiety on leaving home and being separated from mother.

In many instances this emotional response is fostered by the mother, who thrives on her offspring's dependency. This is particularly true of women who are unhappy in or poorly adjusted to marriage; they turn to someone to whom they are important.

School phobia usually disappears when the mother cooperates and uses common sense. These incidents are minimized by discouraging too much dependency. The relationship between mother and child is necessarily close during infancy and the preschool years. Thereafter each must learn gradually to live his own life with separate interests, activities, and friends.

TOMORROW: Seaweed as a cure-all.

MATERNITY TESTS

Mrs. J. writes: Can motherhood be proved through blood tests?

REPLY

It has been said that maternity is a matter of fact and paternity a matter of opinion. Testing the blood along this line usually is more successful in showing whether the individual could not be the parent. In puzzling cases, the blood of the father and the mother should be tested in order to make a proper evaluation. In general, the blood shows whether the person could be the parent but is more positive on the negative side. By this, we mean the blood is more likely to show who could not be the parent.

WINE HAS CALORIES

L. W. writes: I'm trying to reduce and wonder if I should include in the calorie count the glass of white wine I drink every night?

REPLY

Yes, indeed. Depending upon the type of white wine, each glass contains from 75 to 140 calories.

A NEGATIVE QUESTION

Mrs. I. S. writes: Is a person with Rh negative considered to have bad blood?

REPLY

The 15 per cent of the population who have Rh negative blood look and act like everyone else. The only time it makes a difference is when having a transfusion or a baby.

LIVER DISEASES

L. F. writes: Is cirrhosis of the liver a form of cancer?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis is a condition in which the liver cells are destroyed and replaced by scar tissue. The two diseases may coexist.

EFFECTS OF SUNSTROKE

J. W. writes: A few years ago I spent several hours at the beach and developed sunstroke. Since then I get a headache whenever I'm out in the summer sun. Does a person ever get over sunstroke?

REPLY

You were cured of sunstroke a few years ago. But it left you a bit sensitive to the direct rays of the sun, as evidenced by your headaches. Some persons have residual brain damage, especially when treatment has been delayed.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Toots Shor, stylish-stout restaurateur, who recently sold out his fancy boite for a million or so dollars, cries easily whether he's sober or not. George Jessel once made him break down completely by sighing, "Isn't it tough what they did to President McKinley?" Toots also cried at "Guys and Dolls" and "The Seven Year Itch," but turned thumbs down on "Faust" at the Met. "Too darn much singing," he explained.

This year's "Bawl Street Journal," an irreverent parody of the financial district's bible, features these two advertisements: One: a casket company urges, "Try our handy flip top box"; Two: a banking house admits, "We like the higher things in life: International Business Machines, Superior Oil of California,

What About Birrell?

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—Where does Lowell Birrell go now?

No one in authority has the answer to that one.

He is wanted here on indictments charging him with swindling American companies and investors out of millions of dollars. Yet there is no assurance that he will be brought back to face the charges in the near future—if ever.

Birrell—who knows every trick and twist of the law—is appealing the Brazilian order. This dumps the case into the courts and he already has retained a retinue of Brazilian lawyers.

The Brazilian case involves charges he entered the country illegally presenting a false Canadian passport claiming Canadian citizenship. He was born in Whitehead, Ind.

The Brazilians aren't interested in whether he is or is not a swindler. There are three warrants out for his arrest, but because the U.S. State Department has never negotiated an extradition treaty covering swindlers he cannot be brought back on any of these warrants.

The State Department has shown little interest in the case until recent days, although he has been a fugitive for more than two years in Cuba, elsewhere in Latin America, Paris and now in Brazil. He was in Brazil a year ago.

The U.S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro, according to District Attorney Frank Hogan, who got the first fraud indictment against Birrell, gave his man sent there to pick up the fugitive the runaround.

A call by this reporter to the legal division of the State Department produced the same "runaround." All this spokesman would say was that the department was "giving consideration" to doing something about his passport.

When pressed as to whether it was being invalidated this lawyer said:

"I don't believe it is for me to say."

Then came what might be called misleading or mis-information. This was that "no one asked for Birrell's extradition and haven't to date."

His extradition could not be asked, because of the State Department's dereliction in a treaty with Brazil, but the district attorney of New York did ask the department in Washington for help as well as the embassy in Rio. When it was suggested that the Department telephone the embassy in Brazil, they said they would if the New York district attorney would pay for the telephone call.

The same spokesman questioned whether there was "legal authority to grab the passport." While admitting a passport can be invalidated under certain conditions, the spokesman expressed the opinion being in "hot water" such as Birrell wasn't enough.

A little later another State Deportment spokesman called and said the passport had been picked up and marked for return to the United States only. This shuts off Birrell's use of this passport to go anywhere but "home."

However, there is nothing to stop him from negotiating in Brazil to stay there as a permanent citizen or to make similar arrangements with some other country that has no extradition treaty with the U.S. There are several.

The State Department won't list these on the grounds the knowledge might benefit Birrell.

That's strictly for the birds.

Australia Defeats U.S., 3-2, And Regains Davis Cup

Neale Fraser Beats MacKay In 5th Match

Aussies Win Trophy For Eighth Time In Last 10 Years

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—A rash of doublefaults sent the Davis Cup back to Australia Monday as Neale Fraser scored a swift followup victory over Uncle Sam's wild-hitting Barry MacKay in the fifth and decisive match of the challenge round.

Picking up where the tennis battle was halted by darkness Sunday at one set each, the 25-year-old Melbourne left-hander took advantage of MacKay's reckless serving to win 8-6, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

The giant Air Force private from Dayton, Ohio, playing on his 24th birthday, served five doublefaults to drop his delivery twice in the third set. He double-faulted again — his 14th — to lose his service and the match in the 10th game of the fourth set.

Fraser Is Hero

Thus Fraser emerged as the one-man hero of the 1959 challenge round just as Peruvian Alex Olmedo was star of America's surprise triumph in Brisbane last December.

Fraser won two singles matches—his first over the disappointing Olmedo — and teamed with Roy Emerson to ring up a straight-set doubles triumph over Olmedo and 18-year-old Earl Buchholz.

Australia's final margin was 3-2, both MacKay and Olmedo winning over the flashy but inexperienced Rod Laver in singles.

This marked the eighth Davis Cup conquest for the tennis-minded Australians in the last ten years and the ninth in 12 meetings since the United States and Australia turned the competition into a two-country monopoly in 1938.

Hopman's 9th Success

For Harry Hopman, the wily Australian captain, it was his ninth success in 16 campaigns as Aussie leader since 1938.

It was a heartbreaking turn for both MacKay and the 71-year-old U.S. captain, Perry Jones.

MacKay choked back the tears as he rushed over to congratulate the highly-elated Fraser. Australians swarmed out on the court to escort their star off the field.

MacKay, who Sunday was eager and almost jumping out of his skin, appeared pale and tense Monday. His rocket-like shots — they say he never hits a safe one —were far off the beam.

As much as he tried to storm his way back into the battle, he couldn't do it. Fraser was too steady off the ground and his tricky, high-spin service was too effective to be broken.

Dapper Phils Rout Dodgers

Win First Game Of Series, 20-0

Pounding the offerings of three pitchers for 20 hits, including eight for extra bases, the Phillies clobbered the Dodgers to the tune of 20 to 0 in the opening game of the Dapper Dan Little League championship series yesterday at Penn Avenue Field.

The Phillies' assault was punctuated by home run blasts from the bats of Howard Reynolds, Jim Mertens and Steve Walters which accounted for 10 runs. Reynolds hit a round-tripper with two aboard in the first inning. Mertens duplicated in the second frame and Steve Walters belted a grand slammer in the fifth.

Reynolds, who hurled the first three innings, yielded two hits, fanned five and walked one, notched his 7th win of the season against no losses. He gave way to Terry Deremer with the score 13-0 at the end of the third and the latter pitched three innings of no-run, no-hit ball. Terry fanned two. Ronnie Flora was the losing pitcher.

In addition to his three inning stint on the rubber, Reynolds had a perfect day at the plate in five trips, smacking a homer, double and three singles. Jim Mertens went 4-for-4 with a homer, double and two one-base knocks. Mike Hixson collected a two-bagger and two singles, and Olin Perkins also had three hits, including a double.

Terry Lease and Zapf accounted for the Dodgers two hits.

The victory was the 16th in 17 starts for the Phillies this season against league opponents. It was also their sixth shutout triumph.

The Dapper Division champs and the winner in the Dan Division will clash today in the second game of their best-of-three series at Penn Avenue Field at 6 p. m. Another victory for the Phillies would windup the series but the series will go the limit if the Dodgers come through today. Yesterday's score:

DODGERS .... 000 000— 0 2 4
PHILLIES .... 454 07x—20 20 0
Flora, Lineweaver (5), T. Piper (5) and Ort. H. Reynolds, T. Deremer (4) and Barnhart, Bantz (6).

Kono Cops 19th Medal For U.S. At Chicago Meet

Weightlifter Wins At Pan-Am Games

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) —Weightlifter Tommy Kono, a champion since 1952, added the 19th Pan American Gold Medal to the United States list Monday, and a young Mexican fencer, Pilar Roldan, became the fourth invading athlete to take a top prize in the U.S.-dominated games.

Kono, from Honolulu, set three Pan American records en route to the middleweight championship, hoisting 281 pounds in the press, 352¾ in the jerk and 898 pounds total for new marks. His victory gave the United States 19 Gold Medals out of 23 awarded.

U.S. Yachtsman won three of six events Monday and were in front of the field in three classes.

Swimmers Began Attack

U.S. swimmers began an anticipated seven-day attack on Pan American records. Thirteen swimmers set records in qualifying heats in three events, the men's 100 meter freestyle, the men's 200 meter breaststroke and the women's 200 meter freestyle.

All three U.S. entrants in the women's freestyle, led by a time of 2:20.3 by Chris Von Saltza, Saratoga, Calif., bettered the old record of 2:32.4 by Ana Maria Schultz of Argentina in 1951. United States qualifiers were Joan Spillane, Houston, Tex., and Shirley Stobs, Miami, Fla.

In team sports the United States continued at a high peak. The water polo team beat Brazil, 8-2. The soccer team, previously a patsy in international competition, upset previously unbeaten Brazil, 5-3, and the men's volleyball team tripped Puerto Rico, 3 games to none. The women's volleyball team also beat a Puerto Rican team, by the same margin.

Advanced To Semifinals

The U. S. men's doubles teams both advanced to the semifinals. Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill., and Myron Franks, Los Angeles, tripped Luis Ayala and Ernesto Aguirre, Chile, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2. Jon Douglas, Santa Monica, Calif., and Mike Green, Los Angeles, defeated Ed Alfredo Revelo and Jose Revelo, Dominican Republic 6-1, 6-0.

The U. S. women's doubles' team also got into the semifinals as Althea Gibson, New York, and Karol Fageros, Cocoanut Grove, Fla., drew a bye and Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, Panama City, Panama, and Mimi Arnold, Redwood City, Calif., defeated Mabel Bove and Margarita Zavalia, Argentina, 7-5, 6-4.

Mount Royal Team Gets Sportsmanship Trophy At Dinner

Judge Naughton, better known around the league as "Old Case," accepted the trophy with thanks in behalf of his team and stated he was hopeful trades during the winter would give him a pennant winner next year.

Trophies also will be given to the championship team and the runners-up. Barton and Corriganville, first and second half winners of the split season schedule, now are engaged in a series for the title.

Pros Will Play In Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Orange Bowl Stadium advisory board recommended Monday the 76,000-seat stadium be made available to the proposed American Football League.

Barton Beats 'Coney, 11-4, Even Series

Final Game Set For Wednesday

Barton's Braves squared up their Twilight Baseball League final playoff series with Lonaconing at two-all by winning yesterday at Barton by the score of 11-4.

Trailing 1-0, Barton sewed up the decision by scoring eleven runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Lonaconing garnered four of its seven hits for three runs in the final frame. Everett Spiker accounted for two of the runs with a circuit clout with one mate aboard.

"Buck" Smith collected a triple and single and Ronald "Butch" Young and Ellie Fazenbaker obtained two singles each to pace Barton's 11-hit attack. Bill Richmond, Bill Fazenbaker and Curt Johnson had two-base hits for 'Coney.

Barton won the first and fourth games, 7-2 and 11-4, and Lonaconing emerged the winner in the second and third contests, 5-2 and 11-2.

BARTON .... 000 416 0—11 11 6

Beall's Jayvees List Eight Tilts

Beall High School's junior varsity gridders will play a schedule of eight games this fall, opening with Allegany's Jayvees at Frostburg, Sept. 17.

Bob Chaney, former Ridgeley High athlete and Shepherd College football player, a new member of the Beall High faculty, will coach the Jayvees this year.

Twenty-five sophomores and freshmen have been working out. The schedule:

Sept. 17—Allegany, home. Sept. 24—Ridgeley, home. Oct. 1—Keyser, away. Oct. 8 — Fort Hill, home. Oct. 15—LaSalle, home. Oct. 22—Allegany, away. Oct. 29 — Keyser, home. Nov. 9 — LaSalle, home.

Milwaukee Signs Wheeling Youth

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves Monday night announced the signing of 17-year-old outfielder Leonard Pavlik of Wheeling, W. Va., to a 1960 contract with their Eau Claire, Wis., farm club.

Pavlik bats and throws right and will report to the Milwaukee minor league training camp at Waycross, Ga., next month. He was signed to the Class C Northern League club by scout Bill Maughn.

Playoffs In Rec Softball League Start Tomorrow

Playoffs to determine the championship in the Men's Rec Softball League will get under way on Wednesday, it was announced last night by Gene Mason, director of the Cumberland Recreation Department, following a meeting with the managers of the four teams involved.

Opening semi-final games Wednesday are Post Playground at Old Germans (Stitcher Field) and Ridgeley Legion at Sports Shoppe (Naval Reserve Field).

Second games of the best-of-three series are billed for Friday, as follows: Old Germans at Post's (Post Field) and Sports Shoppe at Ridgeley Legion (Stitcher Field).

The third games, if necessary, will be staged next week.

All games will get under way at 6 p. m. Tri-State Association umpires will handle the contests.

Donahue Wins Al Via Trophy

Paces Maplehurst Field With Net 70

James Donahue earned a leg on the Al Via Trophy when he won the annual handicap tournament Sunday at the Maplehurst Country Club, Frostburg, with a net score of 77-7—70, pacing a field of ninety players.

Runner-up honors went to Al Comer with a net 85-14—71.

Walter Eyler and Jim McNeil won prizes for coming closest to the pin on holes Nos. 4 and 7, respectively.

The trophy will be retired by the first player winning it three times.

Budge Patty Loses

POERTSCHACH, Austria (AP)—Robert Darmon, French Davis Cup player, won the singles title of an international tennis tourney Monday by defeating Budge Patty of Los Angeles and Paris 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2. Rain halted play in the final set Sunday with Darmon ahead, 2 games to 1.

Diller Hanover Is Favorite In Trotting Race

34th Hambletonian Set For Wednesday

By DAVID C. BEEDER

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Heavily-favored Diller Hanover drew the advantage of a No. 2 starting position Monday in a field of 15 trotters entered in the 34th Hambletonian, richest harness race in history.

The classic this year carries a gross purse $125,283.98, said by officials here to be an all-time high for the sulky sport. The premier event for 3-year-old trotters will be held Wednesday over the fast clay track of the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds.

Betting is prohibited by Illinois law at a state fair track, but unofficial odds compiled by track observers make Diller Hanover a 2-1 choice followed by Tie Silk and Circo at 4-1.

Hickory Pride, considered a strong contender in pre-race estimates, was not entered after trainer Billy Haughton said he was unsound. Haughton will drive Circo from the No. 8 spot.

Tie Silk, drawing a second row No. 14 spot, has the fastest time of any entry in this Hambletonian. The Indianapolis colt scored a 2:00 2-5 photo finish victory over Diller Hanover last week in Sedalia, Mo.

Harness racing officials at the Du Quoin track said the gross purse surpasses the previous record — a $123,712.50 distribution for the Empire Pace in Yonkers, N.Y., this July 30.

Twigg, Hadidian Win In County Singles Tests

Jimmy Twigg advanced to the semi-final round in the men's singles division of the Allegany County Tennis Tournament by defeating Russell Fink yesterday in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, on the Garlitz courts.

Calvin Hadidian defeated Granville Cannon in another quarter-final match, 6-1, 6-1.

Post's To Practice

Sorrentino Wins With 25-1 Shot

Mystic 2nd Cops Belmont Feature

ELMONT, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP) — Mystic 2nd, next to the longest shot in the field of eight, charged from fifth place to win the 46th running of the $28,300 Fall Highweight Handicap as Belmont Park opened its fall meeting today.

C. Mahlon Kline's 5-year-old son of Relic-Tosca, ridden by Jockey Mike Sorrentino, scored by two lengths over Stella G. Steckler's Discard, who saved the place by three quarters of a length over Woolford Farm's Silver Ship, the heavily laden favorite, who carried 140 pounds.

Maine Chance Farm's Jet's Alibi, who cut out the hot early pace, faded to finish fourth, a head out of the money. The rest of the field was bunched a neck, head, neck and a half a length separating Commendation, Tick Tock, St. Amour 2nd and Besomer.

Mystic 2nd, toting 122 pounds, stepped the 6 furlongs in the moderate time of 1:11 in sloppy going to pick up the winner's share of $18,095 for Kline, Philadelphia, Pa., pharmaceutical house executive.

Given but a scant backing by the crowd of 19,370, Mystic 2nd paid $53.00, $15.90 and $7.80. Discard carrying 125 pounds, paid $7.20 and $3.70, and Silver Ship was $2.70 to show.

It was the second stakes score for Mystic 2nd, who won the Westchester at Jamaica this spring with Sorrentino again in the saddle.

Potomac Valley Conference Opens 23rd Season Saturday

Romney High Gridders Play At Berkeley

Beall, 11th Team, Will Make Debut; 30 Games Listed

The Potomac Valley Conference will launch its twenty-third season on Saturday when Coach Ed Hartman's Romney High School Pioneers do battle with Berkeley Springs High School on the latter's field.

This will be the first of thirty games on tap for the 1959 campaign in which eleven schools, instead of ten as last year, will participate.

Beall To Make Debut

Beall High School, of Frostburg, makes its debut in the football circuit and will play a total of four games with Keyser, Southern, Romney and Moorefield.

A school is required to play a minimum of four games to compete for the championship.

Two games are scheduled next week while on Friday, Sept. 18, ten of the eleven schools in the circuit will see action.

The league has nine West Virginia schools and Beall and Southern (Oakland) of Maryland in the grid race this season.

Three New Coaches

Gerard Calhoun, one time Moorefield High School player, and former Berkeley Springs coach, is now at the Beall High School helm. The other new coaches in the league are Wayne Barr, who succeeds William "Honey" Crites and Earl Adolphson, who replaces Dick Travis at Southern High in Garrett County.

Holdover coaches are Frederick "Tack" Clark, who has led Keyser to more titles than any other school in the loop; Allan Goldstrom, Berkeley Springs; Guy Propst, Circleville; Curtis "Gus" Smith, Franklin; George Hott, Moorefield; Thomas O'Connor, Ridgeley; Ed Hartman, Romney, and Donald Bullock, of the West Virginia School for the Deaf of Romnty.

Keyser Won 11 Times

During the 22-year history of the grid circuit, Keyser High School has won the championship outright nine times and tied for the crown on two occasions. Nine of the Keyser High teams coached by Clark have finished on top. He also had one winner at Moorefield. The other Keyser winners were coached by Homer Fizer, now at University High School, Morgantown.

Keyser enters the 1959 race with a record of 25 consecutive victories, having swept through all opposition for the past five years. Last year Keyser and West Virginia School for the Deaf shared the title with 5-0 and 4-0 records, respectively.

The P.V.C. schedule:

Sept. 5—Romney at Berkeley Springs.

Sept. 11—Moorefield at Southern, Circleville at Ridgeley.

Sept. 18—Beall at Keyser, Ridgeley at Berkeley Springs, Franklin at Romney, Moorefield at Petersburg, Southern at West Virginia Deaf.

Sept. 25—Beall at Southern, West Virginia Deaf at Franklin, Keyser at Ridgeley, Romney at Moorefield.

Oct. 1—Petersburg at Franklin.

Oct. 2—Moorefield at Ridgeley, Circleville at West Virginia Deaf.

Oct. 9—Romney at Beall, Franklin at Moorefield, Ridgeley at Petersburg.

Oct. 16—Moorefield at Keyser, Circleville at Petersburg, Ridgeley at Romney.

Oct. 23—Petersburg at Romney, Moorefield at Berkeley Springs, Southern at Keyser, West Virginia Deaf at Ridgeley.

Oct. 30—Franklin at Circleville, Keyser at Petersburg.

Nov. 6—Petersburg at Southern.

Nov. 7—Keyser at Romney.

Nov. 14—Beall at Moorefield.

Steelers Land Hall In Trade

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers acquired offensive halfback Ken Hall from the Baltimore Colts Monday in exchange for an undisclosed draft choice.

Hall, who played college ball for Texas A. & M., was the Colts' No. 14 draft choice for the 1958 National Football League season, but was sidelined last year with a back injury.

Game Rained Out

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The scheduled night game between the New York Yankees and the Baltimore Orioles was postponed due to rain and wet grounds Monday night.

40,000 Expected To See Chisox Battle Detroit

CHICAGO (AP)—The White Sox aren't in yet, but don't try to tell that to Chicagoans.

They wouldn't have time to listen anyway.

Many of them are bombarding Comiskey Park ticket offices for ducats for the remaining Sox home games and, of course, World Series tickets.

The Sox management isn't selling any of the latter yet.

Crowds of about 40,000 fans are expected each of their next two nights as the Sox entertain Detroit and try to improve upon their American League lead of 5½ games over the Cleveland Indians.

Bedford Road Plays Rotary Club Today

Rain last night stopped the opening game of the Hot Stove League's final playoff series at Penn Avenue Field with the Bedford Road Optimist Club leading the Rotary Club 2-0 in the second inning.

The game is rescheduled for today at 8 p. m., on the same field.

Pete Runnels' Homer In 10th Sinks Senators

Boston Wins 4-3 On Circuit Blow

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox won a 10-inning "goofy derby" Monday night when spray-hitting Pete Runnels hit a long bases-empty home run into the right field bleachers to down the Washington Senators, 4-3.

The sock was Runnels' sixth of the season and traveled some 400 feet, coming off reliefer Chuck Stobbs with two down. It gave Mike Fornieles, who pitched one inning, his fourth victory. It was Stobbs' seventh defeat against a single win.

The Senators lost what would have been the tying run in the seventh when Jackie Jensen's throw from right field doubled up Billy Consolo trying to go to second base after Clint Courtney flied out. Lennie Green had already scored from third, but the run was cancelled on the double play—the second Jensen turned in after hitting his 26th homer in the fourth inning.

Courtney was thrown out of the game in the next inning for tossing his batting helmet into the stands after being called out on strikes. Harmon Killebrew being doubled up trying to steal third.

The Senators, who out-hit Boston 12-10, still managed to tie it in the eighth, Roy Sievers singling home Jim Lemon. Lemon had reached base when Gene Stephens let his drive to the left field wall drop beside him, apparently losing it in the lights.

In addition, the three-hour game provided such diversions as: rookie Zoilo Versalles going from first to third on a wild pitch, the Senators using 20 players to Boston's 11, and Bill Monbouquette working the first nine innings though tagged for 12 hits.

Ridgeley American Legion clinched second place in the American Division and earned a playoff berth by beating Whitacre's Grocery in the final game of the Men's Rec Softball League season yesterday at Post Field by the score of 8-3.

Red Shield defeated the Knights of Columbus at Stitcher Field by the score of 5-0 in the other league game played yesterday.

If Ridgeley had lost and the Knights of Columbus had won yesterday these teams would have finished the regular schedule tied at 20-6 but the Legion by winning wound up with 21-5, tying the Old Germans for first place while the Caseys finished with 19 wins and seven losses.

Bill Kenney notched his 19th victory of the season by hurling the Legion to victory over Whitacre's.

The winners collected eight hits, including a three-run triple by Bill Kegg, and two hits each by Ed Barley and Jim Weakley. Moore and Keiser shared four of the losing team's six hits.

Ellis "Turtle" Slonaker tossed a one-hitter at the Caseys as Red Shield closed the season with an 11-12 record. The win was the eighth for Slonaker, who struck out eight. Jerry Loibel, the loser, ended the season with a 12-5 mark.

The Knight's only hit was a single by Christ in the fifth inning.

AT POST FIELD:

RIDGELEY LEGION	100	400	3—8	8	7
WHITACRE'S	010	000	2—3	6	8

B. Kenney and Weakley. Yoder and Hadra.

Cubs Recall 13

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs Monday recalled 13 players from minor league teams, mainly from Fort Worth of the American Assn. The Cubs also purchased pitcher Ben Johnson, 28, from Fort Worth of the American Assn. and the 16-game winner will report immediately.

Pennant Fever Is Burning Hot In Pittsburgh

Buccos Have Copped 15 Of 18 At Home

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Once again pennant fever is burning hot in Pittsburgh — this time from the general manager of the Pirates right on down to the fans.

And no wonder! The Pirates are fresh off from their most successful home stand of the season—one in which they recorded 15 wins and only 3 losses. The Pirates are in fourth place, just four games behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

"Anything can happen in this game. The Pirates are a battling team, and a battling team can never be counted out of the pennant race," said General Manager Joe L. Brown. "We have a darn good chance for the National League pennant."

Danny Murtaugh, Pirate manager, although keeping his mind pretty much on each game as it comes, said his club's slogan of "keep driving, might just lead the Bucs into a pennant this year."

Rockne Memorial Will Be Erected

Lon Jourdet Takes Life

Former Penn Coach Leaps To His Death

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Lon Walter Jourdet, 70, former head basketball coach at the University of Pennsylvania, Monday leaped to his death from a third story window at the Samuel G. Dixon Tuberculosis Hospital at South Mountain.

Jourdet admitted only 16 days ago, died of a broken neck. Franklin County Coroner J.D. Goshen issued a certificate of death by suicide. A state police report said Jourdet had a heart ailment induced by tuberculosis.

Sidney Street, 42, Boat Racer, Killed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Champion racing driver Sidney Street, 42, of Kansas City, Mo., was killed here Sunday when a boat he was driving at about 125 miles per hour during a race hit a wave and bucked him out.

Street, who once set a world record with his boat, "Z-Z-Zip," of 146 miles per hour for a mile straightaway, was driving "Hornet Two," owned by Marion Cooper of Louisville in Sunday's regatta on the Ohio River.

The accident occurred on the first turn of one of the events. Street was pulled from the water by the U. S. Coast Guard and rushed to a hospital, but he was dead on arrival.

In an earlier race George Byers, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio, was injured when the side of his boat splintered. The remainder of the regatta was canceled after Street's accident, but officials say they planned to hold it again next year.

Braves Recall Bob Taylor

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The Milwaukee Braves have received special permission from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick to recall outfielder Bob (Hawk) Taylor from Atlanta as a replacement for injured Wes Covington, the club announced Monday night.

The special permission allows the Braves to take Taylor from Atlanta before the completion of the AA Southern Association season, which is not ordinarily permissible under league rules.

A party is only as gay as its hostess! Here's a Powers Girl plan for a dinner-party success.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Party Success Made Easy

As a new bride in the ranks of the Powers Girls posed the problem to one of her colleagues, "You always look as if you haven't turned a hand when guests arrive for one of your dinner parties! I always look and feel so rushed that I never have any fun and suspect my guests don't either! How do you do it?"

"It's easy," replied the Powers Girl who is famed for her gracious parties as well as her pulchritude. "Planning so you have nothing to do when the party day arrives but be hostess is the answer!"

"Easy, you say! But where do I find a plan like that?"

"Here is mine—and you are welcome to it: About a week ahead, I make a careful schedule of work to be done each day before the dinner. The heavy work, silver and polishing come first. Next on my schedule is time to shampoo and set my hair, and check over everything I'm going to wear to the party . . . right down to the last detail.

"After me, comes the menu. That is the easy part because I'm always collecting easy-to-do dishes from newspapers and magazines. I usually plan some things I can prepare the day before and store in the refrigerator until a few minutes before the guests arrive. Armed with my menu I get all the shopping done a good two days in advance."

"The evening before the party, I arrange the table, flowers, cigarets and ash trays; all the little details. I cover the dining table arrangement with a large, clean cloth to keep out dust, and put the flowers in a cool place to keep fresh.

"So what do I have to do on the party day? Nothing except get to work early so I'm on time for all my appointments and home as early as possible. Then, all I need is a few minutes to whisk the duster around, put the flowers in place and finish the dinner preparations. I usually have a whole hour to myself before the doorbell rings.

"And that's the hour that is the secret of having fun at your own parties! In it I do my nails, have a leisurely bath, a short nap and an expert make-up. Sometimes I even get caught up on some reading or mail. By the time the first guests arrive, I feel as though I'm going to a party instead of giving one!"

"Sounds wonderful," said the admiring bride. "I'm certainly going to try it!"

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — A chatty and newsy letter from Kay and Clark Gable who are settled in their Rome villa with the children after a motor tour of Austria. Kay reports:

"Clark and Sophia Loren are working in the lower slum area of Rome with mucho spectators who are so crazy about pa (Gable) and Sophia they wave madly into the cameras while pa and Sophia are doing love scenes for 'Bay of Naples.' Oh well, it's all in the day's shooting and reshooting. We love it here. The villa is beautiful and restful and at this moment we are having a most refreshing electric storm.

"The houseman's name is Dino and each time I ring for him he brings a bottle of vino! Thought it would amuse you to hear what Bunkie (her small son) wrote in a guest book at the airport. He had been asked what he liked best about Italy and wrote 'I like pizza — but they don't have any.' P.S.: He is used to the kind we get in the drive-in on Ventura Blvd!"

Clark sent love and kisses for a belated birthday greeting to me. It's easy to remember because Kay and I are Leos, her natal day following mine by one day.

Before Hope Lange took off for Europe with Don Murray on what they call their second honeymoon, Hope was called to Jerry Wald's office and told that she will be Gregory Peck's co-star in "The Billionaire." Few people recall that the pretty, blonde Hope started out as a dancer on Jackie Gleason's TV show, and a dancer is what she will play in the movie with Greg.

The Murrays left their two youngsters with Don's family while they take their trip abroad. Their close friends feel that Hope and Don want to be completely alone and perhaps work out some marital problems. Gossip was pretty strong a month ago about their marriage but Don has heatedly denied any trouble.

Dorothy Malone and Jacques Bergerac neither confirm nor deny that they are on the stork's list. But Dorothy made no protest when producer Andrew Stone told her she had some heavy swimming scenes in cold water yet to film for "The Last Voyage." I doubt if she would consent to this strenuous work if she is expecting.

Since their return from their wedding in Hong Kong, Dorothy and Jacques have been touring in "Once More With Feeling." The show has gone over so well and the Bergeracs are enjoying it so much they will extend the run another month.

Put this down in your little black book and remember I was the first to tell you. James Shigeta, who was seen on the screen for the first time in "Crimson Kimono," is our next big rave. He's paved the way for himself in "Holiday In Japan" currently in Las Vegas, and he's so excellent in Samuel Fuller's Columbia Picture that he had both the teenagers and adults applauding him.

"The Crimson Kimono" which was made for very little is an intriguing combination of love story and murder, with melodrama taking over in a big way. Victoria Shaw, whose promising career was cut short by marriage and two babies, is a worthy co-star for the very handsome Shigeta, and newcomer Glenn Corbett's performance deserves praise.

Robert Young and Collier Young (no relation) took time out last night to take their two young daughters shopping in Beverly Hills to buy school wardrobes for the children.

Collier's 12-year-old Martita, and Bob's daughter Cathy will be in the 8th grade together at Bishop school in La Jolla where Bob is on the board of trustees. Collier says his reason for sending Martita to Bishop is a plug for Bob's judgment and for his TV show "Father Knows Best."

At Margaret O'Brien's wedding reception a few weeks ago at the Kowloon I was introduced to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, two very interesting people. Marion Miller, who worked as undercover agent for the FBI, will have her experiences and adventures written into a TV series this fall. She was decorated by President Eisenhower and J. Edgar Hoover for the great job she did against the Communists.

The Miller's two children, Paul, 10, and Betsy Lou, 8, have just been signed for the series. Coleen Gray plays Marion Miller, and this should make a very interesting series, as it is all factual.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND
$300,000.00 CUMBERLAND THRUWAY BONDS OF 1959

Sealed bids will be received by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, at the City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, until 10:00 o'clock A. M., E.D.S.T., on Tuesday, September 15, 1959, for the purchase of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000.00) Cumberland Thruway Bonds of 1959, issued pursuant to the authority of Ordinance No. 2105 of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, passed on the 15th day of June, 1959, in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) each, numbered consecutively from One (1) to Three Hundred (300), both numbers inclusive, and maturing within a period of sixteen (16) years, in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth. The authority of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to pass said Ordinance No. 2105 was given said Mayor and City Council of Cumberland by subsection (e) of Section 81 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, as amended by Charter Amendment Resolution No. 4 of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, adopted pursuant to the authority contained in Article 11-E of the Constitution of Maryland and Chapter 423 of the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland of 1955.

Said Bonds are dated September 1, 1959, and interest will be payable thereon March 1st and September 1st, in accordance with semi-annual interest coupons attached thereto. Both the principal and interest of said bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the time of payment at the office of the Treasurer of the City of Cumberland, City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, upon presentation and surrender of the maturing bonds or coupons, as the case may be. The Bonds will not be subject to registration as to either principal or interest nor will they be subject to prior redemption.

Said Bonds will mature and be payable as follows:

BONDS NOS.	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT	DATE OF MATURITY
1— 20	$20,000.00	September 1, 1970
21— 60	40,000.00	September 1, 1971
61—110	50,000.00	September 1, 1972
111—170	60,000.00	September 1, 1973
171—230	60,000.00	September 1, 1974
231—300	70,000.00	September 1, 1975

Bidders are requested to specify in their bids the rate or rates of interest to be paid on the bonds on which rate or rates their bids are based and submitted. No rate so named shall exceed the annual rate of four and one-half percentum (4½%) per annum and each rate shall be in multiples of one-eighth of one percentum (⅛ of 1%). Bidders may not specify more than one rate of interest to be borne by any single series of said bonds but may name a different rate of interest for each maturity. Bidders may not bid less than par value and accrued interest to date of delivery, and no conditional bid shall be entertained. A bid conditioned upon approval of the bidder or of his council, named or unnamed, shall be deemed a conditional bid. Each of said bids shall state the amount of money per One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) which the bidder will pay for said bonds.

The Bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid provides the lowest interest cost to the City, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of the premium bid, if any, from the aggregate amount of interes upon all of the bonds until their respective maturities. If two or more responsible bidders have made bids, each of which represents the lowest interest cost to the City, then such bonds may be awarded in a ratable portion among such bidders or the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland may, in its discretion, determine to which of said bidders said bonds will be awarded.

The right is reserved to the City to reject any or all bids.

Bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, and so marked on the outside as to indicate that it is a bid for the bonds hereby offered. Each bid must be accompanied by a Certified, Treasurer's or Cashier's Check on a responsible banking institution, in the amount of Seventy Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500.00), payable to the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, to secure the City against any loss which might result from the failure of the particular bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the deposit. Checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them when the bonds are awarded to the successful bidder. The deposit of the successful bidder will be credited on account of the total amount payable for said bonds.

Accrued interest shall be adjusted to the date of delivery of the bonds and the payment therefor. The bonds will be delivered to the purchasers at either Cumberland, Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, or New York, N. Y., without charge. Delivery elsewhere, however, will be made at the expense of the purchasers.

The bonds will be the unconditional obligation of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, issued upon its full faith and credit which will be irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on all of said bonds as the same fall due. The net proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds will be used for the purpose of fulfilling the obligations of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, in connection with the project commonly referred to as the "Cumberland Thruway", as set forth in a certain contract by and between the State Roads Commission of Maryland and the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, dated August 30, 1955, and any other contracts which may be executed in the future covering such projects or improving, constructing or relocating any municipal facilities which may be necessary in connection with said project, and for no other purpose or purposes.

Under existing laws, these bonds and the interest payable thereon, are exempt from all State, County and Municipal taxes in the State of Maryland, and the interest payable thereon is not taxable as income by the United States.

The legality of the issue will be approved by William R. Carscaden, Esq., City Solicitor of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, and Messrs. Clark, Smith and Prendergast of Baltimore, Maryland, and the approving opinions of these gentlemen will be delivered upon request to the purchaser of the bonds without additional charge.

At the time of the delivery the bonds will be accompanied by a description of supporting documents, together with the usual closing documents, including a certificate of the City to the effect that no litigation is pending or threatened, as of the date of such delivery, affecting or impairing the validity of said bonds.

Prospective bidders desiring financial data concerning the City of Cumberland may obtain the same upon request in writing to the undersigned.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND
Lucile Roeder,
Commissioner of Finance and Revenue

Steels, Autos Post Gains In Generally Dull Market

NEW YORK (UPI) — Strength in steel and auto shares highlighted a generally routine stock market session Monday.

Favorable investment advisitory comment on the steels and autos, along with speculation that a steel strike settlement may be in the offing, sparked demand for those stocks.

Ford, in particular, stood out with a gain of 3¾ points to a new top of 85¼ on the day's second most active trading. It was cited as a stock for action by a leading advisory service.

Studebaker, when issued, rose ¼ to 10¼ on the day's heaviest volume. The old Studebaker common rose ⅜ to 12¾, following Ford in the actives. American Motors rose a point, also in good volume, Chrysler 1c to 69c, General Motors ⅜ to 57⅝.

The steels scored improvement ranging to 4⅜ points in Youngstown, 2⅝ U.S. Steel, 2 each in Lukens and Continental, 1½ in Republic.

Of a total 1,152 issues traded, 478 were higher, 444 lower.

Trading picked up slightly on the late strength to total 2,140,000 shares, compared with 1,930,000 Friday.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains were active and mixed Monday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to up ¾; corn off ⅜ to up 1; oats off ⅛; new oats off ¼ to up ⅜; rye unchanged to off 1 and soybeans off ⅛ to up ¼.

Nearby wheat futures were firm and the deferred contracts steady. There was only moderate liquidation of September by longs. Cash wheat was generally firm on small country movement. Some mill buying was reported, but the export trade continued quiet.

In corn, December dipped to a new low as cash houses lifted September hedges. Crop news was optimistic. Earlier, September led corn into a decline on moderate liquidation. September closed up 1 cent.

Export subsidies were granted on 930,000 bushels of corn. Other bids were rejected.

Oats were mixed. Cash houses bought September and sold March and May. Commission houses bought deferred contracts.

Rye weakened on liquidation. The Winnipeg Market was also weak, and the Canadian government crop report was about as expected.

Soybeans were quiet and closed steady. Export houses were buyers, and local traders did most of the selling. Meals were weak. The range:

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	6 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♣.

Even the tritest of deceptive plays will occasionally prove effective if tried early enough in the hand. Observe how South did it in today's small slam contract in hearts.

South won the opening club lead in his own hand with the ace and observed that the fate of the contract rested with a two-two trump break, which appeared to be slightly against the odds. He surveyed the situation with an eye to finding some means of increasing his chances, but there was no natural way.

Relying on the gullibility of an opponent, he chose to engineer a bit of sneak thievery. If either opponent held both a trump trick and the ace of diamonds the case was hopeless, but there was a slight chance if West held the ace of diamonds and East the trump trick. So he promptly led the six of diamonds. West declined to come up with the ace, for it did not appear to him that there was any real danger of declarer being able to obtain a discard upon anything in dummy.

When the queen held the trick, declarer played a heart to his king, cashed the two high spades in his hand and then crossed to dummy with the ace of hearts and discarded the king of diamonds on the king of spades.

Declarer's line of play involved very little risk. The danger of a ruff did not in any way measure up to the danger that hearts would break three-one. It would have been somewhat indelicate for declarer first to cash the ace and king of hearts, for this might have made it apparent to West that his partner held a trump trick so that ducking with the ace of diamonds would have been out of the question.

Water Rates Here Outside PSC Control

City Will Meet With Area Users

The Maryland Public Service Commission said yesterday it has no jurisdiction over the Cumberland Water Department.

The ruling was reported to the Associated Press in Baltimore by the commission, which advised it had received several letters from residents just outside Cumberland protesting a recent water rate ordinance.

In general, the PSC has jurisdiction over common carriers and all gas, electric, telephone, telegraph, water, heating and refrigerating companies operating within the state. It also has jurisdiction over privately-owned sewage disposal companies.

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light, when informed of the ruling, confirmed that the commission has no jurisdiction over municipalities.

The new rates for water and for services provided by the Water Department go into effect today.

Last Friday, Leslie J. Clark, attorney for the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, ruled that the county has no legal authority in the action of the City of Cumberland to raise water rates for consumers outside the city.

He had been asked to rule on the matter by John J. Rowan, president of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, who said some action on the increases should be taken by the board, adding that perhaps a hearing could be asked before the Public Service Commission.

Receive Protest

The Mayor and Council received a formal protest to the new rate schedule yesterday in a letter from the Bedford Road Optimist Club.

Francis A. Warnick, president, said the members and officers of the club and property owners of the Bedford Road area and Baltimore Pike had gone on record as opposing the proposed new water rates.

He said the people of that area feel that a hearing with the Public Service Commission should be arranged to discuss the proposed increase.

Meetings Slated

The meetings, planned in City Hall at 7:30 p. m., will be held tonight for the Valley Road Water Company, Wednesday with the Ridgeley Water Company, Thursday with the Wiley Ford Water Company and Friday with the Cresaptown Water Company.

Commissioner Light met with LaVale Water Company officials Saturday afternoon, when details of the plan were discussed.

Commissioner Light indicated that if inequities are discovered during the conferences, he will recommend that correction be made.

VA Reports Educational Policy Change

The law relating to educational benefits for Korean veterans has recently been amended in a way that may benefit many Maryland veterans, according to Samuel Weston, representative in charge of the local Veterans Administration office.

Mr. Weston explains that Congress has clarified the meaning of the term, "change of program" as used in the basic law.

A veteran may now advance to higher educational programs without being charged with a "change in program" provided the first program is essential or generally required for entrance into the second.

As an example, Mr. Weston said, a veteran who applied for a program leading to a bachelor's degree may have previously taken a portion of a course to an entirely different objective. After receiving his bachelor's degree, the veteran applied for a course leading to a master's degree. The Veterans Administration denied the request because he had already had one change of program. Under the new law, however, Mr. Weston continued, this veteran may now reapply since the entrance into the course leading to his master's, need no longer be regarded as a "change of course."

Mr. Weston said any veteran who has been denied a change of program and believes his situation may be covered by this statement, should visit the VA office, Post Office Building and obtain full information.

It's No Longer A Gymnasium

This is what the old gymnasium at Allegany High School looks like today. Workmen of the John I. Vandegrift Company are converting the former gym for use as the new school library. The Allegany County Board of Education awarded the Vandegrift firm the $65,000 contract June 24. Work is expected to be complete between October 1 and 15. The new gymnasium, constructed just west of the old school, was completed last spring. The former gymnasium also will be utilized for a health suite and additional classroom facilities. The new school term will begin September 9.

Temperature Above Normal During August

Rainfall Here Also Over Average

If you thought it was warmer than usual last month you were right because temperatures ranged 3.1 degrees above normal in August.

The mean temperature for the month of August is 72.5 and the average reading here last month was 75.6, according to records kept by Robert G. Golden, official weather observer at Constitution Park.

Rainfall also was above normal here last month with a total of 4.52 inches recorded. The normal amount for the month is 3.48 inches.

Precipitation was measured by Mr. Golden on 11 days in August, while on three other days there appeared traces of rain.

The "above average" month of August still did not bring the total amount of rainfall for the year to its normal reading.

Only August and April of this year have had more than average rainfall. The normal total precipitation for the first eight months of the year here is 24.75 inches, but only 22.15 inches has been recorded here for the first two-thirds of the year.

June, which ic normally the wettest month of the year, only had 1.47 inches of rainfall. This was the fourth driest June on the records kept by Mr. Golden. Normal precipitation for June is 3.88 inches.

The month of September got off to a good start as far as rainfall is concerned. A hard downpour hit the city last night, dropping the temperature and bringing some relief to the warm and humid weather.

Mr. Golden noted that any rainfall after 7 a.m. on the last day of the month is recorded with the next month's total.

The weather forcast for today calls for considerable cloudiness, warm and humid weather. The high is expected to be about 84 degrees.

Some relief is expected to the long hot spell experienced here. The weather bureau predicts a cold front, now in the Great Lakes region, to move eastward and drop temperatures throughout this area.

Bartell Nabbed In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Nate Bartell, 42, Cincinnati, was taken into custody by police Monday on a warrant from Cumberland, Md. He will appear in police court Tuesday to answer a fugitive charge.

It was understood that Bartell is wanted in Cumberland for questioning in connection with an attempted burglary last Thursday. Bartell was quoted by Cincinnati officers as saying he knew nothing about any robbery or attempted robbery in Cumberland. He was arrested in a saloon.

Three men — Albert (Sammy) Wright, 42, and Charles Issacs, 32, both of Newport, Ky., and Andrew Joe Forkes, 51, Phoenix, Ariz. —were arrested in Cumberland last Thursday night. They were charged with conspiring to attempt to break into the store with intent to steal.

264 Marriage Licenses Issued

During August a total of 264 marriage licenses were issued at Allegany County Circuit Court.

Last year during the same month a total of 274 licenses were issued.

NANCY LEE WALKLEY

Will Attend Valparaiso U. In Indiana

Nancy Lee Walkley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walkley, 421 Chestnut Street, has been accepted for admission to Valparaiso (Ind.) University this month.

Miss Walkley, a graduate of Allegany High School, will enroll in the Collége of Arts and Sciences.

Approximately 950 new students are expected for the fall term, over 800 beginning freshmen. Anticipated enrollment may reach 2,450 students at the Lutheran university located 45 miles southeast of Chicago in northwestern Indiana.

3,397 State Drivers Lose Licenses

BALTIMORE (AP) — Although Maryland's new point system for drivers doesn't go into effect until January, the Department of Motor Vehicles is finding another weapon handy in cracking down on reckless drivers.

Michael A. Noppinger, deputy director of the DMV, said Monday the publication of the names of drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked has strengthened the enforcement program.

"When you know your next-door neighbor is aware you've lost your license, you'll think twice before driving illegally," he said.

Also, Noppinger reasoned, in smaller communities "where the police know everyone" it gives officers an edge in keeping track of illegal drivers.

Under the point system enacted by the Legislature, the DMV will be able to revoke licenses for 14 offenses starting in January. Also, a motorist can lose his license when the points charged against him for each minor ofefnse reach a prescribed level.

Noppinger disclosed that the department revoked the licenses of 3,397 Maryland drivers during the first six months of this year and suspended the driving privileges of 2,834 others. In addition, 12,753 drivers were reprimanded.

Penn State Alumnus Begins Training For Forestry Duties

Henry Hartman, 22, of New Hope, Pa., is getting training as an assistant district forester in Garrett County, William H. Johnson, district forester, said yesterday.

A graduate of Penn State University, Mr. Hartman is getting practical experience and is working with Clinton Irwin, of Grantsville, assistant district forester of Garrett County.

The trainee will get experience in preparing management plans, examining timber and marking it for cutting.

After about two months of training, Mr. Hartman will be transferred to another section of the state, said Mr. Johnson.

Boy, 3, Shot In Head With BB Pellet

Gun Confiscated By City Police

A three-year-old local boy was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday afternoon after a shot fired by a BB rifle lodged in his head.

City police identified the victim as Dwight Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Davis, rear of 821 Shade's Lane.

The lad was reported in good condition last night and police said they were told surgery is scheduled today to remove the BB shot.

Detective Thomas J. See, who investigated, said the shot was fired by Gerald G. Weimer, 16, of 1001 Shade's Lane.

Det. See said the Fort Hill High School student said he did not see anybody when he fired the shot from an alley about 3 p. m.

The gunshot victim was standing along a hedge on Shade's Lane with several other small boys.

The BB gun was confiscated by city police, who released the Weimer youth in custody of his parents.

The accident was the latest development of a continuing campaign waged by the Cumberland Police Department against the use of BB guns.

About 50 of the weapons were destroyed by the Police Department some time ago.

Det. See commented that he had "preached and preached" to the kids and that "it finally happened."

Cabin Open House Season Will End

The Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that tomorrow will be the last day it will keep Washington's Cabin open for visitors this season.

The shrine located in Riverside Park will be open Wednesday from 1 to 5 p. m., with Miss Marilyn Hevel, a member of the C of C office staff, as hostess.

The Chamber sponsored weekly opening of the city's top historical landmark early in June for the benefit of citizens and tourists. Weekly attendance has ranged from 20 to 70 persons.

REV. JERRY BRUBAKER

Evangelist To Speak Here

Evangelist Jerry Brubaker and the "King's Ambassadors," of Lancaster, Pa., will be the guest speaker and musicians at the fall rally of the Tri-State Youth for Christ.

The rally will be held Saturday at 7:45 p. m. at 115 North Mechanic Street.

Rev Brubaker began speaking at meetings of the Child Evangelism Fellowship when he was 12 years old. He graduated from Lancaster School of Bible in 1958 and won the first teen-age preaching contest sponsored by Youth for Christ International.

The "King's Ambassadors" will share the musical program with the YFC choir and will present vocal and instrumental music. Members of the quartet are James Weaver, Harold Buckwalter, Donald Stetter and Alva Buhler.

Dowell Named Assistant To Kelly Firm President

J. Carson Dowell has been appointed assistant to the president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, effective at once, according to an announcement by George B. Newman, president.

Mr. Dowell came to Kelly as assistant sales manager in August, 1954, from the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and has held this position until his present appointment. Prior to joining Kelly, he held various sales positions in Goodyear over a period of 19 years of service.

A graduate of Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo., Mr. Dowell was assistant to the treasurer and an instructor of accounting there for two years prior to joining Goodyear.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowell and their four children reside at 835 Braddock Road in Cumberland. They are active members of the Presbyterian Church, members of the Cumberland Country Club and take an active part in various community affairs.

Catch Basin Crew Will Be Set Up

Duties Assigned To 3-Man Unit

The City of Cumberland is setting up a three-man crew whose sole function will be to clean, maintain, repair and replace catch basins.

The catch basin crew is being set up by Franklin J. Blaney, sanitary engineer, at the request of Street Commissioner John J. Long.

The crew will be charged with complete responsibility for all of the city's some 1,300 catch basins and appurtenances.

It will be furnished with a truck and a catch basin cleaner, which will be used on a year-around basis.

The crew will work under the immediate supervision of James Shaw, sewer maintenance foreman, and the general supervision of Mr. Blaney.

City officials said they feel that by maintaining catch basins in a systematic manner it will be possible to eliminate many of the complaints which arise when water backs up in basements after heavy rains.

Another duty of the crew will be to repair existing storm water catch basins and to build new ones as lines are extended.

Keeping the catch basins clean, Mr. Blaney added, will also alleviate odors which occur when the basins are clogged with debris.

Another benefit will be the lessening of the load of debris which must be removed from the grit chamber at the city's sewage treatment plant.

Catch basins are built into all storm sewer lines to collect dirt, rocks and other debris and prevent it from entering and clogging the lines.

Basins must be cleaned after each heavy rain in some sections of the city.

Mr. Blaney said Commissioner Long feels that the crew will perform a valuable service.

4-H All Stars Attend Meeting

An Allegany County delegation attended the 4-H All Stars Interstate Conference which was held this past weekend at the National 4-H Center, Chevy Chase.

James B. Arnold, assistant county farm agent, and Miss Brunhilde Seidel, summer trainee in the office of county home demonstration office here, attended,

County All-Stars who attended include Miss Patty King, Louisiana Avenue, who was named an All Star this year, Ruth Perrin and Mrs. Nina Bender, of Flintstone, and Mrs. Dorothy Grimes of 568 Patterson Avenue.

CUF Workers Are Ahead On Golden Gifts

Report Meeting Slated Tomorrow

With Golden Gifts continuing to run 15 per cent ahead of last year, and with more than 15 per cent of their goals already in hand, Lewis J. Ort and William E. Crooks, co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts division of the County United Fund, last night were jubliant over the performance of their team captains and workers.

The Golden Gifts goal is $118,000. More than $18,000 has already been reported and it is obvious, the co-chairmen stated, that the Golden U. Club will be as successful as it has been during the past two CUF campaigns. A gift of $100 or more is necessary to qualify for membership.

Golden Gift cards are being signed this year with gift pens—a present from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company to each member of the Golden U. Club.

The records of the GG Division are a tribute to the generosity of those who have been a little more fortunate than some of their neighbors, Mr. Ort and Mr. Crooks said last night. Five of the members of the Golden U. Club have contributed $5,000 or more toward the support of 31 participating services in 31 communities of Allegany and Mineral counties during the past year, they pointed out.

Twenty-four contributed $1,000 or more. More than 60 topped the $500 mark. And 130 rang the bell with $250 and over.

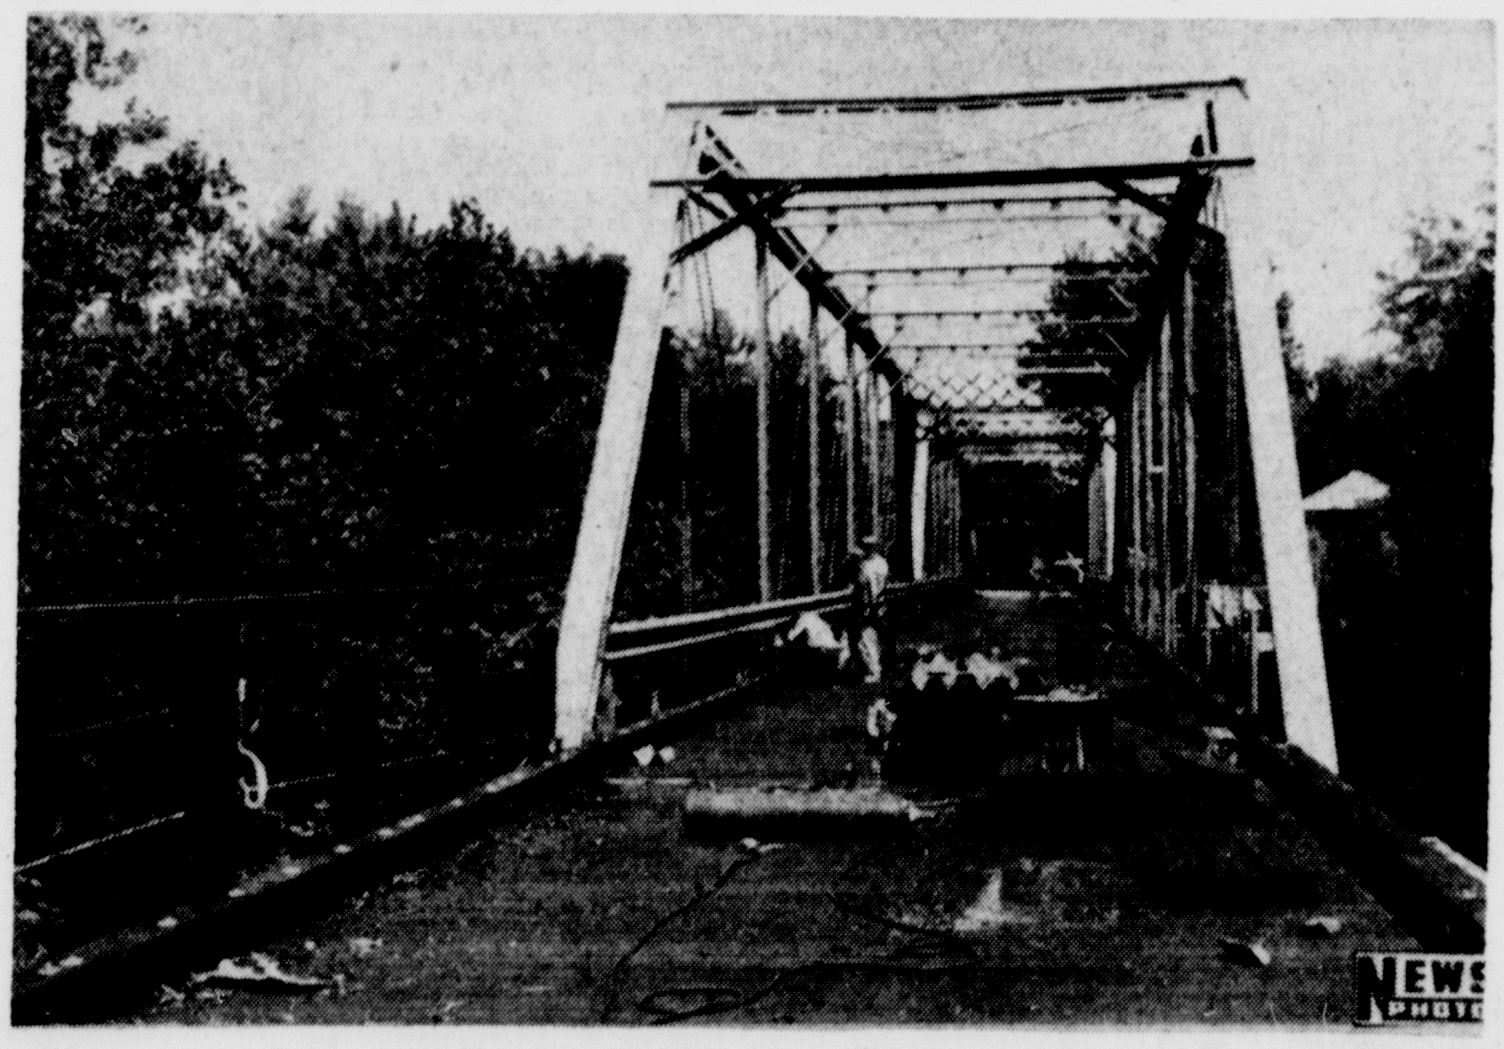
The first report meeting of the GG Division will be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 at the Cumberland Country Club. Shooting for early conclusion of their campaign, Mr. Ort and Mr. Crooks urged all captains and workers to complete their assignments as soon as possible.

Brothers Jailed On Motor Counts

Two local brothers were committed to Allegany County Jail yesterday in default of fines imposed on motor vehicle violations.

Magistrate Peter J. Carpenti fined Robert E. Wilson, 20, of 142 Polk Street, $100 for the unlawful use of a motor vehicle and $10 for operating a vehicle without a license. He was committed to jail for 30 days.

His brother, Daniel S. Wilson, 21, was fined $50 by Magistrate Carpenti for assisting in the unlawful taking of an auto. He also was committed to jail for 30 days.



Bridge Work Nears Completion

Crews of the Whiting-Turner Company are placing the steel railings on the Wiley Ford Bridge across the Potomac River and are expected to wrap up the repair project this week. Work, which included a new timber floor and new railings, began on August 3 and was scheduled to be completed in 35 days. This view, taken from the West Virginia side of the span, shows the deck in place and a considerable amount of railing up. Cost of the project is $24,925.

Motorist Given Jail Term For Manslaughter

John W. Haines Is Fined $100

John Wilbur Haines, 43, of Shanks, W. Va., was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $100 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter by motor vehicle in the death of Riley Jennings Hannas, 63, also of Shanks, who was fatally injured in a one-car crash July 27 in Romney, W. Va.

He was tried before A. L. Russell, justice of the peace of Romney, who said the man's term in jail will begin on September 15, due to his physical condition.

Haines was admitted to Hampshire Memorial Hospital with injuries sustained in the crash. He was confined to the hospital for a period of time and released.

However his physician advised that the man begin his jail term later this month due to his physical condition.

The accident occurred when Haines crashed into a tree on Main Street in Romney. Both men were admitted to the hospital where Hannas died the following day.

State Police Sgt. R. R. Karickhoff, who investigated, said Haines apparently lost control of the car and rammed into a large tree in front of the home of Earl Edgell.

The tree, which measured more than two feet in diameter, was torn out by its roots, Sgt. Karickhoff said.

Maryland Coed Named Queen Of State Fair

TIMONIUM, Md (AP)—A petite University of Maryland coed was named queen of the Maryland State Fair Monday night and will begin her reign after a coronation next Sunday.

Miss Allie Lee Boice, 18, of Hall, Prince Georges County, was picked from among 23 farm girls representing each of Maryland's counties. The 5-foot-3 queen, with brown eyes and short-cut auburn hair, wore a blue and white cotton dress with a full skirt as she paraded before the panel of three judges.

A sophomore at the university this fall, majoring in elementary education, Miss Boice won a four-year scholarship and a silver cup. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boice, who raise tobacco and Hereford beef cattle on their 100-acre farm.

Fair officials said it was not a beauty contest. The girls were judged on general appearance, poise and personality and home, farm and community activities.

Chosen her attendants, in order of ranking with cash prizes, were: Lois Richardson, 18, Sudlersville, Queen Annes County, $100; Peggy Hflin, 17, Woodsboro, Frederick County, $75; Pat Agee, 16, Westminster, Carroll County, $50; and Ruth Ann Smith, 16, White Hall, Harford County, $35.
